Task Team on South-South Cooperation

General overview

SSC in the context of aid effectiveness

AAA art. 19b: "We acknowledge [...] in particular the role of middle-income countries as both providers and recipients of aid. We recognise the importance and particularities of South-South cooperation and acknowledge that we can learn from the experience of developing countries"

AAA art. 19a: "We encourage all development actors, including those engaged in South-South co-operation, to use the Paris Declaration principles as a point of reference in providing development co-operation"

AAA art. 19e: "[SSC] plays an important role in international development co-operation and is a valuable complement to North-South co-operation"

4 months: Some lessons learnt

Lessons from an eleven-weeks' journey...

- A sound framework requires conceptual clarity
- Learning, not marketing
- Messages need to be straightforward
- Regional platforms are key, while ensuring global process
- Reflecting partner countries' commitment to the AE agenda
- Vibrant interest on the subject
- Regional and interregional dialogue is a critical factor

Steps towards policy recommendations

- Synthesis report and policy recommendation for the HLE on South-South Cooperation and Capacity Development, Bogotá 2010
- Policy recommendation and Good Practice Document for the IV High Level Forum, Seoul 2011 and beyond
- Coordination with other platforms, in particular UN Development Cooperation Forum

Perspectives on the EU:

What is being done

- Extremely important role in Accra supporting partner country priorities in aid effectiveness agenda, but still rather silent in fostering SSC and triangular cooperation
- Some member states already advanced in triangular cooperation (in particular Germany and Spain), but coordinated support and common approach still missing
- Investing heavily in partnerships (especially regional and economic),
but a sound strategy for partnership with MIC still pending
- Support to coping with the crisis (communication 04/2009), but South-South exchange and mutual support still underexplored (particularly regarding reduced vulnerability and resilience in times of crisis)

How could the EU contribute

- Support TT-SSC work directly (cases, financial)
- Develop a joint approach to triangular cooperation within European Development Policies - as an outstanding opportunity for more horizontal partnerships with developing countries including emerging economies and MIC
- Use its outcomes (for example as input to the EU Backbone Strategy for the Reform of Technical Cooperation and the joint approach to triangular cooperation)
- Engage in HLE process with a view to the lead-up to Seoul
- Support financing mechanisms, such as the SSEE Trust Fund at the WBI (global) or UNDP/AsDB-led CDDE (regional in Asia)
