No. 587. MARGIN REQUIREMENTS ON SECURITIES CREDIT: 1945 TO 1960

[Prescribed in accordance with Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Regulations limit the amount of credit that may be extended on a security by prescribing a maximum loan value, which is a specified percentage of its market value at the time of the extension; the margin requirement is the difference between the market value (100 percent) and the maximum loan value. Data shown here are for regular accounts. For rates (for 1934 to 1945, see Statistical Abstract 1957, table 554. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1867, series X 378-380)]

<sup>1</sup> Straight average of market prices of all taxable marketable bonds due or callable in 15 years and over for data through 1950; thereafter, on the basis of an assumed 3 percent 20-year bond.

<sup>3</sup> Based on composite of data (including industrial, utility, and railroad) and are a conversion of yield indexes, based on yield to maturity of each bond and assuming a 4-percent coupon with 20 years to maturity. Prices are averages of weekly data for A1+ bonds (17 to 21 bonds represented).

<sup>4</sup> Medical insurance includes insurance against costs of (a) in-hospital, medical (nonsurgical), physicians' visits, (b) visits to doctor's office, and (c) patient's home. Since about 1948 most of the increase shown has been for insurance limited to in-hospital medical care.

<sup>5</sup> For 1947-1958 includes members of Blue Shield plans, Blue Cross plans that provide in-hospital medical benefits, and medical-society sponsored and all other independent plans.

<sup>6</sup> For 1940-1957, based on civilian population, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, as of July 1; beginning 1958, includes Alaska and Hawaii. Since 5 to 15 percent of the population with each type of insurance benefit has protection from more than one kind of plan or policy rates should not be added to determine the proportion of the population with a given type of insurance benefit. Rates shown are not corrected for this duplication, which varies by type of insurance and has increased with expansion of insurance.

Business Enterprise

Statistics in this section relate in general to the place and behavior of the business firm and business initiative in the American economy. The data include measures of and changes in the numbers of businesses; assets and liabilities of corporations; types of business income and expenditures; business sales and inventories; and consumer cooperatives.

The principal sources of these data are the Survey of Current Business and its National Income Supplement (1954) and U.S. Income and Output (1958), published by the Office of Business Economics, Department of Commerce; the Federal Reserve Bulletin issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; and monthly statements published by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. Other sources are publications of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Internal Revenue Service.

Firms in operation, entering, and leaving.—The number of firms in existence and the number of new, discontinued, and transferred businesses are estimated by the Office of Business Economics on the basis of data from the Internal Revenue Service and the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

A business firm is defined by the Office of Business Economics as a business organization under a single management and may include one or more plants or outlets; a firm doing business in more than one industry is classified by industry according to the major activity of the firm as a whole. A self-employed person is considered a firm only if he has either one or more employees or has an established place of business. This count of firms differs from that of the Bureau of the Census which ordinarily represents a count of establishments, e. g., manufacturing plants or retail stores, larger than a minimum specified size.

New businesses include firms which are newly established; discontinued businesses refer only to liquidations. Business transfers represent purchases of going businesses, acquisitions of businesses through inheritance, transfers of businesses to a trustee or executor, as well as changes in the form of business organization.

Industrial and commercial failures.—These data are collected by Dun & Bradstreet, and are available by years since 1857 and by months since 1900. The number of failures includes concerns involved in court proceedings or voluntary actions likely to end in loss to creditors; discontinuances with outside obligations paid in full are not included. Data cover manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, building contractors, and certain types of commercial service, but do not encompass all business enterprises. Specific types of business not listed are: Finance, insurance, and real estate companies; railroads and steamship lines; amusement enterprises. Failures data are published monthly in summary form in Dun's Review & Modern Industry.

Corporate assets and liabilities.—Data on corporate assets and liabilities are from the Internal Revenue Service and the Securities and Exchange Commission. In its annual report, Statistics of Income, Corporation Income Tax Returns, the Internal Revenue Service presents balance sheet and income account data for all United States corporations. In a quarterly release entitled Net Working Capital of U.S. Corporations, the Securities and Exchange Commission publishes data on the net working capital position of all United States corporations, exclusive of banks, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies, showing the principal components of current assets and liabilities.

Corporate income, profits, dividends, and taxes.—Several agencies (the Internal Revenue Service, the Office of Business Economics, and the Federal Reserve Board) compile corporate income account data. These data, however, are not comparable because of differing methods of compilation.

The Internal Revenue Service publishes corporate data based on income tax returns in the aforementioned Statistics of Income.

The corporate data issued by the Office of Business Economics are a part of its national income and product accounts and are defined as required for purposes of national income estimation. The primary sources of data for the Office of Business Economics estimates of profits, taxes, dividends, and undistributed profits are the original corporate tax returns submitted to the Internal Revenue Service. Various adjustments of the Statistics of Income data are required by the national income treatment, particularly with respect to depletion, capital gain or loss, and intercorporate dividends, and because the original corporate income statements do not represent the final stage of information.

Federal Reserve Board data relating to profits and dividends apply to particular industrial segments only, such as large manufacturing and public utility corporations.

Sources and uses of corporate funds.—These data indicate capital requirements of corporations and the manner in which they are financed. Sources of funds are equal to their uses. Certain discrepancies, however, apart from errors in estimation, interfere with this equality. These discrepancies are not particularly significant and are due to omission of such factors as (1) money accruing to corporations from an excess of sales over purchases of used plant and equipment, and (2) transactions in securities held as permanent investments except public offerings.

Business sales and inventories.—Business sales and inventories are defined as the sum of data for manufacturing, wholesale, and retail trade. Sales are estimated aggregate values and inventories are book values at the end of the year. Sales signifies sales or shipments for retail and wholesale trade and billings or shipments for manufacturing. Trade inventories are valued at cost of merchandise on hand, while manufacturers' inventories are valued at the cost price or market price, whichever is lower. The data on sales and inventories for manufacturers are based on annual data, published by the Internal Revenue Service in Statistics of Income, Corporation Income Tax Returns.

Net change in business inventories.—To ascertain net physical change in nonfarm inventories, book values of beginning and ending inventories of each year are expressed in terms of constant base year prices by means of selected Bureau of Labor Statistics wholesale price indexes appropriate to each industry. Net increment in deflated book value figures is then converted to a current price basis by index ratios of current prices to base year prices. No inventory valuation adjustment is shown for farm inventories because change in farm inventories is estimated (by the Department of Agriculture) from physical quantity data.

Plant and equipment expenditures.—A joint survey by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Department of Commerce presents quarterly data on actual plant and equipment expenditures, and on anticipated expenditures for the next two quarters. In addition, a survey is made at the beginning of each year of plans of business as regards capital expenditures during that year. The data are based on reports submitted by corporations registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, by transportation companies under Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction, and by a large sample of nonregistered companies, unincorporated as well as corporate, reporting to the Department of Commerce.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series V 4-19") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

(a) For sole proprietorships, includes other business income, but excludes capital gains or losses and investment income not associated with the taxpayer's business.

(b) For partnerships and corporations engaged in finance, insurance, and real estate, excludes a sizeable part of their income because reporting instructions prescribe separate entries for investment income.

(a) Sole proprietorships: Business receipts less total deductions, including cost of goods sold.

(b) Partnerships: Business receipts less total deductions, including cost of goods sold. For those partnerships engaged in finance, insurance, and real estate, net profit includes investment and other income.

(c) Corporation returns: Net income is taxable income less ordinary and necessary business deductions.

No. 625. EMPLOYERS REPORTING UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY ACT, EMPLOYMENT, AND TAXABLE WAGES, BY SIZE OF FIRM: FIRST QUARTER, 1945 TO 1956

[Employers and employment in thousands, wages in millions. Includes Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands. Data represent commercial and industrial employers in the scope of County Business Patterns (see table 624), but also include estimates for late returns excluded from that publication. Excludes self-employed and railroads. Data for 1945 through 1949 represent all employers reporting. Additional types of employers, first required to report for 1951 and later years, are excluded. An employer is a legal entity, such as a corporation, partnership, or single ownership, for which a single tax return is filed]

<sup>2</sup> Includes wholly and partially tax-exempt interest. Interest on Treasury notes issued on or after Dec. 1, 1940, and obligations issued on or after Mar. 1, 1941, by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, is wholly taxable and is included in "Other receipts" for 1941-1957.

<sup>3</sup> Excludes (a) Federal income and profits taxes, (b) estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes, (c) income and profits taxes paid to a foreign country or possession of the United States if any portion was claimed as a tax credit, (d) taxes assessed against certain local benefits, (e) Federal taxes on tax-free covenant bonds, and (f) unidentifiable amounts of taxes reported in "Cost of goods sold" and "Cost of operations," 1954-1957. For prior years, excludes all taxes reported in these costs.

No. 631. CORPORATE PROFITS BEFORE AND AFTER FEDERAL AND STATE INCOME AND EXCESS PROFITS TAXES, BY INDUSTRY: 1950 TO 1958

[In millions of dollars. Not adjusted to include Alaska and Hawaii. Data represent earnings of corporations organized for profit which accrue to residents of the Nation, measured before and after Federal and State profit taxes, without deduction of depletion charges and exclusive of capital gains and losses. Profits accruing to residents are measured by eliminating intercorporate dividends from profits of domestic corporations and by adding the net receipts of dividends and branch profits from abroad. In other major respects, the definition of profits is in accordance with Federal income tax regulations. The inclusion of depletion charges has an important effect on data for mining industries.]

No. 632. CORPORATE PROFITS, TAXES, AND DIVIDENDS: 1940 TO 1958

[In millions of dollars. Not adjusted to include Alaska and Hawaii. See headnote, table 631. Taxes refer to Federal and State corporate income and excess profits taxes. Carryback tax refunds have been deducted from tax liability in year in which tax liability was incurred. Dividends represent amount of cash dividends disbursed to residents of the Nation, and therefore are measured after elimination of intercorporate dividends. Undistributed profits comprise difference between corporate profits after taxes and net dividend payments]

No. 643. NET CHANGE IN BUSINESS INVENTORIES: 1929 TO 1959

[In millions of dollars. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Net change in business inventories measures change in physical inventories, valued at average prices current during year. Difference between change in business inventories as thus measured and change in book value of inventories constitutes inventory valuation adjustment.]

No. 648. INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL FAILURES—NUMBER AND LIABILITIES: 1921 TO 1959

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Excludes all railroad failures. Series revised beginning 1933 to exclude real estate and financial companies. These revisions bring "Failures" more nearly in accordance with type of concerns covered by "Total concerns in business," in which no changes were made. Beginning 1933, new series includes voluntary discontinuances with loss to creditors and small concerns forced out of business with insufficient assets to cover all claims, in addition to failures included in former series. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series V 1-3]

<sup>2</sup> Includes concerns discontinuing following assignment, voluntary or involuntary petition in bankruptcy, attachment, execution, foreclosure, etc.; voluntary withdrawals from business with known loss to creditors also enterprises involved in court action, such as receivership, and, since June 1934, reorganization or arrangement which may or may not lead to discontinuance; as well as businesses making voluntary compromise with creditors out of court.

<sup>3</sup> Liabilities exclude long-term publicly held obligations; offsetting assets are not taken into account.

<sup>4</sup> Monthly data represent annual rate that business concerns would fall if the number of concerns and failures listed in that month prevailed for the entire year. Adjustments have been made for seasonal fluctuations.

<sup>5</sup> See headnote regarding revisions. Figures in italics are comparable with preceding years.

Communications

This section presents statistics relating to the usage, finances, and operations of the various communications and related media. Included are data concerning postal service, telephone, telegraph, radio, television, newspapers, and books. The principal sources of wire and wireless data are the Federal Communications Commission's annual Statistics of Communications Common Carriers (prior to 1957 titled Statistics of the Communications Industry in the United States), and Annual Report. Data concerning the postal service are included in the Annual Report of the Postmaster General. Statistics as to revenues, volume of mail, and the distribution of expenditures by classes of mail and services are presented in the Post Office Department's annual Cost Ascertainment Report. Statistics on number and circulation of newspapers and periodicals and on sales of books and pamphlets are issued by the Bureau of the Census in reports of the Census of Manufactures. Annual data on number and circulation of daily and Sunday newspapers appear in Editor and Publisher's International Yearbook Number. Monthly data on new books and new editions of books are presented by R. R. Bowker Company in Publishers' Weekly.

Since the establishment of the Federal Communications Commission in 1934, statistical coverage of wire and wireless communications has been concentrated in that agency. According to the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, only carriers engaged in interstate, or foreign, communications service by means of their own facilities (or through the facilities of another carrier under direct or indirect common control) are subject to the full jurisdiction of the Commission. The Commission requires the filing of annual and monthly reports by these carriers except from the smallest carriers. The companies controlling any but the smallest of these carriers are also required to file annual reports.

Postal Service.—"Cost ascertainment" is the term applied in the Post Office Department to describe its plan or system, partly accounting and partly statistical, for developing through the medium of a sampling procedure, data on the revenues, expenses, volumes, and average hauls fairly attributable to each of the several classes of mail handled by the Postal Service (first, second, third, fourth, foreign, penalty, franked, free for the blind, and air mail) and similar revenue, expense, and volume data for each of its special services (special delivery, money order, insurance, collect-on-delivery, registry, certified, and postal savings).

Telephone and telegraph systems.—Practically all of the wire-telegraph, ocean-cable, and radiotelegraph carriers are subject to the full jurisdiction of the Federal Communications Commission. A large number of telephone carriers engaged in interstate or foreign service only by connection with the facilities of another unaffiliated carrier are not subject to the full jurisdiction of the Commission. However, it is estimated that the gross operating revenues of the telephone carriers reporting annually cover over 90 percent of the revenues of all telephone carriers in the United States.

The term "system" is used, in general, for aggregations of lines operated by the larger companies, with appropriate intercompany duplications excluded. The "Bell System" consists of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its Principal Telephone Subsidiaries.

Broadcasting.—The number of broadcast stations refers to the number licensed or holding construction permits. Total broadcast revenues are defined as total time sales of all networks and stations, less commissions to agencies and plus incidental revenues, such as sale of talent, program material, etc. Reports filed with the Federal Communications Commission by broadcast stations and networks cover substantially all units in the industry which operate in the United States and its outlying areas.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as “See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series R 139–141) provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

<sup>1</sup> After allowance for reimbursements, embossed envelope purchases, indemnity claims, and miscellaneous revenue and expenditure offsets (see footnote 2, table 656). Revenues, expenditures, and deficits through 1953 on cash-disbursement basis, i.e., they include payments and receipts in a year applicable to prior years; beginning 1954, on accrual basis, i.e., expenditures are shown in year in which obligation was incurred, and revenues in year which gave rise to the earnings, whether collected or accrued. During fiscal 1954, the Department began receiving reimbursement for penalty and franked mail, and discontinued payment of subsidies to airlines. These and other changes affect the comparability of the figures from year to year.

<sup>2</sup> Includes capital expenditures for plant and equipment and cost of materials and supplies, but no provision for depreciation is made. Also includes costs of certain services rendered to other agencies without reimbursement but excludes costs of certain services rendered to the Post Office Department by other agencies.

<sup>5</sup> Expenditures and deficit for fiscal 1957 have been increased by $26 million for retroactive increases in rail rates for eastern roads granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1958.

No. 666. TELEPHONE SYSTEMS—SUMMARY, CLASS A CARRIERS: 1930 TO 1958

[All money figures in millions. Includes Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Excludes intercompany duplications. Covers class A telephone carriers filing annual reports with FCC. Class A carriers are those whose annual operating revenues exceeded $100,000 for years prior to 1951, and $250,000 thereafter; comparability of data relatively unaffected by change in coverage. Gross operating revenues of class A carriers (excluding intercompany duplications of Bell System) reporting in 1937 represented approximately 94 percent of revenues of all telephone carriers as reported for Census of Electrical Industries for that year]

<sup>1</sup> 1954 and 1958 may not be strictly comparable since 1954 includes 4,621,000 hardbound books and $2,805,000 receipts.

<sup>3</sup> Since these books are frequently sold direct to consumers, some publishers reported receipts on a retail basis; hence, aggregate receipts for this type of book are a combination of wholesale and retail values but do represent total receipts at publishing plant level. Also, since books in this category are typically sold on an installment plan basis, the values reported here (actual receipts during the year) may not agree with publishers' sales for same reporting period. 1958 receipts not strictly comparable with prior years since deductions were made in 1958 for known payments for salesmen's compensation and operating expenses for sales offices and sales branches maintained to assist in door-to-door distribution. Copies sold represent number of volumes rather than sets. Also, for 1958, some dictionaries and other single volume books sold direct to the consumer were included in "All other books, n.e.c."

<sup>7</sup> For 1947, "Book club books" included in "All other books, n.e.c."; for 1954, included in "Adult trade books, hardbound."

No. 684. NEW BOOKS AND NEW EDITIONS PUBLISHED, BY SUBJECT: 1950, 1955, AND 1959

[Includes some books published in Alaska and Hawaii. Based on reports from approximately 800 publishers. To assure as complete a coverage as possible, reports are checked against book reviews and notices and against card index of the Library of Congress. New books are new titles; new editions are revisions of trade or textbooks, and cheaper editions of original trade books. Exclude pamphlets, theses, reports and reprint (containing no change whatsoever from original publication). Beginning 1959, data not comparable with prior years because of change in definition of a book. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series R 165-167]

Power and Scientific Development

This section presents statistics relating to the supply, production, and distribution of power and energy; expenditures for scientific research and development; patents and trademarks; atomic energy; and artificial satellites. The principal sources of these data are the Federal Power Commission, the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior, the National Science Foundation, and the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Federal Power Commission publishes various statistical reports which present data on the production of electric energy classified by type of prime mover and on the capacity of all generating plants classified by type of prime mover. These reports also include statistics on quantities of basic fuels used (coal, oil, natural gas, etc.) and on water as an actual and potential source of power. The Commission's data cover both generation for public use by electric utilities and for use by the producer where generated by nonutility establishments. Data on sales, revenues, and numbers of customers by classes of service, on rates and typical bills, and related matters are also issued at regular intervals by the Commission. Monthly statistics on production, fuels used in production, sales by classes of service, salaries and wages, taxes, and other costs of production appear in the Commission's series entitled Electric Power Statistics.

The Federal Power Commission has uniform systems of accounts for public utilities subject to its jurisdiction and for its licensees. The Commission compiles data from the following periodic reports: Annual reports of electric utilities containing information as to assets, liabilities, revenues, generating capacity, and number of consumers; power system reports of electric utility systems presenting generating capacity, transmission facilities, and loads and load characteristics; monthly and annual reports containing such information as production of electricity for public use, fuel consumed, and stocks of fuel on hand; and reports from electric utilities and industrial corporations with respect to their electric power requirements and supply.

The Bureau of Mines' annual Minerals Yearbook presents statistics on coal, oil, and natural gas production and utilization. Other important sources of data include the semiannual reports of the Atomic Energy Commission; the American Gas Association, which in its monthly bulletins and annual statistical issues (such as Gas Facts) presents data on natural gas utilization and the production of manufactured gas from coal, oil, and similar products; and the Statistical Bulletin of the Edison Electric Institute, issued monthly and annually, which presents data on the distribution of electric energy by public utilities.

The National Science Foundation publishes reports on each of its regular surveys of organizations in the Federal, industry, college and university, and other nonprofit sectors of the economy. Data on obligations and expenditures of the Federal Government for scientific research and development appear in the annual series, Federal Funds for Science. Summary and preliminary data on the various Foundation surveys are published in the pamphlet series, Reviews of Data on Research and Development.

No. 686. MINERAL FUELS AND WATER POWER—PRODUCTION, 1900 TO 1959, AND CONSUMPTION, 1920 TO 1959, BY SOURCE

[In trillions of British thermal units. Production data include Alaska. Unit heat values employed are: Anthracite, 12,700 B.t.u. per pound; bituminous coal and lignite, 13,100 B.t.u. per pound; petroleum, 5,800,000 B.t.u. per barrel; natural gas, total production multiplied by 1,075 B.t.u. minus repressuring vent and waste gas multiplied by 1,035. Water power includes installations owned by manufacturing plants and mines, as well as Government and privately owned public utilities. Fuel equivalent of water power calculated from kilowatt-hours of power produced wherever available, as is true of all public utility plants since 1919. Otherwise, fuel equivalent calculated from reported horsepower of installed water wheels, assuming capacity factor of 20 percent for factories and mines and of 40 percent for public utilities. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1867, series M 71-87]

No. 687. TOTAL HORSEPOWER OF ALL PRIME MOVERS: 1930 TO 1955

[In thousands. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except as noted. Prime movers are mechanical engines and turbines, and work animals, which originally convert fuels or force (as wind or falling water) into work and power. Electric motors, which are secondary movers and obtain their power from prime movers, are excluded to avoid duplication. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1867, series S 1-14]

<sup>6</sup> Through 1954, this item was headed "Consumers connected." The change was a result of a revised definition of a consumer as reported by REA borrowers, effective Jan. 1, 1955. It resulted in a downward adjustment in the national total of about 60,000 for 1955, chiefly through elimination of idle services.

<sup>1</sup> Data for 1958 and subsequent years not comparable to previous years because of revision of definition of development. Revised definition states "Development is the systematic use of scientific knowledge directed toward the production of useful materials, devices, systems or methods, including design and development of prototypes and processes. It excludes quality control or routine product testing." The definition previously used stated that "Development is the systematic use of scientific knowledge directed toward the production of useful materials, devices, systems, methods, or processes exclusive of design and production engineering."

No. 712. FUNDS FOR RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT: 1953-54 TO 1959-60

[For the Federal Government, colleges and universities, and other nonprofit institutions, data for all years include Alaska and Hawaii. For manufacturing and selected nonmanufacturing industries, which account for more than nine-tenths of the annual research and development performance in the industry sector, Alaska and Hawaii were covered beginning with 1958-59. Data are based on regular surveys by the National Science Foundation covering all sectors of the economy and cannot be related to the series appearing in table 706. Hyphenated time period indicates that data are for a variety of financial years beginning in the earlier year and ending during the later year. Data refer in general to the natural sciences; however, some funds for psychology and the social sciences could not be eliminated.]

No. 713. FUNDS FOR PERFORMANCE OF INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT, BY INDUSTRY: 1957 AND 1958

[In millions of dollars. 1958 includes Alaska and Hawaii. Includes Federal funds for industrial research and development amounting to 56 percent of the 1958 total, part of which is accounted for by Federal contract research centers administered by industrial firms. Such research centers, which are classified in the industry of the administering company, were not covered in previously published statistics on the research and development performance of individual industries (for example, table 701, Statistical Abstract, 1959). Covers all industrial research and development performance with the exception of that performed by certain industry-oriented organizations, such as trade associations, that account annually for less than 1 percent of the total]

No. 714. SCIENTISTS AND ENGINEERS IN PRIVATE INDUSTRY, BY INDUSTRY AND OCCUPATION: 1959

[For January. Includes Alaska, excludes Hawaii. Scientists and engineers were defined as all persons engaged in scientific and engineering work at a level which requires a knowledge of physical, natural, or mathematical sciences equivalent at least to that acquired through completion of a 4-year professional college course. Administrators of research and development and other activities are included with each occupation. Research and development was defined to include basic and applied research in the sciences (including medicine) and in engineering, and design and development of prototypes and processes]

Roads and Motor Vehicles

This section presents statistics relating to the mileage, control, and financing of public roads and to motor-vehicle travel and usage. The Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Commerce is the principal compiler of data concerning public roads and motor-vehicle registrations. Since 1945, it has published such data in its annual Highway Statistics. The same Bureau's Highway Statistics, Summary to 1955, presents public roads data carried back over periods ranging from 20 to 50 years. The motor-vehicle registration figures which appear in Highway Statistics are compiled from reports and records of State highway departments.

The first road mileage survey was made in 1904. Data for 1904 and other road mileage surveys made in 1909, 1914, and 1921 appear in Department of Agriculture Bulletin 1279, Rural Highway Mileage, Income, and Expenditures, 1921-22.

Useful annual handbooks in this field are Automobile Facts and Figures and Motor Truck Facts, both issued by the Automobile Manufacturers Association of Detroit, Mich.; and Accident Facts, issued by the National Safety Council of Chicago, Ill. In addition, the Bureau of the Census compiles and publishes statistics on the motor vehicles and equipment industry which appear in the Census of Manufactures reports and in its Annual Survey of Manufactures. Data from these reports are also included in section 30, Manufactures, in this volume.

Rural and urban roads.—The terms rural, urban, and municipal are used in different ways in different tables in this section; because of special problems and purposes, it is not possible to apply identical definitions and segregations to all types of data. Definitions are given in table headnotes where pertinent.

Highway systems.—The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1916 provides for the sharing of highway construction costs between the States and the Federal Government with the initiative retained by each State for choosing projects and carrying them out. The planning and development of Federal-aid systems began in 1921. Federal funds share with State funds in costs of engineering, construction, and right-of-way acquisition on the designated systems while other charges, such as maintenance and policing, are borne entirely by the States and local agencies.

The Federal-aid primary system connects all of the principal cities, county seats, ports, manufacturing areas, and other traffic generating areas. In general, these are at the same time the main State trunkline roads. Certain sections of the primary system are more important than others from the viewpoint of national interest. Consequently, in 1944, the Congress authorized the creation of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, not to exceed 40,000 miles in length. In 1956 Congress extended the system to 41,000 miles and authorized for the first time a long-range program to complete the system. Federal funds of $25 billion, providing 90 percent of the total estimated cost, are authorized for the fiscal years 1957 to 1969.

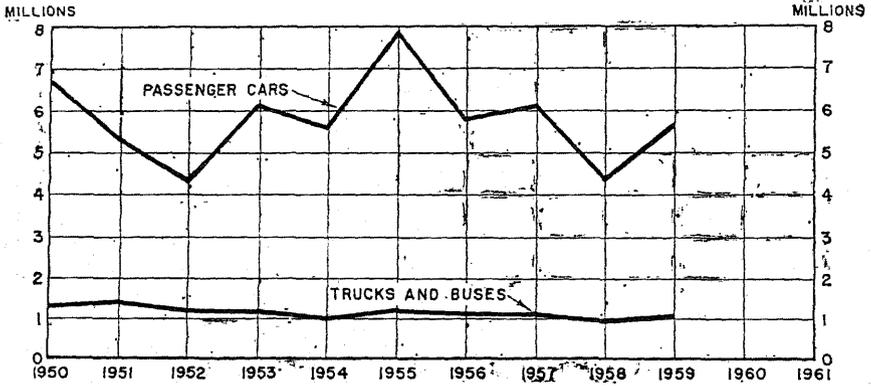

The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1944 authorized the first specific funds for Federal-aid highways in urban areas, and established the Federal-aid secondary system, consisting of important feeder roads linking the farms, factories, distribution outlets, and smaller communities with the primary system.

Transportation, Land and Air

This section presents statistics concerning the systems of mass transport of persons and goods by land and air. The modes of transport included are railroad, trucking, bus and streetcar, pipeline, and civil aviation. The principal sources of these data are Transport Statistics in the United States, Part 1, published annually by the Interstate Commerce Commission; the Transit Fact Book, relating to street railways and motor buses, published annually by the American Transit Association, and the Statistical Handbook of Aviation published by the Federal Aviation Agency. Various periodic reports such as the Monthly Report on Transportation Statistics and the quarterly and annual Statistics of Class I Motor Carriers (issued as Part 7 of Transport Statistics) are issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission. In addition, the Association of American Railroads supplements official railroad statistics with various releases, and the annual review and statistical number of Fleet Owner (Bus Transportation prior to January 1957), a McGraw-Hill publication, summarizes operations of common carrier and school buses. The Interstate Commerce Commission also issues annually Selected Financial and Operating Statistics from Annual Reports of Electric Railways (issued as Part 4 of Transport Statistics), an abstract of the annual reports of electric railway companies, chiefly interurban, which report to it. Figures relating to oil pipelines are compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission and appear in its annual report on Statistics of Oil Pipe-Line Companies (issued as Part 6 of Transport Statistics).

Railroads.—The total railroad mileage of the United States comprises: (1) Regular interstate carriers (and their nonoperating subsidiaries) reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission; (2) switching and terminal railroads, also reporting to the Commission; and (3) private railroads (identified by the Commission as "circular" because they report on brief circulars, or as "unofficial" when their reports are received too late for tabulation). Except for certain mileage data, the circular and unofficial companies are not included in any of the statistics. The switching and terminal roads were formerly included with operating railroads, but are now separated, and data for them do not appear in most of the tables.

Nonoperating subsidiaries comprise proprietary companies, which are covered by the reports of operating carriers, and lessor companies which have no traffic and whose reports appear only in statistics of capitalization, dividends, and investment.

Operating railroads are classified on the basis of operating revenues. Prior to 1956, the classification was as follows: Class I, those having more than $1,000,000 gross annual operating revenue; class II, from $100,000 to $1,000,000; and class III, less than $100,000. Since 1956, the following classification has been in effect: Class I, $3,000,000 or more; and class II, under $3,000,000. Class III has been eliminated.

Motor carriers.—Statistics of class I for-hire carriers are compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission from annual and quarterly reports submitted to it by these carriers. Prior to 1950, class I motor carriers were those with $100,000 or more of gross annual operating revenue. Beginning with 1950, the class I minimum became $200,000. Beginning with 1957, the class I minimum for motor carriers of property was increased to $1,000,000; however, the minimum for class I motor carriers of passengers remained at $200,000.

Civil aeronautics.—Federal promotion and regulation of civil aviation are carried out by two bodies—the Federal Aviation Agency and the Civil Aeronautics Board. The Board issues certificates permitting persons to engage in air transportation as a business, fixes air mail rates which they may charge, and may establish maximum and minimum rates for transportation of passengers and goods. It also has the duty of investigating accidents in air transportation.

The principal activities of the Federal Aviation Agency are: Controlling the use of navigable airspace; prescribing regulations dealing with the competency of airmen, airworthiness of aircraft, and air traffic control; operation of air route traffic control centers, airport traffic control towers, and flight service stations; the design, construction, maintenance, and inspection of navigation, traffic control, and communications equipment for the airways; and promotion of air safety.

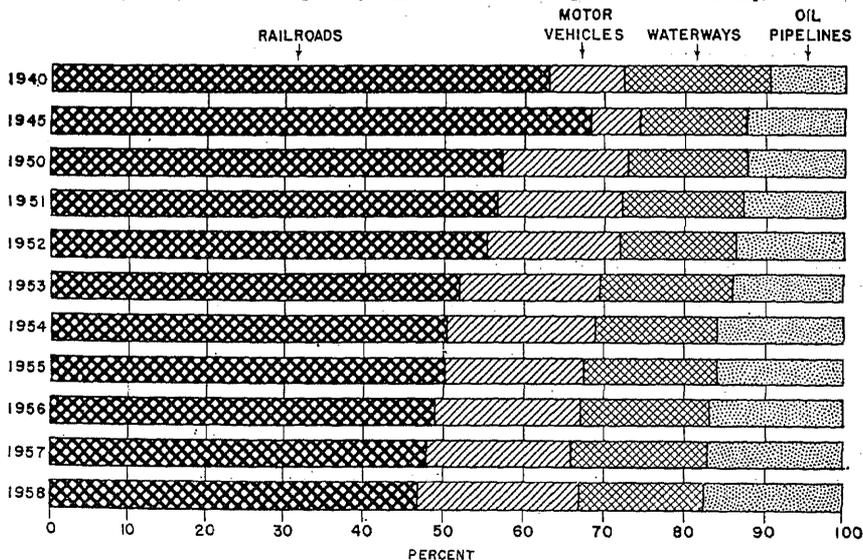

These agencies publish annual operational data on the use of airway facilities; data related to the location of airmen, aircraft, and airports; the activity volume in the field of non-aircarrier (general aviation) flying; and aircraft production and registration data by type of equipment.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 1-11") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 762. RAILROAD ACCIDENTS—NUMBER OF PERSONS KILLED AND INJURED, BY STATUS: 1921 TO 1959

[As of December 31. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. For various reasons, including fact that returns were required under different acts, statistics are not strictly comparable. From 1921-47 train accidents were those causing damage to railroad property in excess of $150 with or without a casualty; for 1948, accidents causing damages in excess of $250, with or without a casualty, were classified as train accidents; for 1949-50, train accidents were those causing damage of $275 or more; in 1951, $300 or more; in 1952, $325 or more; and beginning 1953, $350 or more. Where damage was less than the amounts specified and there was a reportable casualty, it was classified as a train-service accident. Covers all reportable accidents, including those due to suicide, mental derangement, and attempting to escape custody. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 143-152]

<sup>4</sup> As of April 1, 1960; includes military. Airport type definitions: Effective Apr. 15, 1958, type definitions of airports were revised as follows: General use—airports serving as regular, alternate, or provisional stops for scheduled and large irregular air carriers; non-air-carrier airports offering a minimum of services such as fuel and regular attendant during normal working hours; and airports operating seasonally which qualify under above definition. Limited use—airports available to public but not equipped to offer minimum services. Restricted use—use by general public prohibited except in case of forced landing or by previous arrangement.

Waterways, Water Traffic, and Shipping

This section presents statistics concerning water transportation, including inland waterways and ocean-borne commerce, the merchant marine, cargo and vessel tonnages, and shipbuilding. The principal sources of these data are two annual reports issued by the Corps of Engineers of the Department of the Army titled Waterborne Commerce of the United States and the Annual Report of the Chief of Engineers, Part 2; the Bureau of the Census monthly and annual U. S. Waterborne Foreign Trade; and the Bureau of Customs annual Merchant Marine Statistics. Data in this field are also presented in a Statistical Analysis of the World's Merchant Fleets, issued periodically by the Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce; The Bulletin issued annually by the American Bureau of Shipping; and the Annual Summary of Merchant Ships Launched in the World and the Register Book published by Lloyd's Register of Shipping of London, England. A basic source for historical data is the Bureau of the Census, Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, which was issued annually through 1946.

Data relating to merchandise exports and imports, their classification, dollar values, and countries of origin and destination may be found in section 32, Foreign Commerce.

Units of measurement.—Cargo tonnage and shipping weight both represent the gross weight of the cargo including the weight of containers, wrappings, crates, etc. Other tonnage figures generally refer to stowing capacity of vessels, 100 cubic feet being called 1 ton. Gross tonnage comprises the space within the frames and the ceiling of the hull, together with those closed-in spaces above deck available for cargo, stores, passengers, or crew, with certain minor exceptions. Net or registered tonnage is the gross tonnage less the spaces occupied by the propelling machinery, fuel, crew quarters, master's cabin, and navigation spaces. It represents substantially space available for cargo and passengers. The net tonnage capacity of a ship may bear little relation to weight of cargo. Dead-weight tonnage is the weight in long tons required to depress a vessel from light water line (that is, with only the machinery and equipment on board) to load line. It is therefore the weight of the cargo, fuel, etc., which a vessel is designed to carry with safety.

Vessel shipments, entrances, and clearances.—Shipments by dry cargo vessels comprise shipments on all types of watercraft except tanker vessels, and shipments by tanker vessels comprise all types of cargo both liquid and dry carried by tanker vessels.

A vessel is reported as entered at the first port in the United States at which entry is made, regardless of whether any cargo is unladen at that port. A vessel is reported as cleared from the last port where outward cargo is completed or where the vessel cleared in ballast. Army and Navy vessels entering or clearing without commercial cargo and vessels touching at a United States port in distress, or for other temporary causes without discharging cargo, are not included in the figures.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series Q 216-229") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 784. UNITED STATES RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS FOR INTERNATIONAL TRANSPORTATION: 1947 TO 1959

[In millions of dollars. Includes Alaska and Hawaii. Data are international transportation transactions recorded for balance of payments purposes (see table 1167). Receipts include freight on exports carried by U.S. operated carriers and foreign carrier expenditures in U.S. ports. Payments include freight on imports carried by foreign carriers and U.S. carrier port expenditures abroad. Freight on exports carried by foreign carriers is excluded since such payments are directly or indirectly for foreign account. Similarly, freight on U.S. imports carried by U.S. carriers is a domestic rather than an international transaction. No. 785. WATERBORNE IMPORTS AND EXPORTS—CARGO TONNAGE, BY FLAG OF CARRIER VESSEL: 1935 TO 1959

[In thousands of short tons. Excludes cargoes (small in aggregate) carried by ships of less than 100 tons gross capacity prior to 1946. Beginning 1946, excludes U. S. Army and Navy cargo, and includes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Beginning July 1950, excludes commodities classified for security reasons as "special category." From July 1953 through December 1955 and beginning July 1956, exports exclude shipments under $500 in value regardless of shipping weight; for January through June 1956, exclude those under $1,000 regardless of shipping weight. From January 1954 through December 1957, imports exclude shipments under 2,000 pounds shipping weight regardless of value, as well as shipments valued at less than $100 regardless of shipping weight. Beginning January 1968, imports exclude only those shipments valued at less than $100 regardless of shipping weight. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1967, series Q 210-215]

Irrigation, Drainage, and Soil Conservation

This section presents statistics concerning agricultural land development, in particular, measures of the activities of irrigation and drainage enterprises, and reclamation and land conservation projects. The primary sources for these data are the Bureau of the Census which conducts decennially a Census of Drainage and a Census of Irrigation (as part of the Census of Agriculture), and a mid-decade Census of Agriculture which covers fewer items in these fields; the Report of Administrator of Soil Conservation Service, issued by the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture; Crop Report and Related Data, Federal Reclamation Projects, issued annually by the Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior; and the Annual Report of the Commissioner of Reclamation to the Secretary of the Interior.

Irrigation.—Irrigated land as defined by the Bureau of the Census is the net acreage of farm land to which irrigation water is applied. It does not include land that could be irrigated, or usually is irrigated, but was not irrigated during the census year. Excluded also is uncultivated land (roads, farmsteads) in irrigated farms and irrigated nonfarm land (cemeteries, parks, golf courses, etc.).

Most of the irrigated land is located in the 17 Western States (excluding Alaska and Hawaii) and Arkansas, Louisiana, and Florida. In these States the Bureau of the Census collects information on acres irrigated, irrigation works, capital investment, and a number of other items from irrigation companies, districts, and other organizations, and from farms that operate their own irrigation supply works. Information for the other States, excepting special surveys, is limited to that reported in the regular farm census.

The development of irrigation projects rests primarily on the Bureau of Reclamation. By Congressional directive its activities are confined to 18 Western States including Alaska. The operation of irrigation works, upon complete development, is transferred to capable private water user organizations.

Drainage.—Most farm land drainage works serve to reclaim and improve the land. Other purposes are to protect the land against overflow, and to rid the land of seepage from irrigation ditches or for control of alkali formation.

The farm lands of the Eastern States need drainage to remove surplus rainfall. Most of this is gravity drainage, although pumps are sometimes used. In the Western States drainage serves to remove seepage water from irrigated lands and to carry off alkali salts.

The Bureau of the Census in 1950 enumerated, in general, only those organized enterprises with 500 acres or more of drained farm land. A few irrigation enterprises of smaller size which had their own drainage works were also included. In previous Censuses (1910 to 1940) all organized enterprises draining farm lands were included in the enumeration regardless of size. Privately drained lands of less than 500 acres have not been enumerated in any of the four drainage censuses. The change in Census procedure for 1950 materially reduced the number of enterprises enumerated, but affected very little the amount of drained land enumerated. Drainage enterprises in Alaska and Hawaii are not included in the statistics presented here.

In taking the 1950 Census, differences in form of organization and management of drainage enterprises made it necessary to divide arbitrarily the 40 States with drainage enterprises into two groups: The 10 "county-drain" States and the 30 "drainage-district" States. The 8 States with no drainage enterprises in 1950 were the 6 New England States, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. In the 10 "county-drain" States (Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota), statistics were gathered for the county as a unit, rather than for each separate enterprise as for the 30 "drainage-district" States. Generally, the maintenance work on existing ditches has been done by reorganizing the land of an earlier enterprise into a new project. Since the number of enterprises for "county-drain" States would be meaningless, the number was not obtained for these 10 States.

In the Western States most of the drained land is located in irrigation enterprises which were chartered to do both irrigation and drainage work under one organization. The cost of construction, operation, and maintenance of the irrigation works is usually far greater than that for drainage. Separate records are seldom kept of expenditures for drainage and irrigation. Data were not included in the 1950 Census for cost, collections, and indebtedness of irrigation enterprises having their own drainage. Therefore, the data for 1950 are not fully comparable with those for earlier years.

Soil conservation.—Basic soil conservation district legislation has now been enacted in all of the States (including Alaska and Hawaii), and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Each of these laws contains an effective date after which soil conservation districts could be organized by local farmers and operators. A soil conservation district is a political subdivision of a State which is determined by petition and referendum of farmers residing in the area, and approved by the State Soil Conservation Committee. Districts, in most cases, have authority to solicit Federal, State, county, and private assistance in carrying on their soil and water conservation program within the area. On request of the local governing body of each soil conservation district, the Department of Agriculture provides technical and other assistance to districts, through its several agencies. "Memorandums of understanding" form the basis on which any departmental assistance is provided to a district for use on the farms and ranches within the district. After the basic memorandum with the Department has been signed, the Soil Conservation Service signs a supplemental memorandum with each district governing body requesting assistance, to cover activities which the Soil Conservation Service will help each district to carry out.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series J 84-85") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 812. IRRIGATION ENTERPRISES—SUMMARY: 1910 TO 1950

[Data are for the 17 Western States (excluding Alaska and Hawaii), Arkansas, Louisiana, and, for 1940 and 1950, Florida. Tables 812 and 814 relate to irrigation enterprises of all types, including those operated by individual farmers. They are based on reports of management of enterprises. An enterprise is defined as an independent irrigation establishment owning or operating works for supplying water to agricultural land]

No. 815. IRRIGATED LAND IN FARMS, BY STATES: 1939 TO 1954

[In 1940, the questionnaire called for land from which irrigated crops were harvested in 1939, and for land irrigated in 1939 and used for grazing or pasture; in 1945 and 1950, for total land in farms irrigated in 1944 and 1949; in 1954, irrigated cropland harvested plus irrigated pasture. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1867, series J 84-85, for U. S. totals]

Agriculture—General Statistics

This section presents measures of the broader aspects of our farm economy: The number, value, acreage, and ownership of farms; agricultural balance sheet; and farm prices, income, expenditures, and debt.

The principal sources of these data are the U.S. Census of Agriculture, conducted by the Bureau of the Census, and current and annual publications of the Department of Agriculture, among which are: The Balance Sheet of Agriculture, Current Developments in the Farm Real Estate Market, Agricultural Finance Review, The Farm Income Situation, Agricultural Statistics, Agricultural Prices, Crop Production, Crop Values, Livestock and Poultry Inventory—January 1, and Statistics of Farmer Cooperatives.

Data on farm output and productivity, on specific crops, acreage and production, and on livestock and poultry may be found in section 25, Agriculture—Production and Related Subjects.

Starting in 1840 a Census of Agriculture has been conducted every 10 years. In 1925, 1935, 1945, and 1954 a mid-decade census has also been taken. The data have been obtained by personal enumeration of individual farms. The first Census of Agriculture, limited in scope, included such items as an inventory of the principal classes of domestic animals, the production of wool, the value of poultry and products of the dairy, and the production of principal crops. Data concerning the number, acreage, and value of farms were first introduced in the Census of 1850. In 1880, information was first secured as to the tenure under which farms were operated. A detailed classification of farm land according to use was first obtained in 1925. Figures from the 1959 Census of Agriculture, taken as of October 1, were not available when material for this section was organized and sent to the printer.

Farms and farmland.—In the course of its history, the Bureau of the Census has employed several definitions of a farm. According to the definition used in the 1950 and 1954 Censuses, a farm was all the land on which some agricultural operations were performed by a person, either by the operator or with the assistance of household or hired labor. Places of 3 acres or more were considered farms if their production was valued at a minimum of $150, exclusive of that from a home garden. Places of less than 3 acres must have sold a minimum of $150 of their production to be classified as farms.

According to the definition used from 1925 to 1945, places of 3 acres or more were counted as farms if any agricultural products, other than from a home garden, were produced, while places of less than 3 acres were classified as farms if the agricultural production was valued at a minimum of $250. For the definitions used in earlier censuses, see U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1950, Vol. II, Introduction.

Agricultural operations consist of the production of crops or plants, vines, or trees (excluding forestry operations), or of the keeping, grazing, or feeding of livestock for animal products, animal increase, or value enhancement. Included as farms are such agricultural enterprises as nurseries, greenhouses, hothouses, fur farms, mushroom houses, apiaries, and cranberry bogs. Excluded are fish farms, fish hatcheries, oyster farms, frog farms, kennels, game preserves, parks, and the like. When a landowner has one or more tenants, renters, croppers, or managers, the land operated by each is considered a farm for census purposes. Thus, for a plantation, each cropper and tenant operation is considered a separate farm even though the entire plantation may be handled essentially as a single farm enterprise.

The land in farms includes considerable areas of land not actually under cultivation or used for pasture or grazing, but all such land must have been under the control of the operator and considered a part of his farm. Land used for grazing or pasture that was neither owned nor leased by the farm operator generally was not included under land in farms. Rent-free lands were included in an operator's farm only if he had sole use of such lands. Thus vast acreages of land used for grazing, such as national forests, Taylor grazing land, State lands, or other public lands, and some railroad and other privately owned lands, are not included as land in farms even though used for agricultural purposes.

Farm prices and income.—Information on prices received by farmers for products they sell and prices paid for articles they buy for production and family living are obtained by the Agricultural Marketing Service from about 33,000 voluntary reporters, which include farmers, local merchants, and handlers of agricultural products. Season average prices received by farmers are calculated by weighting midmonth prices by monthly sales during the crop marketing season, beginning with the first month in which a particular crop harvest begins.

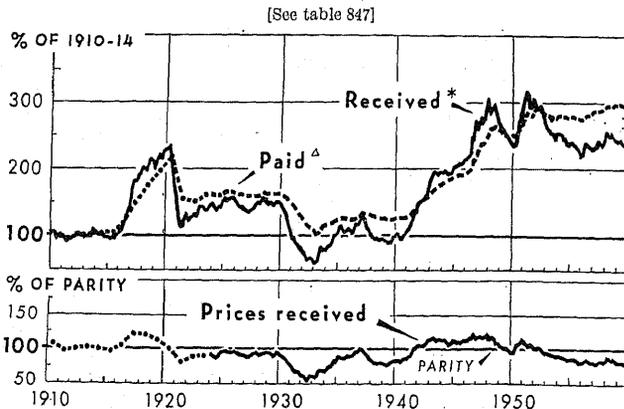

The index numbers of prices received and of prices paid by farmers (see table 847) are based on current midmonth prices for these commodities. For information concerning methods of construction of the indexes, see Agricultural Handbook No. 118, Volume 1, Agricultural Prices and Parity, issued by the Agricultural Marketing Service. Information concerning January 1959 revisions of these indexes may be found in the January 1959 issue of Agricultural Prices published by AMS. The ratio of the index of prices received to the index of prices paid by farmers measures the monthly variation in the average per unit exchange value of farm products in terms of commodities and services bought by farmers.

Cash income is the cash receipts from farm marketings and represents the quantities of crops, livestock, and livestock products sold by farmers multiplied by the prices received per unit of production at the local market. Gross farm income includes Government payments, value of farm products consumed on the farm, and rental value of farm homes, as well as cash receipts from farm marketings.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series C 74-79") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 822. FARM POPULATION—NUMBER, PERCENT OF TOTAL POPULATION, AND COMPONENTS OF CHANGE: 1920 TO 1959

[In thousands. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Figures relate to civilian population living on farms, regardless of occupation or source of income. Determination of whether a household is located on a farm has been made largely by the residents themselves. If the respondent in reply to the inquiry, "Is this house on a farm (or ranch)?" answers affirmatively, it is, in most cases, classified as a farm dwelling unit and the occupants as part of the farm population. Excludes the following: Persons living on farm land who rent for cash a home and yard only; persons in summer camps, motels, and tourist camps; and inmates of institutions on farm land. No. 831. FARMS—NUMBER, BY ECONOMIC CLASS: 1929 TO 1954

In thousands. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Based on Bureau of the Census data. Figures for 1954 differ slightly from totals presented in table 835 due to difference in classification of farms by the two sources. For example, Department of Agriculture includes in the group having sales of $1,200 to $2,499 only those farms for which such sales provide the major source of family income, whereas the Bureau of the Census includes in this group all farms falling within that sales range]

<sup>4</sup> Farms listed in earlier censuses that would not have met the minimum criteria used in the 1950 and 1954 Censuses of Agriculture.

No. 832. FARMS—NUMBER AND ACREAGE, BY SIZE OF FARM: 1920 TO 1954

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. 1950 data, except number of farms, based on a sample of farms. May not agree with other 1950 sample data, since size data were not adjusted to agree with total count of farms. Minus sign (-) denotes decrease. ## No. 836. FARMS—NUMBER AND PERCENT DISTRIBUTION, BY TYPE: 1950 AND 1954

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Based on reports for a sample of farms. Type of farm determined on basis of relationship of value of sales from a particular source to total value of products sold for each farm. In general, value of sales from a particular source was 50 percent or more of total sales when a farm was classified as that type. Part-time farms include those with a value of products sold of $250-$1,199 and with operator either reporting 100 days or more of off-farm work or other income exceeding value of farm products sold. Residential farms include those with a value of farm products sold of less than $250. Abnormal farms include public and private institutional farms, experiment stations, community projects, etc.]

<sup>3</sup> Includes loans held and loans guaranteed. Although these are nonrecourse loans, they are included as liabilities because borrowers must either repay in cash or deliver the commodities on which they were based. The values of the underlying commodities are included among the assets; hence, the loans must be included as liabilities to avoid overstating the amount of proprietors' equities.

<sup>5</sup> Loans and credits extended by dealers, merchants, finance companies, individuals, and others. Estimates based on fragmentary data.

<sup>1</sup> Based on percent of farms with electricity, telephones, and automobiles and the average value of products sold or traded in the year preceding the appropriate Census of Agriculture. Does not cover all the goods, services, and other satisfactions that make up the level of living of families. However, the various items are closely associated; e.g., farm houses with electricity are more likely to have other household facilities and conveniences than those without electricity.

Agriculture—Production and Related Subjects

This section presents statistics concerning farm output and productivity, farm imports and exports, and data relative to specific crops, livestock, dairy products, and poultry.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the decennial and quinquennial Censuses of Agriculture conducted by the Bureau of the Census and three annual reports issued by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the Department of Agriculture entitled Crop Production, Crop Values, and Agricultural Statistics. Other important sources of these data published by the Agricultural Marketing Service include Production of Manufactured Dairy Products; Livestock and Poultry on Farms, January 1; Other Livestock Reports; The National Food Situation; Cotton and Cottonseed Production; and The Wheat Situation. Data sources concerned with agricultural exports and imports include Foreign Agricultural Trade published by the Foreign Agricultural Service of the Department of Agriculture and Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States which was issued annually through 1946 by the Bureau of the Census. Statistics on other aspects of agriculture may be found in section 24, Agriculture—General Statistics.

Crop reporting.—Annual agricultural statistics of a wide variety have been issued currently by the Department of Agriculture for 97 years—the first being as of May 1, 1863. The 41 field offices design the samples and collect data from voluntary reporters. State estimates and other information are sent to the Crop Reporting Board of the Agricultural Marketing Service, where, after review, reports are issued containing State, regional, and United States data.

Statistics compiled by the Agricultural Marketing Service on crops, livestock and livestock products, agricultural prices, farm employment, and other related subjects are based mainly on data obtained through mail questionnaires. The basic information is obtained from nearly three-fourths of a million reporters, mostly farmers, who report for their own and nearby farms on some 80 crops and scores of other items pertaining to agricultural production and farm family living. The most extensive of the current survey data are gathered by the Agricultural Marketing Service from questionnaires handled in cooperation with the Post Office Department through its rural mail carriers. These surveys obtain livestock data in June and December and crop acreage data in October.

In the data prepared by the Agricultural Marketing Service, estimates of crop acreage and production for the census years are set up currently from available information. Later, if necessary, these data are revised to a level based largely on the Census enumerations. The estimates for intercensal years are based on sample data obtained each year from individual reporters. This information is supplemented by other data, such as State assessors' enumerations of agricultural information, crop meter frontage measurements, reports of carlot shipments, warehouse receipts, local surveys, personal observations by field statisticians as well as reports from other sources having a knowledge of farming, agricultural production, and processing. Cotton acreage and production are also based on sample data and, in large measure, on ginning information gathered by the Bureau of the Census.

Livestock.—For each decade from 1840 through 1900, the Census of Agriculture was taken as of June 1. The six decennial censuses since then have been taken as of April 15, 1910; January 1, 1920; April 1, 1930, 1940, and 1950; and October 1, 1959.

(Figures from the 1959 Census of Agriculture were not available when material for this section was organized and sent to the printer.) The 1925, 1935, and 1945 quinquennial Censuses of Agriculture were taken as of January 1. The 1954 Census of Agriculture was taken in the fall of that year. Comparison of inventory numbers of livestock from census to census is seriously affected by changes in the date of enumeration. From January to April, there are material changes in numbers on hand in most parts of the country, due to births, marketings, farm slaughter, etc. In an effort to obtain as much comparability as possible, the censuses taken in April either excluded recently born animals from the enumeration or provided for their enumeration in a separate age group. Volume II of U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1950 shows a complete history of the enumeration of livestock and presents a discussion of the comparability from census to census. For most kinds of domestic livestock, there are comparatively short, cyclic fluctuations in numbers, even though the trend over a long period of time may be definitely in one direction.

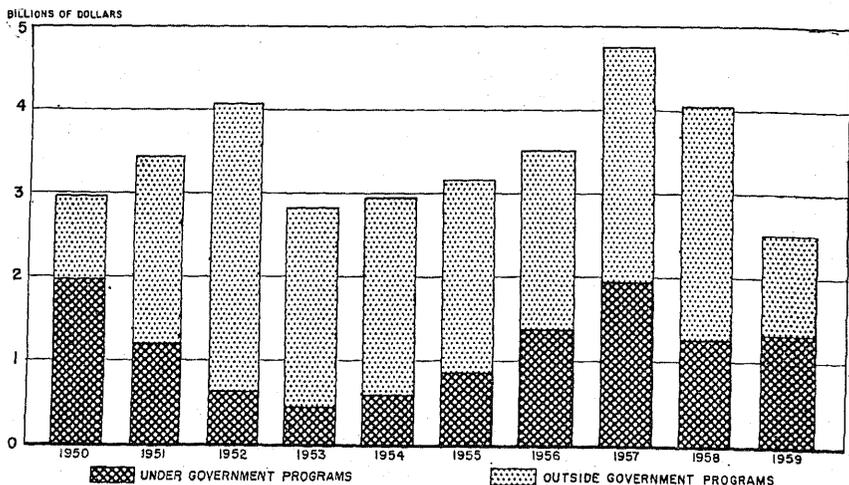

Annual inventory numbers of livestock on farms, together with estimates of livestock, dairy, and poultry production prepared by the Department of Agriculture, are based on information furnished by individual farmers, supplemented by State assessors' data in a number of States, and by such records as brand inspections, rail and truck shipments, and slaughter. The level for these inventories is based in large part on interpretations of Census enumerations for years when such data are available.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series K 190-194") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

<sup>8</sup> Acreage represents vegetables harvested for sale only; acreage in farm gardens not available. Value comprises both vegetables for home use and for sale, except as noted.

<sup>7</sup> Includes hays listed above in those States where separate inquiries were not on the questionnaire.

No. 924. MEATS AND LARD—SLAUGHTERING, PRODUCTION, FOREIGN TRADE, AND CONSUMPTION, BY KIND: 1945 TO 1959

[All quantities, except per capita, represent carcass weight equivalent. Excludes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico except for exports and imports. Excludes edible byproducts. Production of pork comprises weight of dressed hog carcass less head bones and less all carcass fat rendered into lard. Lard production represents rendered weight of lard, and lard exports represent rendered lard, including neutral lard. Excludes USDA exports and shipments for Lend-Lease, UNRRA and other claimants, and shipments for military civilian feeding and voluntary relief feeding. Civilian consumption is calculated from production and foreign trade, with an allowance for changes in stocks, and with deduction of military takings, and of deliveries to USDA. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series K 214-215, K 217-218, K 220-221, and K 223-224, for animals slaughtered and production, and G 552-555, for civilian per capita consumption]

Section 26

Forests and Forest Products

This section presents basic forest statistics on the area and ownership of commercial forest land and volume of timber including annual growth and cut; forestry statistics covering the national forests and Forest Service cooperative programs; and product statistics for lumber, pulpwood, woodpulp, paper and paperboard, turpentine, rosin, veneer logs, and other similar data.

The principal sources of these data are the Timber Resources for America's Future issued in 1958; the annual report National Forest Areas, and Forest Fire Statistics published by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture; the annual reports of the Bureau of the Census entitled Lumber Production and Mill Stocks and Pulp, Paper, and Board, and other reports in the Bureau of the Census, Current Industrial Reports (formerly Facts for Industry) series issued quarterly on plywood and monthly on pulp, paper, and board. Additional information in this field is published in the Annual Report of the National Forest Reservation Commission, the Annual Naval Stores Report of the Agricultural Marketing Service, the monthly Survey of Current Business of the Office of Business Economics, and the quarterly National Survey of Lumber Demand and Supply of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

The Bureau of the Census also collects statistics of foreign trade of forest products. The Bureau of Labor Statistics publishes monthly and annual statistics of wholesale lumber prices. Information on the domestic movement of forest products is collected by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Association of American Railroads.

The completeness and reliability of statistics of forests and forest products vary considerably. The data for forest land area and stand are, of course, much more reliable for areas which have been surveyed than for those areas which have not been covered. Forest fire statistics for Federal lands are considered much better than for private lands, though too much reliance should not be placed on estimates of fire damage or causes of fires.

In the field of forest products, data for lumber production and other manufactured products such as veneer and plywood, pulp and paper, naval stores, etc., are much more complete than for the primary forest products such as poles and piling, fuelwood, and fence posts. Figures for lumber production, however, are subject to certain limitations prior to 1942 because of incomplete coverage. Information for pulp and paper, and plywood, on the other hand, is believed to have practically complete coverage.

For an historical summation of raw materials production, imports, exports, and consumption, which includes figures for forest products, see table 973.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series L 1-5") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

<sup>1</sup> Comprises all land which is (a) producing, or physically capable of producing, usable crops of wood (usually sawtimber), (b) economically available now or prospectively, and (c) not withdrawn from timber utilization.

No. 933. LIVE SAWTIMBER AND GROWING STOCK—VOLUME, 1953, AND ANNUAL GROWTH AND ANNUAL CUT, 1952, ON COMMERCIAL FOREST LAND, BY STATES

[Sawtimber comprises all trees (except cull trees) which contain at least one merchantable sawlog as defined by regional practice, and which have the following minimum diameter at breast height: Eastern region softwoods, 9 inches; Eastern region hardwoods and all species of Western region, 11 inches. Growing stock comprises all trees of commercial species which meet regional specifications for soundness and form, and which have a minimum diameter of 5 inches at breast height.]

No. 943. LUMBER PRODUCTION, BY KIND OF WOOD: 1899 TO 1957

[In millions of board feet. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Data not strictly comparable because of incomplete coverage of numerous small mills in the East prior to 1942 and exclusion of mills cutting less than 50 M. ft. D. m. for all years prior to 1942 except 1899 and 1919. Exclusion of under 50 M class of mills would affect totals less than 1 percent as reflected by 1942 survey. Data for 1945, 1950, and 1955-1958 are based on sample surveys; see source for sampling reliability. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1857, series L 45-60]

1 Prior to 1950 cubic volume for crossies, poles, piling, fence posts, wood blocks, and cross arms was based on number of units reported and an estimated average cubic volume per unit. For 1950 and subsequent years, cubic volume is based on volume reported by treating plants, and data are therefore not completely comparable with earlier years.

Fisheries

This section presents statistics relating to quantity, value, species, and disposition of fish caught for commercial purposes, and of fishery products. The principal sources of these data are the annual report Fishery Statistics of the United States, and the monthly and annual Current Fishery Statistics bulletins, both published by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior.

The Fish and Wildlife Service conducts annual surveys for various statistical information on the fishery industries. Results from the surveys include data on the volume of the catch of individual species of fish and shellfish and their value, employment in the fisheries, quantity of gear operated, the number of fishing and transporting craft employed in the capture and transporting of fishery products, employment in wholesale and manufacturing establishments, and volume and value of the production of manufactured fishery products. In addition to the basic statistics on employment, yield, and production, the reports include data on imports and exports of fishery commodities; freezings and cold-storage holdings of fishery products; monthly production of fish meal and oil; quarterly production of fish sticks; and monthly landings in most coastal States, and in Ohio. Information is also collected covering shad fisheries of the Hudson and Potomac Rivers; alewife fisheries of the Potomac; seed oyster fisheries; and Pacific Coast halibut fisheries.

The first comprehensive statistical survey of the fisheries and fishery industries of the United States was made for the year 1880, although it did not include data for the Mississippi River and its tributaries. A complete survey of the entire United States was conducted in 1908 and again in 1931. Various sections of the country have been surveyed from time to time. A complete survey of all sections, including the manufacturing and wholesaling operations, was made for 1950, and complete data have been collected annually beginning with 1954.

No. 963. FISHERIES—DISPOSITION OF DOMESTIC CATCH: 1945 TO 1959

[Round weight of catch in millions of pounds. Includes Alaska, and beginning 1959, Hawaii. A large portion of waste derived from canning, filleting, and dressing fish and shellfish is utilized in production of fish meal and oil in addition to whole fish used in manufacture of these products. From 600 million to 1 billion pounds of waste were used in production of meal and oil each year shown. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1937, series L 155-161]

Mining and Mineral Products

This section presents statistics relating to the mineral industries and mineral products. The data are arranged in four broad groupings: General summary statistics, fuels, nonmetals other than fuels, and metals. Summary measures of production and employment are presented for mining and its products. More detailed data on value and quantity of production, prices, imports and exports, consumption, and distribution are shown for specific mineral industries and products. The latter include not only crude minerals (coal, iron ore, etc.), but minerals which have passed through certain stages of processing (refined copper, cement, etc.), and minerals such as magnesium whose extraction does not involve mining in the conventional sense.

The principal source of these data is the Minerals Yearbook which consists of three volumes—Metals and Minerals (Except Fuels), Fuels, and Area Reports, published by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior. Other government sources are the Censuses of Mineral Industries conducted by the Bureau of the Census; Statistics of Oil Pipe Line Companies, issued annually by the Interstate Commerce Commission as Part 6 of Transport Statistics; and the Bureau of the Mint's Annual Report of the Director, which presents data on gold and silver. Nongovernment sources include the Engineering and Mining Journal issued monthly by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., and The Iron Age, a weekly Chilton Co. publication.

Mineral statistics, with principal emphasis on commodity detail, have been collected annually or at more frequent intervals by the United States Geological Survey or by the Bureau of Mines since 1880. Current data available from Bureau of Mines publications include quantities and values of minerals produced, sold or used by producers, or shipped; quantities of minerals stocked; crude materials treated and prepared minerals recovered; and consumption of mineral raw materials. The Bureau of Mines also collects and publishes separate data on man-hours, active days, length of shift, and accidents.

Censuses of mineral industries have been conducted by the Bureau of the Census approximately every 10 years since 1840. The most recent censuses have been those covering 1954 and 1958. Summary data from those censuses are included here. Commodity statistics on many of the manufactured mineral products are also collected by the Bureau of the Census at monthly, quarterly, or annual intervals and issued in its Current Industrial Reports (formerly Facts for Industry) series.

Data on mining and mineral products may also be found in other sections of this Abstract. For example, data on iron and steel, aluminum and magnesium, copper products, clay products, and other mineral products appear in section 30, Manufactures; and summary data for outlying areas of the U.S. appear in section 33.

In general, figures shown in the individual commodity tables include data for outlying areas, and may therefore not agree with summary table 975. Except for crude petroleum, the export and import figures include foreign trade passing through the customs districts of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, but exclude shipments between conterminous U.S. and outlying areas.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series M 13-14") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

FIG. XXXIX. INDEXES OF THE PHYSICAL VOLUME OF MINERAL PRODUCTION: 1925 TO 1959
 [1947-49=100. See table 970]

No. 969. VALUE OF MINERAL PRODUCTION: 1901 TO 1959

In millions of dollars. Principal differences between old basis and new basis are as follows: (1) Totals on the new basis, except as noted, represent coterminous U.S. only; on the old basis, production in Alaska, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, and Puerto Rico was included, but no data were collected for other outlying areas now shown in table 1210; (2) U.S. totals on the new basis are a better representation than formerly of the production of primary minerals from domestic mines (or concentrating mills); on the old basis, totals include secondary products and mineral products made from foreign materials. However, value on new basis still includes some advanced products, like cement, lime, and natural gas liquids in all years, and through 1946, value of heavy clay products; also, value of nonferrous metals is mine quantity valued at the refined price. Revised data for years prior to 1925 on new basis are not available. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series M 13-14, M 20, and M 30]

<sup>1</sup> Represents value of shipments of primary and secondary products of the industry and amount received for services performed for other establishments on a contract, fee, or other basis.

<sup>5</sup> Excludes paid vacations, holidays, and sick leave; includes actual overtime hours, not straight-time equivalent hours.

<sup>6</sup> Computed by subtracting cost of supplies, minerals received for preparation, purchased fuel and electric energy, contract work, and purchased machinery, from the value of shipments and capital expenditures.

SUMMARY: 1954 AND 1958

establishments with value of production and with expenditures less than $500. See also Historical to 1957, series M 1-12

<sup>9</sup> For 1954, data were collected on the quantity but not on the cost of gas received for processing and on the value of residue gas shipped. Such costs have been estimated and included in group totals.

<sup>8</sup> Excludes abrasivo stone, bituminous limestone and sandstone, and ground soapstone, all included elsewhere in table.
<sup>9</sup> Comprises value of items that cannot be disclosed: Magnesium chloride for magnesium metal, platinum-group metals (crude), tin (1955), and values indicated by footnote reference 10.
<sup>10</sup> Comprises value of items that cannot be disclosed: Aplite, brucite, calcium-magnesium chloride, diatomite, graphite, iodine, kyanite, lithium minerals, nitrogen compounds (1957-58), olivine, staurolite (1957-58), sharpening stones, wollastonite, and values indicated by footnote reference 5.

<sup>4</sup> Data on petroleum and natural gas not available prior to 1942; data on man-days not available for this industry.

<sup>6</sup> Separate data not available for ore-dressing plants and nonferrous reduction plants and smelters prior to 1942.

<sup>7</sup> Data on nonmetal mills not available prior to 1955. Data on clay mills not available prior to 1956.

<sup>4</sup> Capacity of active mines with existing labor force, derived on basis of average output per day.

<sup>5</sup> Beginning 1945, production data include some bootleg coal purchased by anthracite industry for preparation and shipment to market. Data on employment, however, exclude such purchased coal, as complete employment data on "bootleg" holes are not available. Data after 1950 not strictly comparable with prior years.

<sup>3</sup> Data are for "general imports," i.e., include copper imported for immediate consumption plus material entering country under bond. Comprises copper in ingots, plates, and bars, ores and concentrates, regulus, blister, and scrap.

<sup>4</sup> Total exports of copper, exclusive of ore, concentrates, composition metal, and unrefined copper. Exclusive also of "Other manufactures of copper," for which quantity figures are not recorded before 1953. Beginning 1954, data not strictly comparable with earlier years, due to changes in classification. Beginning 1958, copper rods not separately classified; included in "other copper manufactures."

No. 1014. COPPER—EXPORTS AND IMPORTS: 1921 TO 1959

[Quantities in short tons; values in thousands of dollars. Includes trade of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico with foreign countries. Exports are those classed as "domestic" in foreign trade statistics but include copper smelted or refined in United States from imported ore or unrefined metal. Prior to 1952, values include all forms of copper; quantities represent all copper except some "Other copper manufactures" for which quantity data were not reported. For 1952 and subsequent years, export data exclude certain copper manufactures not reported separately]

Section 29

Construction and Housing

This section presents various measures of construction activity and costs; dwelling units; housing values, facilities, and structural characteristics; and residential financing.

The principal sources of these data are the monthly construction reports, Housing Starts and Construction Activity—Value of New Construction Put in Place, published by the Bureau of the Census, which compiles data on the number of nonfarm housing units started and the value of construction activity; the monthly Construction Review, a publication of the Business and Defense Services Administration,<sup>1</sup> which publishes data compiled by the Bureau of the Census on the value of construction contract awards, the value of construction put in place, cost and seasonal indexes, housing starts, vacancy rates, and building permits, and also assembles data from other sources on construction materials production, shipment and inventories, materials prices, wage rates, and employment; the U.S. Census of Housing: 1950, the reports of the decennial Census of Housing, and the National Housing Inventory: 1956. Other sources which specialize in particular types of construction or housing statistics are: The monthly Dodge Construction Statistics Services of F. W. Dodge Corporation, which present State data on construction contracts; the Engineering News-Record issued weekly by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, Inc., which contains figures on contract awards and construction costs; the Annual Report of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which offers public housing statistics from its Public Housing Administration; and the Annual Report of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board which presents home mortgage data. Monthly data on the characteristics of vacant dwelling units are also collected by the Bureau of the Census and are presented quarterly in its Current Housing Reports.

Construction.—Monthly estimates of the value of construction put in place are prepared by the Bureau of the Census and published in Construction Activity—Value of New Construction Put in Place.<sup>1</sup> Construction estimates for buildings such as stores, warehouses, and factories are based on F. W. Dodge Corporation reports of construction contracts, supplemented by building permit data for States which the F. W. Dodge Corporation does not cover. Public utility construction estimates are derived from data compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission and other Federal regulatory agencies, and by private associations and organizations such as the American Gas Association, the American Transit Association, the Edison Electric Institute, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Statistics for most types of State and local governmental construction are derived from data compiled by the F. W. Dodge Corporation, supplemented by reports issued by numerous construction news services such as the Engineering News-Record and from official reports issued by State and local government agencies. Estimates of Federally financed construction, and of Federally aided construction programs, and State and local highway construction are derived by the Bureau of the Census from the reports of the responsible Federal agencies. Estimates of private residential construction activity, including number of housing units started, by type of structure and average construction costs are based primarily upon reports, compiled by the Bureau of the Census, of building permits issued by about 7,000 permit-issuing authorities, supplemented by field surveys on a sample basis to obtain estimates of housing starts in nonpermit areas.

<sup>1</sup> Prior to July 1959, the collection of construction statistics and the publication of Construction Review were the joint responsibility of the Business and Defense Services Administration and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Housing.—The first Census of Housing was taken in 1940, although some housing data were collected by the Bureau of the Census in earlier years in conjunction with Censuses of Population and Agriculture. Housing data were collected in sample surveys by the Bureau of the Census in October 1944, November 1945, April 1947, and May 1948 as part of the Current Population Survey (see page 1 for discussion of Survey). A second Census of Housing was taken in 1950. In 1955, a monthly vacancy survey was begun. Results from this survey are issued on a quarterly basis. Data on home ownership were collected in the Current Population Survey of February 1956. The 1956 National Housing Inventory, conducted on a sample basis by the Bureau of the Census, provides measurements of the housing supply for the country as a whole and for nine large metropolitan areas. Results of the inventory show the number and characteristics of dwelling units in existence in 1956, as well as the gains and losses through new construction, conversion, and withdrawals since 1950.

Figures from the 1960 Census of Housing, taken as of April 1, were not available when material for this section was organized and sent to the printer.

Dwelling units.—In general, a dwelling unit is a group of rooms or a single room occupied, or intended for occupancy, as separate living quarters by a family or other group of persons living together or by a person living alone. Living quarters of the following types are not included in the dwelling-unit inventory: Rooming houses with five lodgers or more, transient accommodations (tourist courts, hotels, etc.), and barracks for workers (railroad, construction, etc.).

The count of dwelling units in the 1950 Census may be considered comparable with the count in the 1940 Census. Counts of total vacant units in 1950 are considered more inclusive than in 1940. In 1940, vacant units were enumerated only if they were habitable; vacant units which were uninhabitable and beyond repair were omitted. In 1950, all vacant units, whether or not dilapidated, were included if they were intended for occupancy as living quarters.

Residential financing.—Statistics on residential financing were collected on a sample basis as part of the 1950 Census of Housing. The survey covered nonfarm residential mortgaged properties, both owner and rental. The data are expressed in terms of mortgaged properties, number of mortgages, and outstanding mortgage debt. Construction mortgages were excluded. As part of the 1956 National Housing Inventory, data were collected on the financing of owner-occupied nonfarm properties, including owner and property characteristics for mortgaged and nonmortgaged properties, and mortgage characteristics for mortgaged properties.

Data on home mortgages and foreclosures, based largely on reports from major holders, are provided by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The Federal Housing Administration compiles from its records data on its real estate financial operations, such as volume of mortgages insured, type of lending institution, etc. The Veterans Administration also compiles from its records data on amounts and types of loans.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series N 1-28") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 1022. VALUE OF PRIVATE AND PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION: 1929 TO 1959

[In millions of dollars. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Represents value of construction put in place during year; consequently differs from building permit and construction contract data which are more nearly comparable to value of work started. In addition, coverage generally broader than permit and contract data. Includes value and cost of installation of equipment which is integral part of structure, but not that of machinery, shipbuilding, or land costs. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series N 1-28]

[In millions of dollars. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Covers building activity in approximately 7,000 urban and rural-nonfarm localities having building-permit systems. Such localities include about 80 percent of the non-farm population of the country, according to the 1950 Census. Compiled from estimates of construction costs made by prospective builders when applying for permits to build, and value of contracts awarded by the Federal Government. State and local government construction is reported by local officials]

Electric light and power <sup>15</sup> .....	62.4	68.9	112.9	145.8	173.0	177.0

<sup>3</sup> Includes Alaska and Hawaii. Covers materials either (a) physically incorporated as integral part of a building or (b) normally installed during construction and not removable without seriously impairing building. Excludes consumer durables, as kitchen ranges, refrigerators, etc.

<sup>4</sup> Covers both full- and part-time construction workers through working foreman level, engaged on-site or off-site in actual construction work (including preassembly and precutting operations) who are employed by general contractors and by subcontractors engaged in special trades, such as plumbing, painting, etc. Excludes all non-construction workers employed by these firms.

<sup>5</sup> Based on minimum wage rates agreed upon through collective bargaining; excludes overtime. As of June 1 for 1940; July 1, thereafter.

<sup>7</sup> Covers both building and nonbuilding construction excluding maintenance and repair. Represents a weighted average of various indexes both private and government used for different types of construction.

<sup>8</sup> Average for 30 cities of 4 types of buildings: Wood-frame, brick-wood frame, brick-steel frame, and reinforced concrete. Covers materials and labor costs in structural portion of buildings but excludes materials and labor prices for plumbing, heating, lighting, sprinklers, and elevators. Reflects employee-benefit costs, and allows for contractors' overhead and profit.

<sup>9</sup> Covers both building and nonbuilding construction. Wages and materials for 12 cities combined in 40-60 ratio. Wages are for hod carriers and common laborers only. Materials weighted: Sand, gravel, crushed stone, cement, common brick, and lumber, 1 each; hollow tile, ½; and structural and reinforcing steel (together) ½. Excludes taxes and employee-benefit costs.

<sup>10</sup> Average of 20 cities for types shown. Weights based on surveys of actual building costs and vary with different types of structures. Wage rates used for both common and skilled labor. Reflects payment of sales taxes and social security payroll taxes. Unweighted averages from Boeckh series prepared by Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

<sup>11</sup> Building construction index computed on basis of hypothetical unit of construction requiring 6 bbls. of portland cement, 1.088 M bd. ft. measures of 2" x 4" lumber, 2,500 lbs. of structural steel, and 68.38 hours of skilled labor. General construction index based on same materials components combined with 200 hours of common labor. Not adjusted for changes in materials availability, competitive conditions, efficiency of plant and management, productivity, or related factors.

<sup>12</sup> Composite of 36 major cost elements in 3 commercial-type buildings including structural elements and elevators, wiring, plumbing, heating, and ventilating. Job costs include both skilled and unskilled labor, and series reflects employee-benefit costs.

<sup>13</sup> Eastern cities. Based on firm's cost experience with respect to labor rates, materials prices, competitive conditions, efficiency of plant and management, and productivity. Reflects payment of sales taxes and employee-benefit costs.

<sup>14</sup> Based on data covering public utility construction costs (building construction, gas plant construction, and electric light and power construction) for 95 items in 6 geographical regions of the U. S. Job costs include both skilled and common labor. Indexes do not reflect tax payments nor employee-benefit cost. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, has converted these series to a 1947-49 base, and combined the various items into a single index.

<sup>15</sup> As derived by Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; covers steam production plants only; excludes hydraulic plants.

No. 1034. ENGINEERING CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS AWARDED AND BACKLOG OF PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION—VOLUME, BY TYPE: 1930 TO 1959

[In millions of dollars. Beginning 1959, includes Alaska and Hawaii. Covers U.S. construction projects of following minimum costs: For 1935, waterworks, excavation, drainage, and irrigation, $10,500; other public works, $17,500; industrial buildings, $28,500; other buildings, $105,000. For 1930, 1940, and 1945, minimums were $15,000, $25,000, $40,000, and $150,000. For 1950, minimums were $28,000, $50,000, $68,000, and $250,000. For 1954 minimums were $34,000, $60,000, $82,000, and $300,000. For 1955-58, minimums used were $44,000, $73,000, $93,000, and $344,000. For 1959, minimums used were $53,000, $88,000, $110,000, and $400,000. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series N 75-84]

No. 1036. BUILDING CONSTRUCTION IN CITIES OF 100,000 INHABITANTS OR MORE—
VALUE OF ALL CONSTRUCTION AND NUMBER OF NEW DWELLING UNITS: 1950
to 1959

[Valuation figures are derived from estimates of construction costs made by prospective builders when applying for permits to build and value of contracts awarded by Federal Government. No land costs are included. For type of building covered, see table 1026. Cities shown here had a population of 100,000 or more in 1950]

No. 1039. NUMBER AND AVERAGE CONSTRUCTION COST OF NEW PERMANENT PRIVATELY OWNED ONE-FAMILY DWELLING UNITS STARTED: 1940 TO 1959

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Average cost of all such dwelling units started nationally. Data do not represent construction cost of a typical house. These averages are affected by changes in cost of materials and labor, variations in size and design of the houses, type of projects started, differences in construction methods, and other variables. Construction costs cover only labor, materials, and subcontracted work, and that part of the builders' overhead and profit chargeable directly to the construction projects. Cost data based primarily on builders' estimates of construction cost made at the start of construction, and from 1940, also on reports of construction cost by individual construction contractors in a representative group of localities not issuing permits]

No. 1045. VACANCY RATES—PERCENT DISTRIBUTION, BY REGIONS, AND BY INSIDE AND OUTSIDE STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS: 1950 TO 1960

[Rental vacancy rate is the relationship between vacant housing for rent and total rental supply. The rental supply comprises renter-occupied units, vacant units already rented and awaiting occupancy, and vacant units available for rent. Home-owner vacancy rate is the relationship between vacant housing for sale and total home-owner supply. The home-owner supply comprises owner-occupied units, vacant units already sold and awaiting occupancy, and vacant units available for sale. For composition of regions, see fig. 1, p. XII; for definition of standard metropolitan statistical areas, see headnote, table 10]

<sup>1</sup> "Occupied dwelling units" for 1940 and 1950 is not exactly same as "Families" for earlier years, but differences are so small as to be negligible. Count of families for 1900 and 1930 represents private families only; that for 1890, 1910, and 1920, includes small number of quasi-family groups which were counted as families in those years.
<sup>2</sup> Since population in private families was not tabulated separately for all years, population per occupied dwelling unit (or family) is based on total population (including population in quasi-households). See table 9, pp. 12, 13.

No. 1052. CONTRACT AND GROSS MONTHLY RENT OF RENTER-OCCUPIED NONFARM DWELLING UNITS: 1940, 1950, AND 1956

[In thousands. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Contract monthly rent is the rent at the time of enumeration, as contracted for by the renter, regardless of whether it includes furniture, heating fuel, electricity, cooking fuel, water, or other services sometimes supplied. Gross monthly rent is contract monthly rent plus the reported average monthly cost of utilities (electricity, gas, water) and other fuels (such as coal, oil, kerosene, and wood) if these items were paid for by the renter in addition to contract monthly rent. If furniture was included in the contract rent, the reported estimated rent of the dwelling unit without furniture was used for the computation rather than the contract rent]

<sup>1</sup> Value was obtained for each owner-occupied unit in 1- to 4-dwelling-unit structures. If the unit was in a structure that contained more than 1 dwelling unit, or a part of the structure was used for business purposes, value reported represented only that portion occupied by the owner and his household.

<sup>2</sup> Restricted to 1-dwelling-unit structures without business and with only 1 dwelling unit in property.

No. 1055. MORTGAGE STATUS OF NONFARM OWNER-OCCUPIED DWELLING UNITS:
1890 TO 1956

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. For 1940, 1950, and 1956, mortgage statistics are for owner-occupied dwelling units in 1- to 4-dwelling unit structures without business. An owner-occupied dwelling unit was reported as mortgaged if property on which it was located had an indebtedness in form of a mortgage or deed of trust, or if occupants had contract to purchase property. For 1920 and earlier, mortgage data are for owner-occupied units in all types of structures. Although types of units for which mortgage data were reported are not the same for all censuses, differences are not large enough to invalidate comparisons. ## Section 30

Manufactures

This section presents measures of the manufacturing segment of the economy and its component inputs and outputs. The input data include figures for establishments; employment and wages; raw materials, fuels, and energy consumed; plant and equipment expenditures; and water use. The output data include figures for value and quantity of production and shipments; and value added by manufacture. Both types of data are shown for manufacturing as a whole, for major product groups, and for specific selected products.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Manufactures conducted periodically by the Bureau of the Census; the same agency's Annual Survey of Manufactures; and its Current Industrial Reports (formerly Facts for Industry) series which present monthly, quarterly, or annual data on production, shipments, and stocks for particular commodities. Indexes of industrial production are presented monthly in the Federal Reserve Board's Federal Reserve Bulletin. Reports on current activities of industries, or current movements of individual commodities, are also compiled by such government agencies as Bureau of Labor Statistics, Agricultural Marketing Service, Business and Defense Services Administration, Fish and Wildlife Service, Tariff Commission, and Internal Revenue Service, and by private research or trade associations such as the American Iron and Steel Institute, the National Cannery Association, and the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

Data on financial operations and intercorporate relations of manufacturing corporations are collected from time to time by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Tariff Commission, and the Federal Trade Commission. Financial statistics for certain manufacturing industries in the form of balance sheets, profit and loss statements, analyses of sales and expenses, lists of subsidiaries, and types and amounts of security issues are summarized and published for the leading corporations that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Tariff Commission publishes commodity surveys which cover economic and competitive aspects of production, distribution, and international trade in selected important industries. Each survey deals with several products which are related because of the raw materials consumed, or competitive uses. The Federal Trade Commission has made several comprehensive studies of individual industries.

Censuses and annual surveys.—The first Census of Manufactures covered the year 1809 and a census was taken at 10-year intervals to 1899, with the exception of 1829. It was conducted at 5-year intervals from 1904 through 1919, and every second year from 1921 through 1939, but was suspended during the war period until the 1947 Census. A census covering the year 1954 was the first taken under present legislation which provides for a quinquennial Census of Manufactures. The most recent census covered the year 1958, for which preliminary data are presented in this section.

The Annual Survey of Manufactures was conducted for the first time in 1949 and carries forward, for the intercensal years, measures of manufacturing activity covered in detail by the quinquennial Census of Manufactures. It is designed to yield estimates of general statistics (employment, payrolls, value added by manufacture, inventories, and new capital expenditures) for industry groups, important individual industries, geographic divisions, States, and large standard metropolitan statistical areas. Cross-tabulations are provided for divisions, States, and selected standard metropolitan statistical areas by major industry groups.

The annual survey is based on a sample of about 50,000 of an approximate total of 300,000 manufacturing establishments. It comprises all large plants and a representative selection of the more numerous small plants. The large plants in the survey account for approximately two-thirds of total manufacturing employment in the United States. (Government-owned and -operated establishments are excluded.)

Establishments and classification.—The 1947, 1954, and 1958 Censuses of Manufactures covered operating manufacturing establishments as defined in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual issued by the Bureau of the Budget. Reports were required from all establishments employing one or more persons at any time during the census year. Each of the establishments tabulated was classified in one of the 461 manufacturing industries as defined by the Standard Industrial Classification system. This system defines an industry as a number of establishments producing a single product or a closely related group of products. An establishment is classified in a particular industry if its production of this product or product group exceeds in value its production of any other product group. In a few instances, the industry classification of an establishment is determined not only by its product group but also by the processes employed in making those products.

While some establishments produce only the products of the industry in which they are classified, it rarely happens that all the establishments in an industry specialize to that extent. The statistics on employment, payrolls, value added, inventories, and expenditures, therefore, reflect not only the primary activities of the establishments in that industry but also their activities of a secondary nature. For this reason the industry statistics usually cannot be directly related to statistics on the total shipments of products primary to that industry.

The 1947, 1954, and 1958 Censuses were conducted on an establishment basis. The term "establishment" signifies a single physical plant site or factory and is not necessarily identical with the business unit or company which consists of one or more establishments. A company operating establishments at more than one location is required to submit a separate report for each location. An establishment engaged in distinctly different lines of activity and maintaining separate payroll and inventory records is also required to submit separate reports.

In earlier Censuses of Manufactures, establishments having less than $5,000 value of products were designated as outside the scope of the census. The change in the minimum size limit in 1947 (employment of one person) as compared with 1939 has not appreciably affected the comparability for these two years, except for data on number of establishments for a few industries.

The basic statistical measures of manufacturing activity, such as employment, payrolls, value added, etc., are defined in essentially the same way for the annual surveys as for the census of manufactures. Consequently, these series may be considered to be comparable. However, beginning with 1949, average employment was calculated from the figures reported for the pay periods ending nearest the fifteenth of March, May, August, and November, whereas for 1947 such averages were based on 12 monthly employment figures. The 1954 figures are an average of reported employment totals for the four specified months, except for highly seasonal industries, where a 12-month average was obtained. For 1958, averages of employment for the four specified months were used for all industries. Further, 1947 figures exclude data for central administrative offices and auxiliary establishments of manufacturing concerns, which are included in the statistics for later years. Employment data shown for administrative and auxiliary units were obtained from employer reports for mid-March to the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance for the years 1949 to 1953; for 1954 and 1958 such data were obtained during the census directly from each manufacturing firm.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as “See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series P 1-8”) provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Technical Note—Annual Survey of Manufactures

The annual survey estimates vary from the totals that would have been obtained from a complete canvass of all manufacturing establishments. The relative magnitude of this sampling variation is given in the table column captioned “Standard error.” The standard error should be interpreted to mean that the sample estimates will differ from complete canvass totals by less than: (1) The percentage shown in approximately 2 cases out of 3; (2) twice the percentage shown in approximately 19 cases out of 20; and (3) three times the percentage shown in almost every case. The standard error percentages shown were computed for 1957 data. It should be noted that standard errors are shown only for selected items. The standard errors of other measures are usually of the same general magnitude.

In making any study of the trend, it is important to take account of the effect of the sampling variation on the apparent increase or decrease shown between years. In addition to sampling errors, individual figures may be subject to biases arising from undetected response or procedural errors which are not reflected in the “standard errors.” Figures are normally withheld from publication in the original source volumes if (1) the standard error of the estimate exceeds 15 percent, or (2) survey estimates are inconsistent with other Census series and related data. Any estimate which can be derived by subtraction of one published figure from another may have a standard error considerably in excess of 15 percent.

<sup>1</sup> Includes data for employees of manufacturing establishments engaged in distribution and construction work. Extent to which data for such employees were included in figures for earlier years is not known. Beginning 1950, includes administrative offices, and units auxiliary to manufacturing.

<sup>2</sup> Data for all industries in 1949-1953, 1955-1957, and for most industries in 1954 are based on pay periods ending nearest 15th of March, May, Aug., and Nov. For 1947 and industries of a seasonal type in 1954, data represent average of 12 monthly figures; for earlier years, sum of average number of production workers for year and number of nonproduction workers reported for 1 payroll period (usually in October).

<sup>4</sup> For 1958, includes establishments engaged in manufacturing Portland cement concrete manufactured and delivered to a purchaser in a plastic and unhardened state. For 1954, such establishments were not classified in manufacturing; therefore, figures for 1954 and 1958 are not strictly comparable.

<sup>6</sup> Manufacturing concerns often reported separately for central offices or auxiliaries which serve the manufacturing establishments of a company, rather than the general public. Separate reports were obtained from such units if at a different location or if they serviced more than one establishment.

No. 1072. PERCENT OF TOTAL SHIPMENTS MADE BY LARGE MANUFACTURING COMPANIES IN SELECTED INDUSTRIES: 1947 AND 1954

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. First 45 industries as determined by value of shipments in 1954. A "company" comprises all manufacturing establishments owned by the company plus those of subsidiaries or affiliates over which the company has acknowledged control. Percents were computed by adding together all establishments classified in the specified industry under common ownership; selecting the largest 4, largest 8, and largest 20 companies in each industry on basis of value of shipments of all products made by these establishments; and using these values of shipments of the companies as numerator, and total value of shipments of the industry as denominator. Top 4, 8, and 20 companies not necessarily identical for each year. Value of shipments includes transfers of products between manufacturing establishments of same company (interplant transfers). "N. e. c." means not elsewhere classified. Industries and code numbers listed are as defined in Bureau of the Budget, Standard Industrial Classification Manual, as amended]

<sup>1</sup> Comprises for all manufacturing establishments classified in an industry (a) value of products "primary" to the industry, (b) value of "secondary" products, which are primary to other industries, and (c) "miscellaneous receipts" such as those for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and salable refuse, repair, etc. Excludes sales of products bought and resold in same condition. 1947 figures for some industries reflect minor revisions.

<sup>2</sup> Measures extent to which establishments classified in an industry "specialize" in making products regarded as primary to the industry. That is, value of shipments of primary products of establishments in the industry is expressed as a ratio of total shipments of all products made by these establishments (excluding "miscellaneous receipts," such as those for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and salable refuse, repair, etc.). 1947 ratios for some industries reflect minor revisions.

<sup>3</sup> Measures extent to which all shipments of primary products of an industry are made by plants classified in the industry, as distinguished from secondary producers elsewhere. That is, value of shipments of primary products made by plants classified in the industry is expressed as a ratio of total shipments of primary products made by all producers, both in and out of the specified industry. 1947 ratios for some industries reflect minor revisions.

<sup>4</sup> Value added by manufacture used as basis for making calculations because of large amount of duplication resulting from use of products of some establishments in the industry as materials by other establishments in the same industry.

<sup>9</sup> Comparable data not available. In 1947, Industry 2613, Building Paper and Board Mills, combined with Industry 2612, Paper and Board Mills.

<sup>10</sup> Includes Vinegar and Cider Mills, and Liquid, Frozen, and Dried Eggs processors, for which figures were published separately in 1947.

<sup>11</sup> Comparable data not available due to significant revisions in 1947 classification of plants or products.

<sup>12</sup> For 1947, includes multi-unit bakeries producing baked goods at each location for sale through a retail outlet at the same location; excluded for 1954.

<sup>13</sup> Comparable data not available. In 1947, Industry 2820, Organic Chemicals, n. e. c., included Industry 2822, Intermediate Coal-Tar Products.

<sup>15</sup> In 1947, Industry 2811, Sulfuric Acid, combined with Industry 2819, Inorganic Chemicals, n. e. c.; separate figures tabulated for 1954. Specialization ratio and coverage ratio for combined industries for 1947 were 87 and 80, respectively.

<sup>16</sup> Industry 3321, Gray-Iron Foundries, includes in addition to commercial (jobbing) foundries, "captive" foundries at separate locations producing gray-iron castings for other plants of the same company. Accordingly, the ratios do not reflect market shares in the commercial foundry industry.

<sup>18</sup> Includes data for Industry 2335, Women's Suits and Coats, and Industry 2336, Women's Skirts; shown separately in 1947 and therefore comparable data not available.

No. 1076. VALUE OF MANUFACTURERS' INVENTORIES, BY MAJOR INDUSTRY GROUPS: 1954 TO 1957

[In millions of dollars. As of end of year. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. For 1954, small establishments (usually those with less than 6 employees) reported only their total beginning and end-of-year inventories. Their detailed inventory (on expenditure) figures were derived by prorating on basis of 1954 industry averages to obtain figures representing all establishments for 1954. Data for 1955-1957 based on sample and subject to sampling variation; see text, pp. 77 to 779.]

<sup>1</sup> Barrels of 31 wine gallons.<sup>2</sup> Prior to 1958, net production obtained by deducting total products used in redistillation from gross production of neutral product (spirits); thereafter, each kind of distilled spirits used in redistillation was deducted from gross production of same kind.<sup>3</sup> A tax gallon for spirits of 100 proof or over is equivalent to the proof gallon. For spirits of less than 100 proof the tax gallon is equivalent to the wine gallon. <sup>4</sup> Includes ethyl alcohol.<sup>5</sup> Production represents total amount removed from fermenters, including distilling material (substandard wines produced with excessive water or residue materials). In 1959, 356,490,745 gallons of distilling materials were produced. <sup>6</sup> Standard United States gallon.<sup>7</sup> Includes special natural wines.<sup>8</sup> Excludes distilling materials.<sup>9</sup> Includes champagne, other effervescent wines, and artificially carbonated wines.Source of tables 1082 and 1083: Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service; annual report, Statistics Relating to the Alcohol and Tobacco Industries, and records.

No. 1085. TOBACCO PRODUCTS—PRODUCTION AND AMOUNT OF LEAF TOBACCO CONSUMED IN MANUFACTURE: 1921 TO 1958

[Data relate to products manufactured in coterminous U.S. and exclude tobacco used in bonded manufacturing warehouses. Leaf tobacco figures represent the equivalent in unstemmed leaf tobacco of stemmed leaf or scraps, cuttings, and clippings. Tobacco used in the manufacture of cigars and cigarettes converted on the basis of 3 pounds of stemmed leaf or scraps, etc., to 4 pounds of unstemmed. For other conversion ratios, see source. <sup>1</sup> Beginning 1946, represents all spindles in place regardless of fiber spun; prior to 1946, represents all spindles in place used exclusively for spinning cotton.

<sup>3</sup> Actual weight. Imports for consumption beginning 1934, general imports prior thereto. For 1941 and earlier years, carpet wool includes only Donskoi, Smyrna, East Indian, Chinese, and similar wools without merino or English blood, and through 1933, includes camel hair; apparel wool includes all other wools. For 1942 and thereafter, carpet wool includes all duty-free wool and apparel wool includes all dutiable wool.

<sup>4</sup> For 1942-1943, excludes a total of 506 million pounds of duty-free wool imported and stored in this country largely for the British Government, and later re-exported; not available to domestic mills.

<sup>7</sup> Beginning 1955, excludes quantities produced and consumed in manufacture of methanol and ammonia, produced by ammonia dissociation process, or disposed of as waste, e.g., vented, used as fuel, etc.

<sup>12</sup> Liquid production figures represent total production for electrolytic and lime soda processes, including quantities evaporated to dry caustic.

<sup>14</sup> Prior to 1958, includes amounts produced and consumed in making meta-ortho, and sesquisulfates; beginning 1958, excludes these amounts.

<sup>15</sup> Includes sulfuric acid of oleum grades.

Distribution and Services

This section presents statistics relating to retail, wholesale, and service trades. The data are shown for the distribution trades classified by kind of business and for the different categories of services (personal, business, repair, amusement, hotel, etc.) and cover sales or receipts, establishments, employees, payrolls, proprietors, and other items. A number of tables are also included on advertising expenditures.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Business conducted periodically by the Bureau of the Census and the same agency's reports resulting from its annual and monthly surveys. Other important government sources devoted to particular aspects of the distribution and service trades are the monthly Federal Reserve Bulletin (department store data) issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and the monthly Survey of Current Business (retail sales, sales and inventories of wholesalers, consumer expenditures for services, etc.) issued by the Office of Business Economics. Financial data for tax-filing and securities-listed corporations engaged in retail, wholesale, or service trades appear in the annual Statistics of Income published by the Internal Revenue Service and are also available from the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Federal Trade Commission, in the course of its investigations, also collects operating statistics on firms and chains in various kinds of business.

Censuses and current surveys.—Censuses of Business have been taken at intervals since 1929. The 1954 census was the first taken under present legislation which provides for a quinquennial Census of Business. The latest census covers the year 1958.

Current sample surveys of the Bureau of the Census are conducted with varying scope for the retail and wholesale trades. The Bureau compiles monthly reports of the dollar volume of retail sales by kinds of business, showing national and regional estimates, and trends in selected large metropolitan areas. These appear in the Monthly Retail Trade Report. Annual figures on sales, inventories, and receivables, classified by kind of business, are presented in the Annual Retail Trade Report.

Statistics from the Bureau's wholesale trade survey, which is conducted monthly, present national dollar volume estimates of merchant wholesalers' sales by kind of business, as well as sales and inventory trends and stock-sales ratios, by kind of business and by geographic divisions. These data appear in the Monthly Wholesale Trade Report and are based on reports submitted by a sample of firms representing merchant wholesalers in all kinds of businesses. Monthly estimates of aggregate sales and inventories of all wholesalers are prepared by the Office of Business Economics and published in the Survey of Current Business.

The Bureau of the Census also compiles and issues current information on distributor stocks of various canned foods and on inventories of green coffee held and green coffee roasted by roasters, importers, and dealers (see tables 1080 and 1187).

Estimates obtained from the annual and monthly surveys are based on sample data, and exact agreement is not expected with the results that would be obtained from a complete census of all establishments. Measures of the sampling variability are shown in the source reports cited; these measures do not include biases which might arise from differences of response or nonreporting.

Establishments and coverage.—The business establishments covered in the fields included in the Census of Business may be generally described as follows:

Retail trade.—Places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal, household, or farm consumption;

Wholesale trade.—Establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and

Service.—Establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise.

Certain types of businesses, broadly defined, generally are not included in the Census of Business. Outstanding in this group are the business activities of doctors, lawyers, dentists, and others performing a professional or scientific service, educational institutions, religious or charitable institutions, hospitals and infirmaries, public utilities, and government-operated enterprises.

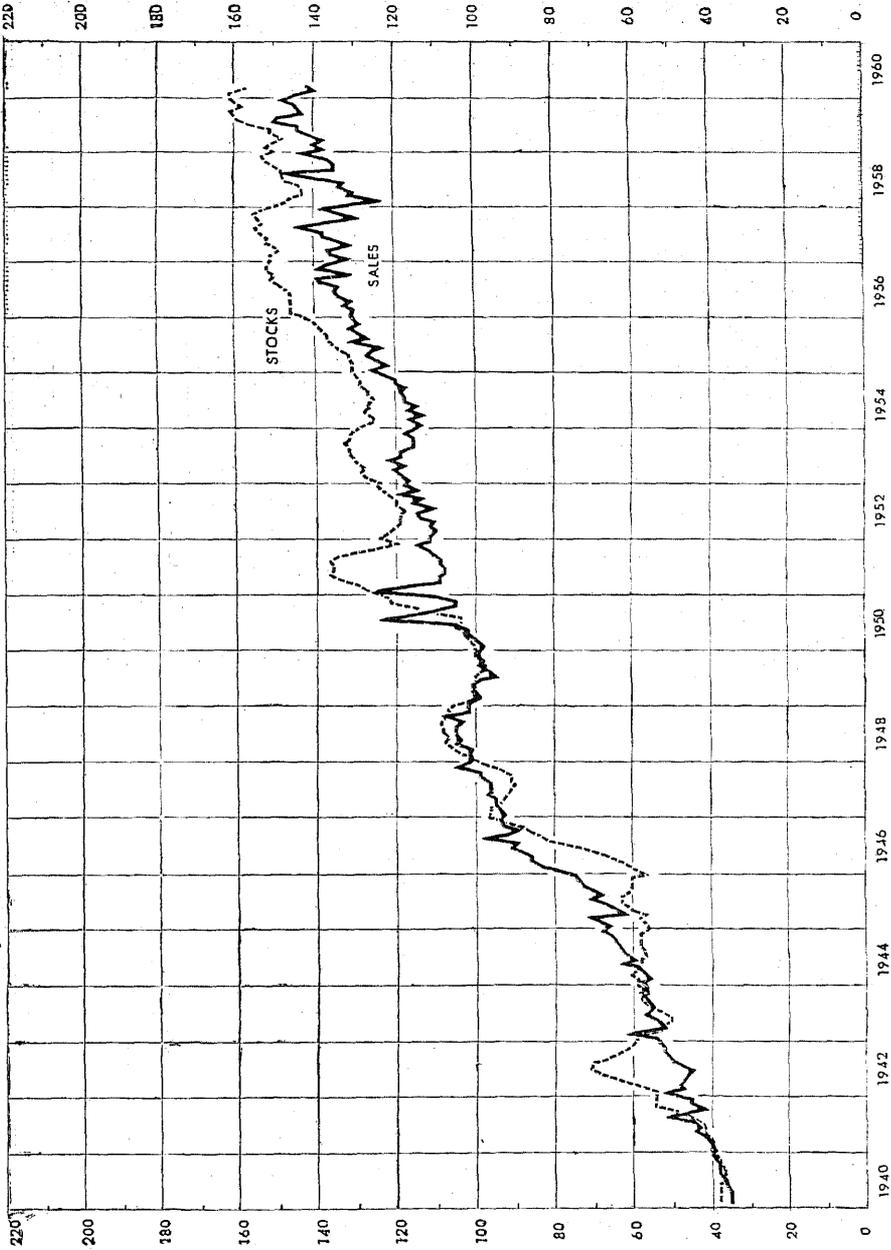

Data on retail and service trades from the 1954 and 1958 censuses exclude establishments with no paid employment which had receipts of less than $2,500 and $1,000 for retail trade and service trades, respectively. Wholesale trade establishments with no paid employment were excluded.

Advertising.—Statistics shown here on advertising expenditures are compiled by private organizations. McCann-Erickson, Inc., which compiles certain of the data shown on advertising expenditures, defines national advertising as that advertising done for companies whose products are distributed nationally, and for which national media rates are paid. Local advertising is defined as advertising done for companies which market their products locally and may pay special "local" media rates. Monthly figures are published regularly in Printers' Ink, and also by the Department of Commerce in the Survey of Current Business.

Alaska and Hawaii.—For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see preface.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes (as "See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series T 1-11") provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Section 32

Foreign Commerce and Aid

This section presents measures of the flow of goods, precious metals, services, and funds between the United States and other countries. These measures appear in summary in the balance of payments and in detail as dollar values of imports and exports of merchandise or commodities classified by countries of their origin or destination. Related aspects also shown are international investments, mutual security and other foreign aid programs, and import duties.

The Office of Business Economics compiles and publishes current figures on the U.S. balance of payments and international investment position in its monthly Survey of Current Business, and on total foreign aid by the Federal Government in its quarterly Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government. Figures for earlier periods are presented in Balance of Payments—Statistical Supplement, 1958. Statistics for the mutual security programs are compiled by the International Cooperation Administration and appear in its quarterly report Mutual Security Fund Allocations to International Cooperation Administration.

The principal sources of import and export data are publications of the Bureau of the Census. The Quarterly Summary of Foreign Commerce of the United States presents cumulative quarterly data in each issue (annual data in the issue for the last quarter of each year). For a complete list of this Bureau's monthly, quarterly, and annual reports in this field, consult its Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Publications. In addition, the Treasury Department's Annual Report of the Secretary is a helpful source for information concerning import duties.

International accounts and foreign aid.—The balance of payments table shows for given time periods the transfer of goods, services, grants, and financial assets and liabilities between the United States and the rest of the world or between the United States and a specific country or area.

The international investment position table presents for specific dates the value of U.S. investments abroad and of foreign investments in the United States. The movement of foreign and U.S. capital as presented in the balance of payments is not the only factor affecting the total value of foreign investments. Among the other factors are: Changes in the valuation of assets or liabilities, including securities; defaults; expropriations; write-offs; and reinvested earnings of subsidiaries operating abroad and of foreign subsidiaries operating in the United States.

Foreign aid consists of grants (military supplies and services, and other grants), and credits. Grants or unilateral transactions are transfers of goods, services, or cash (dollars or foreign currencies) for which payment is not expected or has not been specified. Credits are loans of dollars or foreign currencies, or transfers of goods or services, under agreements which give rise to specific obligations to repay or return the equivalent, over a period of years, usually with interest. In some instances, assistance has been given with the understanding that a decision as to repayment will be made at a later date; such assistance at that time is included in grants. At such time as an agreement is reached for repayment, a credit is established. Such credits cannot, as a rule, be deducted from specific grants recorded in previous periods; therefore, an adjustment for grants converted into credits is made at the time of the agreement. All known returns to the U.S. Government stemming from grants and credits (reverse grants, returns of grants, and payments of principal) are taken into account in net grants and net credits. Interest and commissions are excluded.

Figures as published in Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government are not identical to figures for Government unilateral transfers and capital published in the balance of payments, mainly because of differences in treatment of particular items by the two sets of accounts. Such items include: Contributions to the multilateral construction program of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; disbursements and collections under guarantees extended by the Export-Import Bank; Government investments in certain productive enterprises abroad and Government capital contributions to international organizations; and pensions, claims payments, and similar transfers.

Sale of U.S. agricultural commodities for foreign currencies is a comparatively recent development. The funds thereby obtained by the United States are used to finance military or other grants and credits for the purchasing countries or other countries or to pay U.S. obligations abroad, to purchase strategic materials, etc. Since the foreign countries do not have to use their dollar or other exchange resources for the agricultural commodities from the United States, they therefore receive temporary assistance which can be measured by the extent that the U.S. Government increases its holdings of foreign currencies or receivables. These changes in holdings or receivables (short-term claims) comprise the greater part of the Government short-term capital movements in the balance of payments in recent years.

The basic instrument for extending military aid to friendly nations has been the Mutual Defense Assistance Program authorized by the Congress in 1949. Prior to 1952, economic and technical aid was authorized by the Congress in the Foreign Assistance Act of 1948 and the 1950 Act for International Development, and by other legislation which set up programs for specific countries (e.g., Korea, Nationalist Government of China, etc.). In 1952, these economic, technical, and military aid programs were combined under the Mutual Security Act. Figures on mutual security program activity included in Foreign Grants and Credits differ from similar data published by the International Cooperation Administration, due largely to differences in method of reporting and differences in treatment of particular items.

Foreign trade.—Export data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from Shippers' Export Declarations which exporters are required to file with Collectors of Customs for each shipment leaving the United States. Export data include shipments made after World War II under the Department of the Army Civilian Supply Program only for 1948 and subsequent years. In addition, export data include United States exports under the Lend-Lease, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, Economic Cooperation Administration, Mutual Defense Assistance, and other mutual security programs. Shipments to United States Armed Forces for their own use are not included in export statistics for any period.

Export value figures are based on the selling price (or on the cost, if not sold) of the commodity shipped and include inland freight, insurance, and other charges to place of export. Transportation and other costs beyond the United States port of exportation are excluded. The country of destination is defined as the country of ultimate destination or country where the merchandise is to be consumed, further processed, or manufactured. In the event the exporter does not have definite information as to the country of ultimate destination for a shipment, it is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country to which it is consigned.

Certain export commodity classifications were grouped for security reasons into special categories beginning with May 1949, with periodic amendments to include additional commodities. With the adoption of new security regulations, effective July 1950, the publication of the country of destination and Customs District detail for the special category commodities and groups was discontinued. Data for special category commodities are included, however, in all total export statistics.

Shipments individually valued at less than $100 are not classified by commodity, but are reported in a single separate category. Effective with the statistics for July 1953 and continuing through December 1955, data for export shipments individually valued from $100 to $499 (about 4 to 6 percent of the total export value) were estimated on the basis of a 10-percent sample. From January through June 1956, the 10-percent sample was applied to shipments individually valued from $100 to $999 but, effective July 1956, the level was reduced to the previous level of $499. Unless otherwise noted, the margin of error in individual export totals due to sampling is probably less than 5 percent.

Import data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from import entries (various Customs forms) which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs for each shipment arriving. Import values are, in general, based on market or selling price and are f.o.b. the exporting country. Values do not include import duties. The country of origin is defined as the country in which the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. If the importer cannot obtain information as to the country of origin, it is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country of shipment.

Imports are classified either as general imports or imports for consumption. General imports represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for in-transit shipments), that is, merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into a bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. Imports for consumption comprise merchandise entered into U.S. consumption channels, that is, merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into a bonded manufacturing warehouse (other than smelting or refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from a bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in a bonded smelting warehouse, withdrawn for consumption or for reexport.

Beginning 1954, estimates of imports valued at $250 or less (about 1 percent of total import value) are based on a 5-percent sample; and beginning 1958, estimates of imports valued under $100 reported on formal consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (limited to $250) are based on a 1-percent sample. These estimated import values are included in the over-all totals and are distributed in the proper country totals but are excluded from detailed commodity statistics. For 1954-1957, the estimated values are also distributed in the appropriate commodity group, economic class, and district totals; beginning 1958, the estimates are summarized and arbitrarily included in the totals for the "miscellaneous" commodity group and the "finished manufactures" economic class. As a result of the change in the sampling procedure in 1958, the 1958 and 1959 import values for customs districts, commodity groups (except miscellaneous), and economic classes (except finished manufactures) are probably understated by no more than 5 percent; figures for "miscellaneous" commodity group are probably overstated by no more than from 10 to 15 percent, and for "finished manufactures" by no more than about 1 percent.

Details concerning the sampling procedures appear in the Quarterly Summary of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, Report FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, and Report FT 410, United States Exports of Domestic and Foreign Merchandise.

Except as noted, the values stated are in United States dollars without reference to changes in the gold content of the dollar.

Area coverage.—The geographic area covered by these statistics, except as noted, is the United States customs area, which includes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, and for 1935 through 1939, the Virgin Islands. For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for Alaska and Hawaii, see also preface. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

[In millions of dollars. For grand totals, see table 1171. Grants and credits are generally goods delivered or shipped by, services rendered by, or funds disbursed by U. S. Government to or for account of a foreign government or other foreign entity. "Reverse grants and returns" and "Principal collections" are comprised of goods, services, and funds received by U. S. Government. "Funds" includes foreign currency which, with goods and services, is measured in dollar equivalents]

<sup>3</sup> Net new grants have not been adjusted for settlements for postwar relief and other grants under agreements and net new credits exclude these prior grants converted into credits. Prior grants converted into credits were as follows (in millions): For July 1945 to December 1952, France, $353; Netherlands, $47; Norway, $6; United Kingdom, $56; Yugoslavia, $1; U.S.S.R., $222; Iran, $9; India, $2; China, $50; unspecified American Republics, $2; and less than $0.5 for Australia and Ethiopia. For 1953, Germany, $1,000. For 1956, unspecified American Republics, $1. Repayments on these settlements are included in net new credits. Technically, prior grants converted into credits for U.S.S.R. and China are so recorded for statistical convenience, as settlements are still to be reached with those Governments.

<sup>4</sup> These "loans" are essentially transfers on an indeterminate basis, generally requiring only the return of the identical item, if available. In essence, this was the requirement pertaining to wartime lend-lease transfers of aircraft, which were included as grant transfers in these data.

<sup>7</sup> Outstanding credits on Dec. 31, 1959, totaled $12,621,000,000, representing net credits extended since organization of Export-Import Bank, Feb. 12, 1934, less charge offs ($17,000,000), and excluding World War I debts and U.S. Government investment in Inter-American Development Bank, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, International Finance Corporation, and International Monetary Fund.

No. 1177. MUTUAL SECURITY PROGRAM—DEVELOPMENT LOAN FUND: LOANS APPROVED AND LOANS SIGNED, BY REGION AND COUNTRY: 1958 AND 1959

[In thousands of dollars. For years ending June 30. The Development Loan Fund was established by Congress in 1957 and incorporated as an independent agency in 1958, subject to the foreign policy guidance of the Secretary of State, to provide financing for economic development in the less developed countries of the world. "Loans approved" represent actions by the DLF Board of Directors to establish loans subject to acceptance of terms and conditions by borrowers; funds are set aside at time of approval. Following acceptance, individual loan agreements are negotiated, and when signed by borrowers and the DLF, recorded as formal obligations]

<sup>1</sup> Values are included in "Undistributed" for programs and deliveries which remain classified because of inter-governmental agreement or because of their sensitive nature.

<sup>2</sup> Negative amounts. "Deliveries" represent net withdrawals, during the period, of equipment and supplies previously reported as delivered. "Programs" represent amounts by which programs exceed funds, and are financed with funds of prior years which become available or are anticipated to become available because of price adjustments or programming changes prior to delivery.

No. 1190. EXPORTS OF U.S. MERCHANDISE AND IMPORTS—INDEXES OF QUANTITY, UNIT VALUE (PRICE), AND TOTAL VALUE: 1941 TO 1959

[1923-25 average=100. For area coverage, see text, p. 865. Quantity and unit value indexes were constructed on a preceding year base and chained into the series shown below. The calculations were made in accordance with Fisher's "ideal formula," using both the weights of the given year and those of the preceding (or base) year. Commodities not directly entering the calculations were taken into account in the weighting, within the several economic classes of merchandise, on the basis of certain assumptions regarding similarity of their price movements to price changes of selected commodities specifically provided. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series U 21-44]

<sup>9</sup> Data by area for petroleum and "all other" exports and for most of the import commodities do not add exactly to totals shown owing to limitations of the available estimates for low-valued merchandise.

<sup>10</sup> Totals exclude $33 million included in figures for the different areas and commodities. Changes in compiling procedures of import data necessitated adjustments in the total, area, and commodity figures. Similar adjustments have not been made in tables 1190 and 1198.

<sup>13</sup> Includes a few items not classed as agricultural, especially distilled spirits, imported chiefly from United Kingdom and Canada, which were valued at $163 million in 1957, $180 million in 1958 and $201 million in 1959.

No. 1193. EXPORTS (INCLUDING REEXPORTS) AND IMPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, BY SELECTED CUSTOMS DISTRICTS: 1901 TO 1959

[In millions of dollars. Represents volume of trade handled. For basis of dollar values, see text, p. 865. Figures cover fiscal years through 1915; thereafter, calendar years. Import data are "general imports" through 1933; "imports for consumption" thereafter. Areas of districts were rearranged July 1, 1913. Prior to that date some of the districts were more restricted. In most cases this change only slightly affects the comparability of the figures. Prior to 1914 the statistics given in the table for Buffalo include the (former) districts of Buffalo Creek and Niagara; those for Michigan include the (former) districts of Superior, Huron, and Detroit; and those for Massachusetts and Maryland were the former districts of Boston and Baltimore, respectively]

<sup>2</sup> Sampling error is not greater than 15 to 20 percent.

<sup>5</sup> Country designations established January 1952; data for 1950 represent combined trade with East and West Germany.

<sup>6</sup> Effective January 1950, exports of Special Category commodities are not reported by country of destination, for security reasons. Therefore, data in this table do not represent total exports to the respective countries and areas, but total exports less Special Category commodities. See July 1955, June, August, and December 1957, and April 1958 issues of Foreign Trade Statistics Notes for further explanation and lists of Special Category commodities.

<sup>7</sup> Sampling error is not greater than $4,000 to $6,000.

<sup>8</sup> Sampling error is not greater than 5 to 10 percent.

No. 1197. IMPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, FREE AND DUTIABLE, AND PERCENT FREE, BY ECONOMIC CLASSES: 1901 TO 1959

[In thousands of dollars. For years ending June 30 through 1915; calendar years thereafter, except as noted. For basis of dollar values and for area coverage, see text, p. 865. Date are "general imports" through 1933; "imports for consumption" beginning 1934. Percentage free in general imports is normally slightly lower than in imports for consumption because relatively more of dutiable general imports are reported as reexported than of free general imports. Moreover, in the period 1922-1933, there is an understatement of free goods in general imports because for 1922 to 1933, carpet wool used for making carpets, and for 1922 to 1928, wheat imported for milling in bond for exports were reported as dutiable when entered, although no duty was ultimately paid on these products.]

Section 33

Outlying Areas Under the Jurisdiction of the United States

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the principal possessions of the United States (Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa), and the Canal Zone. Although figures for the 2 new States, Alaska and Hawaii, are still included in this section, they relate, except in a few instances, to periods during which both were officially organized as Territories. For a general statement concerning the treatment of data for the new States, see preface.

Primary sources of these data are the decennial censuses of population, housing, and agriculture, and the quinquennial censuses of business and manufactures conducted by the Bureau of the Census; the annual Vital Statistics of the United States issued by the National Office of Vital Statistics; the Biennial Survey of Education published by the Office of Education; and the Quarterly Summary of Foreign Commerce of the United States and United States Trade with Puerto Rico and with United States Possessions issued by the Bureau of the Census. Additional information also appears in the Minerals Yearbook of the Bureau of Mines, and the Statistical Yearbook published by the Bureau of Economics and Statistics of the Puerto Rico Planning Board.

Jurisdiction.—The circumstances under which the United States gained jurisdiction over these areas are as follows:

Alaska was acquired by purchase from Russia in 1867 and was organized as a Territory in 1912. On January 3, 1959, Alaska was admitted to the Union as the 49th State.

Hawaii, by voluntary action, ceded its sovereignty to the United States in 1898 and was organized as a Territory on June 14, 1900. On August 21, 1959, Hawaii was admitted to the Union as the 50th State.

The islands of Puerto Rico and Guam were surrendered by Spain to the United States in October 1898, and were ceded to the United States by the Treaty of Paris, signed December 10, 1898, and ratified in the following year. Puerto Rico acquired the status of a commonwealth on July 25, 1952.

The Virgin Islands, formerly known as the Danish West Indies, were acquired by the United States by purchase from Denmark in 1917.

American Samoa was acquired by the United States in accordance with a convention between the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, signed December 2, 1899, and ratified February 16, 1900.

The use, occupation, and control of the Canal Zone were granted to the United States under the terms of a treaty with the Republic of Panama, signed November 18, 1903, and ratified in the following year.

For a brief summary of the territorial development of the United States, see tables 4 and 204 in sections 1 and 6, respectively.

Censuses.—As a result of the differences in the population and housing characteristics and the varieties of agricultural products among the outlying areas, the presentation of census data is not uniform for all areas. However, the tables in this section give, as nearly as possible, comparable data for the areas. The 1950 Census of Population covered all of the places listed above; the 1950 Census of Agriculture covered all except the Canal Zone; the 1950 Census of Housing covered only Alaska, Hawaii,

Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The 1954 and 1958 Censuses of Business, Manufactures, and Mineral Industries covered establishments operated in Alaska and Hawaii. Separate Censuses of Business and Manufactures were also conducted in Puerto Rico for 1954 and 1958. Figures from the 1959 Census of Agriculture, taken as of October 1, and the 1960 Censuses of Population and Housing, taken as of April 1, were not available when material for this section was organized and sent to the printer. Figures from the Puerto Rico Census of Business for 1958 also were not available.

For definition and explanation of terms used, see section 1, Population; section 24, Agriculture—General Statistics; section 25, Agriculture—Production and Related Subjects; section 29, Construction and Housing; section 30, Manufactures; and section 31, Distribution and Services.

Commerce.—Figures for trade with foreign countries shown here represent exports and imports through the respective customs districts and do not necessarily represent exports of commodities originating within the designated area, commonwealth, or possession, nor imports for direct consumption within the area, commonwealth, or possession.

Information in other sections.—In addition to the specialized statistics presented in this section, other data are included as integral parts of many tables showing distribution by States in various sections of the Abstract.

<sup>1</sup> Year beginning January 1. Sugarcane harvested is from growth of 18–24 months; only a portion of total acreage in cane is harvested each year; harvest takes place throughout year with short recess at end of year.

<sup>3</sup> About ¼ of the crop is 18 months' growth and ¾ is 12 months' growth; grinding begins in January; beginning 1953, some acreage not harvested, to comply with government restrictions.

Section 34

Comparative International Statistics

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the various individual nations.

The principal source for the data presented in this section is the United Nations Statistical Yearbook. Statistics of the individual nations may be found primarily in the official publications or compendia, generally in the form of yearbooks, issued by most of the nations at various intervals in their own national languages, expressed in their own or customary units of measure. For handier reference, especially for international comparisons, the Statistical Office of the United Nations compiles and issues a number of international summary publications, generally in English and French. Among these are the Statistical Yearbook, the Demographic Yearbook, Population and Vital Statistics Reports (quarterly), and the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics. The Statistical Office of the United Nations also publishes a Yearbook of International Trade Statistics and the Yearbook of National Accounts Statistics. For foreign agricultural and labor statistics, the outstanding sources are the Yearbook of Food and Agricultural Statistics issued by the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the Yearbook of Labour Statistics, issued by the International Labour Office; both are affiliated agencies of the United Nations. These publications usually present data covering an extensive period of time, frequently up to 20 years. The International Population Statistics Reports, Series P-90 and P-91, issued by the Bureau of the Census also present population figures for many foreign countries.

Statistical coverage.—Problems of space and availability of data limit the number of countries and the extent of statistical coverage shown here. The list of countries included is based on the membership rosters of the United Nations and of the larger specialized agencies affiliated with the United Nations (see table 1237). In a few instances, such member countries were omitted because of an almost complete lack of data.

Statistics are shown for a standardized list of countries. No attempt was made to alter the list according to the relative standing or significance of each country with respect to each specific subject item shown. In consequence, there may be instances, with respect to certain items shown, in which one or more of the countries omitted from the list are more important, statistically, than some of the countries included. Cases of this kind are believed to be infrequent.

The items selected for presentation here are believed to be among those most significant. However, certain important items, such as those on national income, are omitted because of the inability to convert the available statistics, stated in terms of the national currencies, to meaningful consistency in United States measures. Finally, items for which figures are available for a large number of countries were favored over items for which information is scanty, in order to broaden the scope of comparison as much as possible.

Quality and comparability of the data.—The quality and the comparability of the data presented here are affected by a number of factors:

(1) The year for which data are presented may not be the same for various subjects for a particular country, or for a given subject for different countries, though the data shown are the most recent available. All such variations have been noted (see table headnotes). In most instances, the data shown are for calendar years. In a number of cases, however, the 12-month totals shown do not correspond with the calendar year. Space limitations made it impracticable to present the data for a series of years except for the figures on population, agriculture, and gold and foreign exchange holdings.

(2) The bases, methods of estimating, methods of data collection, extent of coverage, precision of definition, scope of territory, and margins of error may vary for different items within a particular country, and for like items for different countries. Footnotes and headnotes to the tables give some of the qualifications attached to the figures. Limits of space made necessary some condensation and editing of the more detailed notes appearing in the source. Therefore, careful analysis is required since, at best, many of the measures shown are merely rough indicators of magnitude.

(3) Figures shown in this section for the United States may not always agree with figures shown in the preceding sections. Such differences may be attributable to the use of differing original sources, a difference in the definition of geographic limits (conterminous United States only, or including Alaska and Hawaii or certain outlying areas and possessions), or to possible adjustments made in the United States figures by the United Nations in order to improve their comparability with figures from other countries.

Conversion factors.—To facilitate comparison in terms of familiar units, items shown in metric units in the source have been converted to U. S. equivalents by means of the conversion factors given in the Statistical Yearbook and shown below. Further conversion factors are presented in Appendix II, Weights and Measures, p. 955.

No. 1223. AREA AND POPULATION

[For many countries, figures are provisional. Basis and level of reliability of population estimates range from use of a continuous population register (Scandinavian countries) and census enumerations for a recent date (most countries) to noncensal counts or partial censuses (Indonesia, Lebanon, Syria, Viet-Nam), and conjectural estimates derived by other means than counting (Ethiopia, Liberia, and Saudi Arabia). Data, in general, refer to present-in-area population of the present territory. Area generally includes inland waters. See text, p. 924, for general comments concerning quality of the data.]

No. 1224. VITAL STATISTICS AND NET FOOD SUPPLY

[Crude birth rates, infant mortality rates, and death rates derived from data having complete or virtually complete coverage for many countries and incomplete coverage for others. For many countries, data are known to be by year of registration rather than by year of occurrence. Crude birth rate: Number of live births per 1,000 persons. Crude death rate: Number of deaths, exclusive of stillbirths, per 1,000 persons. Infant mortality rate: Deaths of infants under 1 year of age per 1,000 live births. Data exclude stillbirths. Expectation of life: Average future lifetime (in years) of persons at birth, if subject to mortality conditions of period indicated. Net food supply: Net supply of foodstuffs, other than alcoholic beverages, available within the country for human consumption. See text, p. 924, for general comments concerning quality of the data. Years for which data are shown may vary from column to column and from country to country. Figures which are not for the year shown in the "year" column are prefixed by a letter to indicate the year represented as follows: a represents 1958; b, 1957; c, 1956; d, 1955; e, 1954; f, 1953; g, 1952; h, 1951; i, 1950; j, 1949]

No. 1226. INDUSTRIAL ORIGIN OF GROSS DOMESTIC PRODUCT (PERCENT DISTRIBUTION)

[Data relate to gross domestic product at factor cost, unless otherwise specified. Estimates are not fully uniform from country to country in items of income covered and industrial classifications used. Some of the major differences are indicated in footnotes below. In general, "Trade" covers wholesale and retail distribution; "Transport and communications" includes utilities; "Public administration and defense" includes administration, defense, justice, and police, but not public enterprises nor other services which are classified under relevant industry; "All other" comprises finance, insurance, ownership of dwellings, and personal and other services. See text, p. 924, for general comments concerning quality of the data]

<sup>41</sup> 7 years old and over. <sup>42</sup> Excludes unemployed. <sup>43</sup> Establishments with 5 or more engaged, gross value of production of 100,000 sucres or more, or value of fixed assets of 200,000 sucres.

<sup>48</sup> Based on a 5-percent sample of census returns. <sup>49</sup> Includes liquid fuel consumed in the Saar. <sup>50</sup> All privately owned establishments except coking and briquetting plants. <sup>51</sup> Includes Saar. <sup>52</sup> Establishments with 10 or more engaged. Includes stone quarrying; excludes coking and coal briquetting. <sup>53</sup> Excludes household industries. <sup>54</sup> Establishments with 3 or more operatives. <sup>55</sup> All publicly owned enterprises. Includes stone quarrying and water works. Excludes coal briquetting. <sup>56</sup> Excludes Kashmir-Jammu and tribal areas of Assam. Self-supporting persons. <sup>57</sup> Establishments in 20 selected industries with 20 or more employees and installed power equipment. <sup>58</sup> Establishments with 50 or more engaged or capacity of 5 or more h.p. of installed power equipment. <sup>59</sup> Excludes petroleum refining. <sup>60</sup> Establishments with 3 or more engaged and/or installed power equipment. <sup>61</sup> Establishments with 1 or more employees. Israel excludes abattoirs, repair services principally for the retail trades, petroleum refining, and ordnance manufacturing. <sup>62</sup> Excludes imports of crude oil for refinery at Haifa. <sup>63</sup> Includes Trieste. <sup>64</sup> 15 years old and over. <sup>1</sup> Excludes lignite and brown coal.

<sup>2</sup> Source presents data in metric tons. Conversion of data to barrels allows for differences in specific gravity of petroleum. Figures refer to crude petroleum including shale oil, but excluding natural gasoline.

<sup>3</sup> Covers, as far as possible, all hydraulic cements used for construction (portland, metallurgic, aluminous, natural, etc.).

<sup>5</sup> Data expressed in terms of pure (monohydrate) sulfuric acid and include sulfuric acid equivalent of oleum or "fuming" sulfuric acid. Excludes some small producers.

<sup>7</sup> Data represent apparent consumption (i.e., production plus imports minus exports) and do not take into account changes in stocks.

<sup>22</sup> Excludes the Saar (coal, 13,103,000 tons; cement, 373,000 tons; steel, 3,836,000 tons).

<sup>1</sup> In general, refers to production of milk (cow, sheep, goat, etc.) for consumption fresh or for conversion into butter, cheese, condensed milk, etc.

<sup>4</sup> Covers both sea and inland fisheries, in terms of live weight. Includes shellfish; excludes whales, dolphins, etc. Except as noted, includes quantities landed by domestic craft in foreign ports, and excludes quantities landed by foreign craft in domestic ports.

<sup>5</sup> In place as of July 31. Includes approximately 7 million spindles spinning rayon staple, mostly in the United Kingdom, the United States, India, and Italy.

<sup>1</sup> Figures relate to merchant fleets on June 30. They are given in gross registered tons (see text, p. 587). Only vessels of 100 gross tons and over are included. Excludes vessels without mechanical means of propulsion, but includes sailing vessels with auxiliary power. Excludes ships trading on Caspian Sea, not entered in Lloyd's register.

<sup>2</sup> In general, represents sum of net registered tonnages (see text, p. 587) of seagoing foreign and domestic merchant vessels (power and sailing) entered with cargo from a foreign port and refer to only one entrance for each foreign voyage. Excludes, if possible, "in ballast," i. e. entering without unloading goods.

<sup>3</sup> Represents weight of all goods (including their packing) in external trade loaded to and unloaded from seagoing vessels of all flags at ports of country in question. Excludes bunkers, ships' stores, ballast, and transshipment (goods transhipped from an importing vessel to an exporting vessel). Includes goods unloaded into or loaded from bonded warehouse.

<sup>4</sup> Relates to domestic and international traffic on all railway lines within each country shown except railways entirely within an urban unit and plantation, industrial, mining, funicular and cable railways. Passenger miles include all passengers except military, government, and railway personnel when carried without revenue; ton miles relate to freight net ton miles and include all goods whether carried by fast or ordinary trains except service traffic, mail, baggage and nonrevenue government stores.

<sup>5</sup> Covers both domestic and international scheduled services operated by companies registered in each country. Includes supplementary services occasioned by overflow traffic on regularly scheduled trips and preparatory flights for new scheduled services.

<sup>1</sup> Comprises public and private telephones (including extension instruments) connected to a central exchange. Total number of telephones in use in the world in 1958 estimated to be 124,800,000.

<sup>2</sup> Comprises generally all types of telegrams including cablegrams and radiograms, but excludes messages in transit.

<sup>3</sup> Letters mailed for distribution within national territories. Comprises letters (airmail, ordinary mail and registered), postcards, printed matter, business papers, small merchandise samples, small packets, phonopost packets, and mail carried without charge, but excludes ordinary packages, and letters and packages with a declared value.

<sup>4</sup> Publications containing general news and appearing at least 4 times a week; may range in size from a single sheet to 50 or more pages. <sup>5</sup> Comprises copies sold both inside and outside the country.

<sup>6</sup> No adjustment made for copies sold outside the country. <sup>7</sup> Comprises stations broadcasting to the public; excludes television and service stations (e.g., aeronautical and naval stations). Data are believed to represent the number of stations but in some instances may refer to number of transmitters or of frequencies (wave lengths).

<sup>8</sup> Comprises for most countries number of licenses issued for receiving sets; figures which are estimates of number of sets in use are footnoted. In general, figures should be used with considerable caution as number of licenses falls in varying degree from country to country, to represent full number in use. Data apply to all types of receivers for radio broadcasts to the public, including loud speakers connected to a "radio redistribution system" but excluding television sets. Total number of sets in use in the world in 1958 estimated to be 350,000,000.

<sup>9</sup> Figures which are estimates of number of sets in use are footnoted; all others relate to number of licenses issued for receiving sets. Total number of sets in use in world in 1958 estimated to be 76,000,000.

<sup>50</sup> All letters sent. <sup>51</sup> Dailies of general interest only. <sup>52</sup> Excludes 36 specialized dailies with an aggregate circulation of 5,642,000 copies, as well as 2,137 newspapers with a total circulation of 6,757,000 copies, which are issued by factory groups, collective farms, schools, and scientific institutions.

<sup>53</sup> For 1958, the number of television receivers in use is estimated at 3,000,000.

No. 1235. EDUCATION AND HEALTH

[Education: Figures usually refer to both official (public) and independent (private) schools, to school year beginning in year stated, and generally exclude adult education, apprenticeship courses and correspondence schools; intercountry comparisons are subject to caution owing to variations in definitions employed and in scope of data; usually excludes (unless otherwise stated) nursery schools, kindergarten and other preschool education. Health: Data do not allow of a close comparison between countries which present a similar standard, whether high or low, in respect of strength and character of their medical facilities. However, they may be used to judge approximate difference in standard between advanced and less developed countries. See text, p. 924, for general comments concerning quality of the data. Years for which data are shown may vary from column to column and from country to country. Figures which are not for the year shown in the "year" column are prefixed by a letter to indicate the year represented, as follows: a represents 1957; b, 1956; c, 1955; d, 1954; e, 1953; f, 1952; g, 1951; h, 1950]
