Federal Home Loan Bank System is composed of savings and loan associations, savings banks, and insurance companies engaged in home financing. Federal Home Loan Banks provide a permanent reserve credit system for member institutions. The Banks are privately owned by their members and are entirely self-sustaining. Federal Home Loan Bank Board supervises the operations of the 12 Federal Home Loan Banks, and of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and charters and regulates Federal savings and loan associations. See Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series N 188, for advances outstanding]

No. 652. MARGIN REQUIREMENTS ON SECURITIES CREDIT: 1951 TO 1966

[Prescribed in accordance with Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Regulations limit the amount of credit that may be extended on a security by prescribing a maximum loan value, which is a specified percentage of its market value at the time of the extension; the margin requirement is the difference between the market value (100 percent) and the maximum loan value. Data shown here are for regular accounts. For rates for 1934 to 1945, see Statistical Abstract, 1967, table 554. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series X 378-380]

¹ For 1950, straight average of market prices of all taxable marketable bonds due or callable in 15 years and over, thereafter, on the basis of an assumed 3 percent 20-year bond.

² Prices derived from average yields on basis of assumed 4 percent 20-year bond at Wednesday closing prices.

⁸ Averages of daily closing figures. Changes have been made in stocks used at various times. However, the number of stocks has remained constant over the period shown here.

¹⁰ Includes also stocks for fire insurance companies and N.Y. banks, and 1 additional public utility stock (see footnote 9).

² Beginning 1950, total income and payments to policyholders include data on operations of accident and health departments of life insurance companies; since these data not shown separately, components do not add to totals.

³ Beginning 1960, accidental death benefits included with death benefits.

⁴ For all years, business of accident and health departments of U.S. life insurance companies included in "Liabilities" and "Capital and surplus"; beginning 1950, also included in "Policy dividends" and "Policy reserves."

⁵ Includes cash, policy loans, collateral loans, due and deferred premiums, and all other assets.

⁶ For 1940, calculated after some Federal income taxes; beginning 1950, calculated before all such taxes.

Section 17

Business Enterprise

This section relates in general to the place and behavior of the business firm and of business initiative in the American economy. It includes data on the number of businesses; assets and liabilities of corporations; types of business income and expenditures; business sales and inventories; employment and payrolls for businesses subject to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act; and consumer cooperatives.

The principal sources of these data are the Survey of Current Business and its National Income Supplement (1954) and U.S. Income and Output (1958), published by the Office of Business Economics; County Business Patterns issued by the Bureau of the Census; the Federal Reserve Bulletin issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System; the annual Statistics of Income reports of the Internal Revenue Service; and monthly statements issued by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. Other sources are publications of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Trade Commission and, for bankruptcies, the Administrative Office of the United States Courts.

Business firms.—A business firm is generally defined as a business organization under a single management and may include one or more plants or outlets; a firm doing business in more than one industry is classified by industry according to the major activity of the firm as a whole. The Internal Revenue Service concept of business firm relates primarily to the legal entity used for tax reporting purposes. Its Statistics of Income reports present data separately for sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations. While a few corporations file consolidated tax returns (i.e., one return for the parent firm and all its subsidiaries), most corporate tax returns represent individual corporations, some of which are affiliated through common ownership or control with other corporations filing separate returns.

Reporting units.—County Business Patterns provides information, by industry and by county, on employment, payrolls, and number and employment-size of private non-farm reporting units with first quarter payrolls reported under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA). This act, a part of the Internal Revenue Code, specifies the wages to be reported for old-age, survivors, disability, and health insurance.

Reporting units are not the same as business firms or employers. In manufacturing, they represent the number of locations or establishments operated; in nonmanufacturing industries, each reporting unit comprises all of the locations of an employer in the same county and in the same kind of business.

Industrial and commercial failures.—These data, collected by Dun & Bradstreet, are available by years since 1857 and by months since 1900. The number of failures includes concerns involved in court proceedings or voluntary actions likely to end in loss to creditors; discontinuances with outside obligations paid in full are not included. Data cover manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, building contractors, and certain types of commercial service, but do not encompass finance, insurance, and real estate companies; railroads and steamship lines; and amusement enterprises. Failures data are published monthly in Dun's Review & Modern Industry.

Corporate assets and liabilities.—Data on corporate assets and liabilities are from the Internal Revenue Service and the Securities and Exchange Commission. In its annual report, Statistics of Income, Corporation Income Tax Returns, the Internal Revenue Service presents balance sheet and income account data for all active United States corporations. In a quarterly release entitled Net Working Capital of U.S. Corporations, the Securities and Exchange Commission publishes data on the net working capital position of all United States corporations, exclusive of banks, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies, showing the principal components of current assets and liabilities.

Corporate income, profits, dividends, and taxes.—Several agencies (the Internal Revenue Service, the Office of Business Economics, and the Federal Reserve Board) compile corporate income account data. These data, however, are not comparable because of differing methods of compilation.

The Internal Revenue Service publishes financial data for all business enterprises, both corporate and noncorporate, based on income tax returns filed by sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations. These data appear in Statistics of Income—U.S. Business Tax Returns and Corporation Income Tax Returns.

The corporate data issued by the Office of Business Economics are a part of its national income and product accounts and are defined as required for purposes of national income estimation. The primary sources of data for the estimates of profits, taxes, dividends, and undistributed profits are the original corporate tax returns submitted to the Internal Revenue Service. Various adjustments of the Statistics of Income data are required by the national income treatment, particularly with respect to depletion, capital gain or loss, and intercorporate dividends, and because the original corporate income statements do not represent the final stage of information.

Federal Reserve Board data relating to profits and dividends apply to particular industrial segments only, such as large manufacturing and public utility corporations.

Sources and uses of corporate funds.—These data indicate capital requirements of corporations and the manner in which they are financed. Sources of funds are equal to their uses. Certain discrepancies, however, interfere with this equality due to omission of such factors as (1) money accruing to corporations from an excess of sales over purchases of used plant and equipment, and (2) transactions in securities held as permanent investments except public offerings.

Business sales and inventories.—Business sales and inventories as defined by the Office of Business Economics are the sum of data for manufacturing, wholesale, and retail trade. Sales are estimated aggregate values and inventories are book values at the end of the period. Sales signifies sales or shipments for retail and wholesale trade and billings or shipments for manufacturing. Trade inventories are valued at cost of merchandise on hand, while manufacturers' inventories are valued at approximate current costs or at book values, as reported by the manufacturer. Inventories data for manufacturing (see table 706) are based on data from the Census of Manufactures and the Annual Survey of Manufactures.

Net change in business inventories.—To ascertain net physical change in nonfarm inventories, book values of beginning and ending inventories of each year are expressed in terms of constant base year prices by means of selected Bureau of Labor Statistics wholesale price indexes appropriate to each industry. Net increment in deflated book value figures is then converted to a current price basis by index ratios of current prices to base year prices. No inventory valuation adjustment is shown for farm inventories because change in farm inventories is estimated by the Department of Agriculture from physical quantity data.

Plant and equipment expenditures.—A joint survey by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Department of Commerce presents quarterly data on actual plant and equipment expenditures, and on anticipated expenditures for the next two quarters. In addition, at the beginning of each year, a survey is made of plans of business as regards capital expenditures during that year. The data are based on reports submitted by corporations registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, by transportation companies under Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction, and by a large sample of nonregistered companies, unincorporated as well as corporate, reporting to the Department of Commerce.

³ Includes business not allocable to individual industries. ⁴ Includes sanitary services.

No. 684. REPORTING UNITS UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY ACT, BY EMPLOYMENT-SIZE CLASS—STATES AND OTHER AREAS: 1964

[Based on reports of employers under the Federal Insurance Contribution Act. A reporting unit is, generally, a single establishment; however, for nonmanufacturing industries, a group of similar establishments of an employer located in the same county are also considered one reporting unit. Data for the following types of employment covered by the social security program in whole or in part are excluded: Farm workers, domestic workers, self-employed persons, members of the uniformed services of the United States, Federal civilian employees, employees of State and local governments. Also excludes railroad employment subject to the Railroad Retirement Act and employment on oceanborne vessels. Employment-size class refers to the number of employees in the mid-March pay period. See table 683 for total reporting units]

⁴ Dept. of Health, Education, and Welfare, Social Security Admin. Estimated enrollees and annual income of plans.

⁵ Federal Housing Admin. Cooperative projects insured, housing units, and value of mortgages, cumulative from beginning of Section 213 program, in 1950, through Dec. 31.

³ Excludes wholly tax-exempt interest; for 1963 includes certain constructive receipts from foreign subsidiaries.

⁴ Total income tax for 1963 is after net adjustment for investment credit. ⁵ Law enacted Oct. 16, 1962.

No. 695. CORPORATE PROFITS, TAXES, DIVIDENDS, AND NEW INCORPORATIONS: 1940 to 1965

[Money figures in millions of dollars; number in thousands. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except as noted. Data are for corporations organized for profit. Represent profits accruing to U.S. residents, without deduction of depletion charges and exclusive of capital gains and losses; intercorporate dividends from profits of domestic corporations are eliminated; net receipts of dividends and branch profits from abroad are added. Taxes refer to Federal and State corporate income and excess profits taxes. Cash dividends represent amount disbursed to U.S. residents, and therefore are measured after elimination of intercorporate dividends. Cash dividends also exclude capital gain dividends paid by investment companies. Undistributed profits represent difference between corporate profits after taxes and net dividend payments]

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Excludes all railroad failures. Series revised beginning 1933 to exclude real estate and financial companies. These revisions bring "Failures" more nearly in accordance with type of concerns covered by "Total concerns in business," in which no changes were made. Beginning 1939, new series includes voluntary discontinuances with loss to creditors and small concerns forced out of business with insufficient assets to cover all claims, in addition to failures included in former series. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series V 1-3]

³ Liabilities exclude long-term publicly held obligations; offsetting assets are not taken into account.

Section 18

Communications

This section presents statistics on usage, finances, and operations of the various communications media: Postal service, telephone, telegraph, radio, television, newspapers, and books. Data on the postal service are included in the Annual Report of the Postmaster General. Statistics on revenues, volume of mail, and distribution of expenditures by classes of mail and services are presented in the Post Office Department's annual Cost Ascertainment Report. Principal sources of wire, radio, and television data are the Federal Communications Commission's Annual Report, its annual Statistics of Communications Common Carriers, and its annual releases of financial data reported by radio and television stations and networks. Statistics on number and circulation of newspapers and periodicals and on sales of books and pamphlets are issued by the Bureau of the Census in reports of the Census of Manufactures. Annual data on number and circulation of daily and Sunday newspapers appear in Editor and Publisher's International Yearbook Number. Monthly data on new books and new editions of books are presented by R. R. Bowker Company in Publishers' Weekly.

Postal Service.—"Cost ascertainment" is the term used by the Post Office Department to describe its system for developing data on revenues, expenses, volume, and average hauls fairly attributable to each class of mail handled by the Postal Service (first, second, third, fourth, foreign, penalty, franked, free for the blind, and air mail) and similar data for each of its special services (special delivery, money order, insurance, collect-on-delivery, registry, certified, and postal savings).

Telephone and telegraph systems.—Statistical coverage of wire and radio communications has been concentrated in the Federal Communications Commission since its establishment in 1934. According to the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the Commission has full jurisdiction only over carriers engaged in interstate or foreign communications service by means of their own facilities or those of another carrier under direct or indirect common control. The Commission requires all except the smallest of these carriers to file annual and monthly reports and requires the companies controlling any but the smallest to file annual reports. Full jurisdiction applies to practically all wire-telegraph, ocean-cable, and radiotelegraph carriers but not to a large number of telephone carriers which are engaged in interstate or foreign service only by connection with the facilities of another unaffiliated carrier. However, the gross operating revenues of the telephone carriers reporting annually to the Commission are estimated to cover over 90 percent of the revenues of all telephone carriers in the United States.

Broadcasting.—The number of broadcast stations refers to the number licensed or holding construction permits. Total broadcast revenues are defined as total time sales of all networks and stations, less commissions to agencies and plus incidental revenues, such as sale of talent, program material, etc. Reports filed with the Federal Communications Commission by broadcast stations and networks cover substantially all units operating in the United States and its outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

¹ After allowance for reimbursements, embossed envelope purchases, indemnity claims, and miscellaneous revenue and expenditure offsets. Revenues, expenditures, and deficits through 1950 on cash-disbursement basis, i.e., they include payments and receipts in a year applicable to prior years; beginning 1955, expenditures are shown in year in which obligation was incurred, and revenues in year which gave rise to the earnings, whether collected or accrued. During fiscal 1954, the Department began receiving reimbursement for penalty and franked mail, and discontinued payment of subsidies to airlines. Revenues include reimbursements from the Treasury General Fund for statutory public services as follows: 1960, $37.4 million; 1961, $49.0 million; 1962, $62.7 million. These and other changes affect comparability of figures from year to year.

No. 730. TELEPHONE SYSTEMS—SUMMARY, CLASS A CARRIERS: 1940 TO 1964

[In millions of dollars, except as indicated. Includes Puerto Rico and, beginning 1963, Virgin Islands. Excludes intercompany duplications. Covers class A telephone carriers filing annual reports with FCC. Class A carriers are those whose annual operating revenues exceeded $100,000 for years prior to 1952, and $250,000 thereafter; comparability of data relatively unaffected by change in coverage. Gross operating revenues of class A carriers (excluding intercompany duplications of Bell System) reporting in 1964 represented approximately 91 percent of revenues of all telephone carriers as estimated by U.S. Independent Telephone Association]

1 Detail will not add to total owing to differences in the reporting of individual establishments.

2 Includes receipts not specified by kind, as follows (in thousands of dollars): Textbooks, 3,113; technical, scientific and professional, 6,203; religious, 2,603; general, 7,256.

3 Includes private business and secretarial school, post high vocational schools, and institutes and training courses of college grade.

4 Includes 4,621,000 hardbound books; receipts, $2,805,000.

5 Objective tests, manuals, etc.; includes answer sheets.

6 "Standardized tests" included in "Pamphlets."

7 Represents books sold direct to the consumer through agents or distributors, usually on installment plan of payment. Includes multivolume encyclopedias, children's literature, biblical sets, etc. Copies sold represent number of volumes rather than sets. 1954 data not strictly comparable with later years due to difference in coverage. 8 Includes nursing and dental subjects. 9 Includes missals and, beginning 1958, prayer books.

10 For adults and juveniles. 11 "Other religious books, paperbound" included in "Other books, paperbound."

12 "Book club books" included in "Adult trade books, hardbound."

13 Digest size 4 1/4" x 6 3/4"; distributed 75 percent or more through magazine wholesalers.

14 "Wholesaled paperbound books" included in "Adult trade books, paperbound."

15 Sold primarily through booksellers or book dealers (retail and wholesale) at trade discounts. Juvenile books represent hardbound and paperbound books, excluding toy books.

Section 19

Power

This section presents statistics on the supply, production, and distribution of power and energy. The principal sources of these data are the Federal Power Commission and the American Gas Association.

The Federal Power Commission publishes various statistical reports containing information on the electric power and natural gas industries. At periodic intervals it issues publications containing information on the production of electricity, capacity of generating plants (industrial plants as well as utilities), fuels used in production, financial data, sales of electric energy, construction costs and production expenses of steam electric and hydroelectric plants, financial and operating statistics on both the electric and interstate gas pipeline utilities, hydroelectric power resources of the United States, sales by producers of natural gas to interstate gas pipeline companies, and depreciation practices of electric and interstate gas pipeline utilities.

The Commission also issues periodic reports on electric utility rates, including the national electric rate book, typical electric bills, and annual bills for all-electric homes. Maps showing principal natural gas pipelines and principal electric facilities in the United States are published from time to time. Other publications relate to the statutes and regulations administered by the Commission.

The American Gas Association, in its monthly and quarterly bulletins and its year-book, Gas Facts, presents data on natural gas utilization and on production of gas from coal, oil, and similar products. Other important sources include the Bureau of Mines' Minerals Yearbook, containing data on coal, oil, and natural gas production and utilization; and the Edison Electric Institute's monthly and annual Statistical Bulletin, containing data on the distribution of electric energy by public utilities.

No. 753. TOTAL HORSEPOWER OF ALL PRIME MOVERS: 1940 TO 1965

[In thousands. As of January, except as noted. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except as noted. Prime movers are mechanical engines and turbines, and work animals, which originally convert fuels or force (as wind or falling water) into work and power. Electric motors, which are secondary movers and obtain their power from prime movers, are excluded to avoid duplication. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series S 1-14]

No. 754. MINERAL ENERGY RESOURCES AND ELECTRICITY—PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION, BY SOURCE: 1930 TO 1965

[In trillions of British thermal units, except percent. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except data for bituminous coal include Alaska for all years. Unit heat values used are: Anthracite, 12,700 B.t.u. per pound; bituminous coal and lignite 13,100 B.t.u. per pound; petroleum, 5,800,000 B.t.u. per barrel; natural gas, total production multiplied by 1,075 B.t.u. minus repressuring vent and waste gas multiplied by 1,035. For electricity series, hydropower and nuclear power converted to coal input equivalent at prevailing average pounds of coal per kilowatt hour each year at central electric plants, using 12,000 B.t.u. per pound. NA Not available. ¹ Preliminary, except loans approved.

² Net; i.e., excludes loans rescinded. For 1940, excludes amounts not yet under loan contract.

³ Organizations, mainly cooperatives, to which loans for extending central station electric service in rural areas are made.

⁵ Rural electric distribution, generation, and transmission systems operated by REA borrowers.

⁶ Pole miles of electric distribution and transmission line in service.

⁸ Excludes energy sales and revenues of power sold by one REA borrower to another.

⁹ Includes rural-nonfarm and farm consumers.

Section 20

Science

This section presents statistics relating to various aspects of scientific and technical activity. Major topics are research and development, training and employment of scientists and engineers, atomic energy, space vehicles, and patents and trademarks. Principal sources of these data are the National Science Foundation, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The National Science Foundation gathers data chiefly through recurring statistical surveys and the National Register of Scientific and Technical Personnel (see below). Current Foundation publications containing data on funds for research and development and on scientific and engineering personnel include the bulletin series, Reviews of Data on Science Resources; the regular reports, Federal Funds for Research, Development, and Other Scientific Activities; Basic Research, Applied Research, and Development in Industry, and American Science Manpower; occasional reports relating to colleges and universities, and other nonprofit institutions; special reports such as Scientific Manpower From Abroad; and policy reports relating to national allocation of manpower and funds to science and technology. Statistical surveys in these areas pose particularly difficult problems of concept and definition and the data should, therefore, be regarded as broad estimates rather than precise quantitative statements. Detailed discussions of the scope and limitations of the data appear in the source publications.

Neither the National Aeronautics and Space Administration nor the Atomic Energy Commission publish any statistical reports as such. NASA's Semiannual Report contains current data on finances and its biweekly Satellite Situation Report presents information on artificial satellites, including both objects in orbit and decayed objects; and its one-page Space Activities Summary, issued for each space vehicle it launches, gives data on the launching vehicle, its payload, and its performance. The Atomic Energy Commission's annual and semiannual reports contain data on atomic energy, equipment, finances, and licenses.

Other sources of statistics on scientific and technical activities include The Budget of the United States Government, which contains summary financial data on all Federal research and development programs; the report series Resources for Medical Research, issued by the Public Health Service of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and designed to present timely information on funds, manpower, facilities, and institutions devoted to medical and health-related research; and the Annual Report of the Commissioner of Patents, issued by the Department of Commerce's Patent Office and presenting data on patent applications and issuances and on trademark registrations and renewals.

Research and development.—The National Science Foundation defines research as a "systematic and intensive study directed toward a fuller knowledge of the subject studied" and development as "the systematic use of scientific knowledge directed toward the production of useful materials, devices, systems, methods, or processes." The data on funds are presented within the framework of a national economic structure composed of four sectors: (1) The government sector, made up primarily of Federal executive agencies; (2) the industry sector, consisting of manufacturing and nonmanufacturing firms and the Federal contract research centers they administer; (3) the colleges and universities sector, composed of colleges, universities, and their affiliated institutions, agricultural experiment stations and associated schools of agriculture, and Federal contract research centers administered by educational institutions; and (4) the other nonprofit institutions sector, consisting of such organizations as private philanthropic foundations, nonprofit research institutes, voluntary health agencies, and Federal contract research centers administered by nonprofit organizations. Federal contract research centers are research and development organizations which are exclusively or substantially financed by the Federal government and which, in most instances, were originally established to meet a particular R&D need of the Government. They are administered on a contractual basis, by companies, educational institutions, or other nonprofit organizations. The R&D funds reported consist of current operating costs, including those for planning and administration, except as otherwise noted. They exclude funds for routine testing, mapping and surveying, collection of general-purpose data, dissemination of scientific information, and training of scientific manpower.

Scientists, engineers, and technicians.—Scientists and engineers are defined as persons engaged in scientific and engineering work at a level requiring a knowledge of sciences equivalent at least to that acquired through completion of a 4-year college course. They are generally classified according to the fields of their employment and not according to the discipline in which they received their major training. Technicians are defined as persons engaged in technical work at a level requiring knowledge acquired through a technical institute, junior college, or other type of training less extensive than 4-year college training. Craftsmen and skilled workers are excluded. The National Register of Scientific and Technical Personnel is a comprehensive program, conducted by the National Science Foundation, for the voluntary registration of scientists. Because it is voluntary, the Register does not include all scientists in the United States but it does provide valuable statistical information on demographic and other characteristics of scientists not available elsewhere. Coverage is currently being extended to engineers.

No. 774. FUNDS FOR PERFORMANCE OF RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT AND BASIC RESEARCH, BY SECTOR, DISTRIBUTED BY SOURCE: 1954 TO 1964

In millions of dollars. The data are primarily on a calendar year basis—data for calendar year 1954 for industry and other nonprofit institutions are combined with Federal and university data for fiscal 1954 (1953-54). The same pattern is followed for subsequent years. Data refer in general to the natural sciences including engineering; however, some funds for psychology and the social sciences could not be eliminated. The major portion of funds excludes capital expenditures for research and development. Expenditures at Federal contract research centers administered by industry, colleges and universities, and other nonprofit institutions are included in the totals of the respective sectors]

NO. 779. FEDERAL PRIME CONTRACTS AND GRANTS AWARDED FOR RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT—STATES: 1963

[Money figures in thousands of dollars. For year ending June 30. Covers awards made by Departments of Defense; Health, Education, and Welfare; Agriculture; Interior; and Commerce; and by National Aeronautics and Space Administration, National Science Foundation, and Atomic Energy Commission. These agencies are responsible for approximately 99.2 percent of all research and development work performed outside the agencies under prime contracts and grants awarded by the Federal Government. Excludes unallocated funds]

- Represents zero. X Not applicable. ¹ Permits authorize construction of 11 reactors.

² Beginning 1963, each reactor licensee was required to have available a "senior" reactor operator.

⁴ Beginning 1960, includes only parent organizations, which are issued single basic licenses. Subordinate organizations at various locations included for prior years.

Section 21

Transportation—Land

This section presents statistics relating to the mileage, control, and financing of public roads and to the transportation of persons and goods by land. The modes of transport included are passenger car, truck, railroad, bus and streetcar, and pipeline.

The principal compiler of data on public roads and motor-vehicle registrations is the Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Commerce which, since 1945, has issued the annual Highway Statistics. Its Highway Statistics, Summary to 1955, presents public roads data carried back for 20 to 50 years. The principal sources of land transport data, other than for public roads and motor-vehicle registrations, are the Interstate Commerce Commission's Annual Report and its annual Transport Statistics in the United States, Part 1, which contains data on railroads. Other important publications of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the field of land transport include the annual Statistics of Class I Motor Carriers (issued as Part 7 of Transport Statistics); the annual Statistics of Oil Pipe-Line Companies (issued as Part 6 of Transport Statistics); the annual Accident Bulletin, and, for historical data on railroads, Statistics of Railways in the United States, published annually from 1887 through 1953. Another basic source of data is the 1963 Census of Transportation. It was conducted by the Bureau of the Census and consisted of 4 parts: Commodity Transportation Survey, Passenger Transportation Survey, Truck Inventory and Use Survey, and Bus and Truck Carrier Survey.

Additional governmental sources are the Agriculture Department's Bulletin 1279, Rural Highway Mileage, Income, and Expenditures, 1921-22, which contains data for the 1904, 1909, 1914, and 1921 road mileage surveys; and the Census of Manufactures and the Annual Survey of Manufactures of the Bureau of the Census, which contain statistics on the motor-vehicle and equipment industry. Data from these Bureau of the Census reports are included in section 29, Manufactures, of this volume. Non-governmental data can be found in Cars of Revenue Freight Loaded, published weekly and annually by the Association of American Railroads, Washington, D.C.; Bus Facts, issued annually by the National Association of Motor Bus Owners, also of Washington; the Transit Fact Book, containing street railway and motorbus statistics, published annually by the American Transit Association, New York; and Transportation Facts and Trends, issued by the Transportation Association of America, Washington. Useful annual handbooks in the field of motor-vehicle transport are Automobile Facts and Figures and Motor Truck Facts, both issued by the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Detroit; American Trucking Trends, issued by the American Trucking Association, Washington; and Accident Facts, issued by the National Safety Council, Chicago.

Rural and urban roads.—The terms "rural," "urban," and "municipal" are used in different ways in different tables in this section. Because of special problems and purposes, it is not possible to apply identical definitions and groupings to all types of data. Definitions are given in table headnotes where pertinent.

Highway systems.—The Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1916 provides for the sharing of highway construction costs between the States and the Federal Government with the initiative retained by each State for choosing projects and carrying them out. The planning and development of Federal-aid systems began in 1921. Federal funds share with State funds in costs of engineering, construction, and right-of-way acquisition on the designated systems while other charges, such as maintenance and policing, are borne entirely by the States and local agencies.

The Federal-aid primary system connects all of the principal cities, county seats, ports, manufacturing areas, and other traffic generating areas. In general, these are the same as the main State trunkline roads. The Federal-aid secondary system consists of important feeder roads linking the farms, factories, distribution outlets, and smaller communities with the primary system.

Motor carriers.—Prior to 1950, class I for-hire motor carriers were classified by the Interstate Commerce Commission as those with $100,000 or more of gross annual operating revenue. Beginning 1950, the class I minimum became $200,000. Beginning 1957, the class I minimum for motor carriers of property was increased to $1,000,000; however, the minimum for class I motor carriers of passengers remained at $200,000.

Railroads.—The total railroad mileage of the United States comprises companies reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission, grouped as follows: (1) Regular interstate carriers (and their nonoperating subsidiaries); (2) switching and terminal railroads; and (3) private railroads (identified by the Commission as "circular" because they report on brief circulars, or as "unofficial" when their reports are received too late for tabulation). For the most part, circular and unofficial companies, and switching and terminal railroads, are not included in the statistics.

Nonoperating subsidiaries comprise proprietary companies, which are covered by the reports of operating carriers, and lessor companies, which have no traffic and whose reports appear only in statistics of capitalization, dividends, and investment.

Operating railroads are classified on the basis of operating revenues. Prior to 1956, the classification was as follows: Class I, those having more than $1,000,000 gross annual operating revenue; class II, from $100,000 to $1,000,000; and class III, less than $100,000. From 1956 to 1964, the following classification was in effect: Class I, $3,000,000 or more; and class II, under $3,000,000. Effective January 1965, the classification was changed to the following: Class I, $5,000,000 or more; and class II, under $5,000,000.

³ No tax.

⁴ Tax on diesel fuel, and usually other special fuels for highway vehicles, is higher than gasoline tax shown.

⁶ Trucks or combinations with more than 2 axles pay motor-fuel tax rates of 9 cents per gallon in Kentucky and Virginia. (Prior to July 1, 1960, the tax in Virginia was 8 cents.)

No. 832. TRANSIT INDUSTRY—SUMMARY: 1940 TO 1964

[Money figures in millions of dollars, except as indicated. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Comprises all privately and publicly owned organized local passenger transportation agencies except taxicabs, suburban railroads, and sightseeing and school buses. Covers (a) local motorbus lines, (b) electric street railways, (c) elevated and subway lines, (d) interurban electric railways and (e) trolley coach lines. Based on financial and statistical reports received by American Transit Association from transit companies representing more than 85 percent of the industry. Section 22

Transportation—Air and Water

This section presents statistics on civil air transportation, both passenger and cargo, and on water transportation, including inland waterways, oceanborne commerce, the merchant marine, cargo and vessel tonnages, and shipbuilding. The principal sources of these data are the annual FAA Statistical Handbook of Aviation, issued by the Federal Aviation Agency; the annual Waterborne Commerce of the United States and the Annual Report of the Chief of Engineers, Part 2, issued by the Corps of Engineers of the Department of the Army; the monthly and annual U.S. Waterborne Foreign Trade, and U.S. Airborne Foreign Trade, issued by the Bureau of the Census; and the annual Merchant Marine Statistics, issued by the Bureau of Customs.

Data on air transportation are also presented in Air Transport Facts and Figures, published annually by the Air Transport Association of America, Washington, D.C. Additional sources of data on water transportation include A Statistical Analysis of the World's Merchant Fleets, issued periodically by the Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce; The Bulletin, issued monthly by the American Bureau of Shipping, New York; and the Annual Summary of Merchant Ships Launched in the World and the Register Book published by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, London, England. The 1821 through 1946 issues of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, published by the Bureau of the Census, is a basic source for historical data.

Data relating to merchandise exports and imports, their classification, dollar values, and countries of origin and destination are in section 31, Foreign Commerce and Aid.

Civil aviation.—Federal promotion and regulation of civil aviation are carried out by two bodies—the Federal Aviation Agency and the Civil Aeronautics Board. The Board issues certificates permitting persons to engage in air transportation as a business, fixes air mail rates which they may charge, and may establish maximum and minimum rates for transportation of passengers and goods. It also has the duty of investigating accidents in air transportation.

The principal activities of the Federal Aviation Agency are: Controlling the use of navigable airspace; prescribing regulations dealing with the competency of airmen, airworthiness of aircraft, and air traffic control; operation of air route traffic control centers, airport traffic control towers, and flight service stations; the design, construction, maintenance, and inspection of navigation, traffic control, and communications equipment for the airways; and promotion of air safety.

These agencies publish annual operational data on the use of airway facilities; data related to the location of airmen, aircraft, and airports; the activity volume in the field of non-aircarrier (general aviation) flying; and aircraft production and registration.

Air carriers and service.—The term certificated route air carrier refers to air carriers holding certificates of public convenience and necessity, issued by the Civil Aeronautics Board, authorizing the performance of scheduled air transportation over specified routes and a limited amount of nonscheduled operations. This general carrier grouping includes the all-purpose carrier (i.e., the so-called passenger/cargo carriers) and the all-cargo carriers, and comprises all of the airlines certificated by the board, except the supplemental air carriers. Certificated route air carriers are often referred to as "scheduled airlines," although they also perform nonscheduled service. Nonscheduled service comprises revenue flights that are not operated in regular scheduled service, such as charter flights, and all nonrevenue flights incident to such flights. Scheduled service is transport service operated over an air carrier's certificated routes, based on published flight schedules, including extra sections and related nonrevenue flights.

Vessel shipments, entrances, and clearances.—Shipments by dry cargo vessels comprise shipments on all types of watercraft except tanker vessels; shipments by tanker vessels comprise all types of cargo, liquid and dry, carried by tanker vessels.

A vessel is reported as entered at the first port which it enters in the United States, regardless of whether any cargo is unladen at that port. A vessel is reported as cleared from the last port where outward cargo is completed or where the vessel cleared in ballast. Army and Navy vessels entering or clearing without commercial cargo and vessels touching at a United States port in distress, or for other temporary causes without discharging cargo, are not included in the figures.

Units of measurement.—Cargo tonnage and shipping weight both represent the gross weight of the cargo including the weight of containers, wrappings, crates, etc. Other tonnage figures generally refer to stowing capacity of vessels, 100 cubic feet being called 1 ton. Gross tonnage comprises the space within the frames and the ceiling of the hull, together with those closed-in spaces above deck available for cargo, stores, passengers, or crew, with certain minor exceptions. Net or registered tonnage is the gross tonnage less the spaces occupied by the propelling machinery, fuel, crew quarters, master's cabin, and navigation spaces. It represents substantially space available for cargo and passengers. The net tonnage capacity of a ship may bear little relation to weight of cargo. Dead-weight tonnage is the weight in long tons required to depress a vessel from light water line (that is, with only the machinery and equipment on board) to load line. It is therefore the weight of the cargo, fuel, etc., which a vessel is designed to carry with safety.

No. 870. UNITED STATES RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS FOR INTERNATIONAL TRANSPORTATION: 1947 TO 1965

[In millions of dollars. Data are international transportation transactions recorded for balance of payments purposes (see table 1236). Receipts include freight on exports carried by U.S. operated carriers and foreign carrier expenditures in U.S. ports. Payments include freight on imports carried by foreign carriers and U.S. carrier port expenditures abroad. Freight on exports carried by foreign carriers is excluded since such payments are directly or indirectly for foreign account. Similarly, freight on U.S. imports carried by U.S. carriers is a domestic rather than an international transaction. Minus sign (—) denotes decrease. See Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series U 170 and U 177, for totals]

NO. 871. WATERBORNE IMPORTS AND EXPORTS—CARGO, TONNAGE BY FLAG OF CARRIER VESSEL: 1935 TO 1964

[In thousands of short tons. Prior to 1946, excludes cargoes carried by ships of less than 100 tons gross capacity. Prior to 1950, includes U.S. Army and Navy cargo, except as noted and excludes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Beginning July 1950, excludes commodities classified for security reasons as "Special Category." For 1955, and 1959 through 1962, exports exclude shipments individually valued under $500; beginning 1963, exports exclude shipments to Canada individually valued under $2,000 and to other countries under $500. For 1955, imports exclude shipments under 2,000 pounds shipping weight regardless of value, as well as shipments valued at less than $100 regardless of shipping weight; beginning 1960, imports exclude only those shipments under $100. For further coverage details, see report FT 985, Waterborne Foreign Trade Statistics, published monthly by Bureau of the Census. Section 23

Agriculture—Farms, Land, and Finances

This section presents statistics concerning the basic structure of our agricultural economy. Included are data on farm population; number, acreage, value, and ownership of farms; land utilization, irrigation, drainage, and soil conservation; and farm income, expenditures, debt, and prices. The principal sources of these data are reports issued by the Bureau of the Census, which conducts a Census of Agriculture every 5 years and Censuses of Irrigation and of Drainage every 10 years; the annual Crop Report and Related Data, Federal Reclamation Projects, issued by the Bureau of Reclamation; and current and annual publications of the Department of Agriculture, chief of which are Report of Administrator of Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Statistics, The Farm Income Situation, and Farm Real Estate Market Developments.

Data on farm production, marketings, and imports and exports for crops, livestock, and poultry are in section 24, Agriculture—Production, Marketing, and Trade.

A Census of Agriculture, entailing personal enumeration of individual farms, has been taken every 10 years since 1840 and every 5 years since 1920. The first Census, limited in scope, included such items as numbers of livestock, production of wool, value of poultry and dairy products, and production of principal crops. Data on number, acreage, and value of farms were first obtained in the 1850 Census; on farm tenure, in 1880; and on a detailed classification of farmland by use, in 1925. The 1959 Census of Agriculture is the most recent one for which complete data are available; preliminary results from the 1964 Census became available during 1966.

Farms and farmland.—In the course of its history, the Bureau of the Census has used varying definitions of a farm. In the 1959 Census, places of less than 10 acres were counted as farms if estimated sales of agricultural products for the year amounted to at least $250, and places of 10 or more acres if such sales amounted to at least $50. In the 1950 and 1954 Censuses, places of 3 or more acres were counted as farms if the annual value of agricultural products, whether for home use or for sale, but exclusive of home-garden products, amounted to $150 or more; places of less than 3 acres were counted as farms only if the annual sales amounted to $150 or more. In the Censuses from 1925 to 1945, farms included places of 3 or more acres having any agricultural production, other than from a home garden, and places of less than 3 acres having agricultural production valued at a minimum of $250. For definitions used in earlier Censuses, see U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1959, Vol. II, Introduction.

Currently included as farms are such agricultural enterprises as nurseries, greenhouses, hothouses, mushroom houses, and cranberry bogs; excluded are fish farms, fish hatcheries, oyster farms, frog farms, fur farms, apiaries, kennels, game preserves, parks, and the like. In the case of landowners who had one or more tenants, renters, croppers, or managers, the land operated by each was counted as a separate farm.

In the 1959 Census, all farms with sales of $2,500 or more were classified as commercial. Farms with sales of $50 to $2,499 were classified as commercial if the operator was under 65 years of age and (1) he did not work off the farm 100 or more days during the year and (2) the income he and members of his household received from nonfarm sources was less than the value of all farm products sold.

Farmland refers to all land under the control of a farm operator and considered as part of his farm, including land not actually under cultivation or used for pasture or grazing. Rent-free land was included as part of the farm only if the operator had sole use of it. Land used for pasture or grazing that was neither owned nor leased by the farm operator, such as national forests, Taylor grazing land, State or other public lands, and some railroad and other privately owned lands, are not included.

Irrigation.—Irrigated land as defined by the Bureau of the Census is the net acreage of farmland to which irrigation water was applied during the Census year. It excludes land not irrigated during the Census year and also irrigated nonfarm land.

In the 18 Western States (Alaska excluded) and Louisiana, the Bureau of the Census collects information at 10-year intervals on acres irrigated, irrigation works, capital investment, etc., from irrigation companies, districts, and other organizations, and from farms that operate their own irrigation works. Irrigation information for other States is generally limited to the regular farm Census. Following the 1954 and 1959 Censuses, a special survey of irrigation was conducted in humid areas.

The development of Federal irrigation projects rests primarily on the Bureau of Reclamation. By Congressional directive its activities are generally confined to the 19 Western States. The operation of irrigation works, upon complete development, is transferred to capable private water user organizations.

Drainage.—Most farmland drainage works serve to reclaim and improve the land. Other purposes are to protect the land against overflow, to rid the land of seepage from irrigation ditches, and to control alkali formation.

The Bureau of the Census in 1950 and 1960 enumerated, in general, only organized enterprises with 500 acres or more of drained farmland. In 1950, smaller irrigation enterprises which had their own drainage works were also included. In previous Censuses (1920 to 1940), all organized enterprises draining farmlands were included regardless of size. Privately drained lands of less than 500 acres have not been enumerated in any drainage Census. The change in procedure for 1950 and 1960 materially reduced the number of enterprises enumerated, but affected very little the amount of drained land enumerated. The 6 New England States, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia have had no drainage projects reported in any of the Censuses of Drainage. In 1960, Arizona also had no drainage projects that qualified for inclusion.

Soil conservation.—Soil conservation district legislation has been enacted in all 50 States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. A soil conservation district is a political subdivision of a State. Districts have broad responsibility and authority for conservation and development of soil, water, and related resources. In most cases, districts have authority to accept Federal, State, county, and private assistance for their soil and water conservation programs. On request of the local district governing body, the Department of Agriculture provides technical and other assistance.

Farm prices and income.—Information on prices received by farmers for products they sell and prices paid for articles they buy for production and family living are obtained by the Statistical Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture from about 33,000 voluntary reporters, including farmers, local merchants, and handlers of agricultural products. Season average prices received by farmers are calculated by weighting midmonth prices by monthly sales during the crop marketing season, beginning with the first month in which a particular crop harvest begins.

Index numbers of prices received and of prices paid by farmers (see table 926) are based on current midmonth prices. Information on construction of the indexes is in Agricultural Handbook No. 118, Volume 1, Agricultural Prices and Parity, and on revisions in the January 1959 issue of Agricultural Prices, both published by the former Agricultural Marketing Service. The ratio of the index of prices received to the index of prices paid measures the monthly variation in the average per unit exchange value of farm products in terms of commodities and services bought by farmers.

Cash income is the cash receipts from farm marketings and represents quantities of agricultural products sold by farmers multiplied by prices received per unit of production at the local market. Gross farm income includes cash receipts and also Government payments, value of farm products consumed on the farm, and rental value of farm homes.

No. 905. FARMS—NUMBER, BY TYPE, BY STATES: 1959

[Based on reports for a sample of farms. In general, a farm was classified as a particular type if its sales of a particular product or group of products amounted to 50 percent or more of total value of farm products sold. For definition of commercial farm, see text, p. 613. For composition of regions, see fig. 1, p. XII]

No. 915. FEDERAL BUREAU OF RECLAMATION IRRIGATION PROJECTS—ACREAGE AND CROP VALUE: 1909 TO 1964

[Acreage in thousands; value in millions of dollars. "Full irrigation service" applies to irrigable land receiving its sole irrigation supply through Bureau-constructed facilities and to previously irrigated land in non-Federal projects where a substantial part of the facilities was constructed, rehabilitated, or replaced by the Bureau; "supplemental and temporary irrigation service" applies to irrigable land receiving irrigation water through Bureau projects in addition to supply from nonproject sources and to land for which water is delivered under temporary arrangements. For 17 Western States included, see table 914]

² Calculated by multiplying quantities equivalent to retail purchases by estimates of prices received by farmers, and subtracting imputed value of byproducts obtained in processing.

³ Equals difference between retail cost and farm value.

⁴ Obtained by expressing the farm value as a percentage of retail cost (based on unrounded figures).

Section 24

Agriculture—Production, Marketing, and Trade

This section presents statistics concerning farm output and marketings, trade in agricultural products, and data relative to specific crops, livestock, poultry, and livestock and poultry products.

The principal sources of these data are reports of the decennial and quinquennial Censuses of Agriculture conducted by the Bureau of the Census, and three annual reports, Crop Production, Crop Values, and Agricultural Statistics, issued by the Statistical Reporting Service, Department of Agriculture. Other important sources include Current Industrial Reports and Cotton Production and Distribution, issued by the Bureau of the Census; Cotton and Cottonseed Production and annual livestock summaries, issued by the Statistical Reporting Service; and various Situation reports, issued by the Economic Research Service, Department of Agriculture. Sources of current data on agricultural exports and imports include Foreign Agricultural Trade, also published by the Economic Research Service, and the foreign trade reports of the Bureau of the Census, particularly the series on imports (FT 125) and on exports (FT 410). Historical data are available in Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, issued by the Bureau of the Census. Statistics on other aspects of agriculture may be found in section 23, Agriculture—Farms, Land, and Finances.

Crop reporting.—Annual agricultural statistics of a wide variety have been issued by the Department of Agriculture for over 100 years. The 43 field offices of the Statistical Reporting Service collect data from voluntary reporters. State estimates and other information are sent to the Crop Reporting Board of the Statistical Reporting Service where, after review, reports are issued containing State, regional, and United States data.

Statistics compiled by the Statistical Reporting Service on crops, livestock and livestock products, agricultural prices, farm employment, and other related subjects are based mainly on data obtained through mail questionnaires. The basic information is obtained from nearly three-fourths of a million reporters, mostly farmers, who report for their own and nearby farms on some 80 crops and scores of other items pertaining to agricultural production and farm family living. The most extensive of the current survey data are gathered by the Statistical Reporting Service from questionnaires handled in cooperation with the Post Office Department through its rural mail carriers. These surveys obtain livestock data in June and December and crop acreage data in October.

In the data prepared by the Statistical Reporting Service, estimates of crop acreage and production for the census years are set up currently from available information. Later, if necessary, these data are revised to a level based largely on the Census enumerations. The estimates for intercensal years are based on sample data obtained each year from individual reporters. This information is supplemented by other data, such as State assessors' enumerations of agricultural information, reports of carlot shipments, warehouse receipts, local surveys, personal observations by field statisticians, and reports from other sources having a knowledge of farming, agricultural production, and processing. Cotton acreage and production are also based on sample data and, in large measure, on ginning information gathered by the Bureau of the Census.

Livestock.—Each Census of Agriculture from 1840 through 1900 was taken as of June 1. The six decennial censuses since then were taken as of April 15, 1910; January 1, 1920; April 1, 1930, 1940, and 1950; and the fall of 1959.

The 1925, 1935, and 1945 quinquennial Censuses of Agriculture were taken as of January 1; the 1954 and 1964 Censuses were taken in the fall of the year. Comparison of inventory numbers of livestock from census to census is seriously affected by changes in the date of enumeration. From January to April, and from October and November to January, there are material changes in numbers on hand in most parts of the country, due to births, marketings, farm slaughter, etc. In an effort to obtain as much comparability as possible, the censuses taken in April either excluded recently born animals from the enumeration or provided for their enumeration in a separate age group. Volume II of U.S. Census of Agriculture: 1959 shows a complete history of the enumeration of livestock and presents a discussion of the comparability from census to census. For most kinds of domestic livestock, there are comparatively short cyclic fluctuations in numbers, even though the trend over a long period of time may be definitely in one direction.

Annual inventory numbers of livestock on farms, together with estimates of livestock, dairy, and poultry production prepared by the Department of Agriculture, are based on information furnished by individual farmers, supplemented by State assessors' data in a number of States, and by such records as brand inspections, rail and truck shipments, and slaughter. The level for these inventories is based in large part on interpretations of Census enumerations for years when such data are available.

¹ Measures annual volume of farm production available for eventual human use. Livestock and crops, as combined into total farm output, exclude value of feed other than pasture consumed, and hatching eggs, to avoid double counting of feed crops in both livestock and crop production and of hatching eggs as part of both poultry meat and egg production.

² Includes livestock products not shown separately, except horses and mules. Livestock production consists of 3 components: Constant-dollar value of pasture consumed, other feed consumed, and product-added in converting feed and pasture into livestock and products for human use. See footnote 1.

¹ Beginning Jan. 1, 1942, includes food exported for relief or charity; beginning Jan. 1, 1947, also includes exports under Army Civilian Supply Program. ² Based on total exports of domestic merchandise.

³ Prior to 1934, general imports; thereafter, imports for consumption.

¹ Values are based on season average prices; see footnote 2.² Season average price received by farmers. State prices weighted by production to obtain U.S. price prior to 1936, but weighted by sales beginning 1938. For certain years, prices for wheat, rye, rice, corn for grain, grain sorghums, oats, barley, dry edible beans, soybeans, flaxseed, cotton, and cottonseed include an allowance for unredeemed loans and purchase agreement deliveries. See also notes on prices for each crop.³ Based on reported price of grain sorghums.⁴ Beginning 1939, prices are for hay sold baled; prior years, for hay sold loose.⁵ Cleaned basis.⁶ Includes some quantities not harvested and/or not marketed on account of economic conditions.⁷ State production figures, which conform with Census annual ginning enumeration with allowance for cross-State ginnings, rounded to thousands and added for U.S. totals.⁸ Bales of 500 pounds, gross weight.⁹ Average price to Dec. 1.Source: Dept. of Agriculture, Statistical Reporting Service. - Represents zero. ¹ Includes Virgin Islands.

² Sugar 96° basis as computed by Puerto Rican mills.

³ Includes production of muscovado and panocha, low grades of sugar mostly for domestic consumption.

⁴ Beginning July 1960, Cuba no longer a supplier. Sugar formerly supplied by Cuba is now being provided mainly by Mexico, Peru, Philippines, Brazil, Federation of the West Indies and British Guiana, Dominican Republic, India, and China (Taiwan).

² Beginning July 1960, Cuba no longer a supplier.

³ Includes raws for processing held by importers other than refiners. ⁴ Includes Hawaii.

⁵ Adjusted for changes in invisible stocks (estimated) held by manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers. Data are for military and civilian food use.

¹ Growth of 9 months in Louisiana and 12 months in Florida. In Louisiana, sugar season usually ends by December or early January; in Florida, by March following season of growth.

² Season average price received by farmers. Prices exclude Government payments under the Sugar Act. For 1945, price support payments included.

³ Excludes Hawaii. ⁴ Raw value equals 96° raw sugar as defined in Sugar Act of 1948.

⁵ Calculated on basis of 100 pounds of raw sugar required to produce 93.46 pounds of refined sugar.

⁶ Excludes sirup production. See table 975.

⁷ Converted to 80° Brix beginning with 1935. Data for 1930 as reported.

¹ Acreage of crops for harvest for fresh market, including any partially harvested or not harvested because of low prices or other economic factors, plus acreage harvested for processing.

² Includes some quantities not marketed and excluded in computing value.

³ Based on season average prices received by growers.

⁴ Shelled basis; 2 pounds of lima beans in the shell produce approximately 1 pound of shelled beans.

⁵ Shelled basis; 2½ pounds of peas in the shell produce approximately 1 pound of shelled peas.

No. 985. MEATS AND LARD—SLAUGHTERING, PRODUCTION, FOREIGN TRADE, AND CONSUMPTION: 1945 to 1965

[Quantities, except per capita, represent carcass weight equivalent. Excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except for exports, imports, total and per capita civilian consumption. Excludes edible byproducts. Production of pork comprises weight of dressed hog carcass less head bones and less all carcass fat rendered into lard. Lard production represents rendered weight of lard, and lard exports represent rendered lard, including neutral lard. Excludes USDA exports and shipments for Lend-Lease, UNRRA and other claimants, and shipments for military civilian feeding and voluntary relief feeding. Civilian consumption is calculated from production and foreign trade, with an allowance for changes in stocks, and with deduction of military takings, and of deliveries to USDA. See Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1957, series K 214-215, K 217-218, K 220-221, and K 223-224, for animals slaughtered and production, and G 552-555, for civilian per capita consumption]

Section 25

Forests and Forest Products

This section presents basic statistics on the area and ownership of commercial forest land, and on the annual growth, cut, and volume of timber on this land; forestry statistics covering the national forests and Forest Service cooperative programs; product statistics for lumber, pulpwood, woodpulp, paper and paperboard, turpentine, rosin, and veneer logs; and other similar data.

The principal sources of these data are Timber Trends in the United States, issued in 1965 by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture, and The Demand and Price Situation for Forest Products, National Forest Areas, and Forest Fire Statistics, issued annually by the Forest Service; and reports of the quinquennial Census of Manufactures and the monthly and quarterly Current Industrial Reports, issued by the Bureau of the Census. Additional information in this field is published in the Annual Report of the National Forest Reservation Commission, the Annual Naval Stores Report of the Department of Agriculture's Statistical Reporting Service, the monthly Survey of Current Business of the Office of Business Economics, and the quarterly National Survey of Lumber Demand and Supply of the National Forest Products Association (formerly the National Lumber Manufacturers Association).

The Bureau of the Census also collects statistics on foreign trade of forest products. The Bureau of Labor Statistics publishes monthly and annual statistics of wholesale lumber prices. Information on the domestic movement of forest products is collected by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Association of American Railroads.

The completeness and reliability of statistics on forests and forest products vary considerably. The data for forest land area and stand are, of course, much more reliable for areas which have been surveyed than for those which have not been surveyed. Estimates of fire damage or causes of fires are not completely reliable, although forest fire statistics for Federal lands are considered much better than those for private lands. In the field of forest products, much more data are available for lumber production and other manufactured products such as veneer and plywood, pulp and paper, naval stores, etc., than for the primary forest products such as poles and piling, fuelwood, and fence posts.

A historical series for production, imports, exports, and consumption of forest products is included in table 1041.

No. 996. SAWTIMBER AND GROWING STOCK—GROWTH AND CUT, 1962, AND VOLUME, 1963, ON COMMERCIAL FOREST LAND, BY STATES

[Sawtimber comprises all live trees of commercial species which contain at least 1 saw log defined as follows: Softwoods must be at least 9.0 inches in diameter, breast height, except in California, Oregon, Washington, and coastal Alaska where the minimum diameter is 11.0 inches. Hardwoods must be at least 11.0 inches in diameter in all States. Growing stock comprises all live sawtimber trees, poletimber trees, saplings, and seedlings meeting specified standards of quality or vigor; excludes cull trees]

Section 26

Fisheries

This section presents statistics relating to quantity, value, species, and disposition of fish caught for commercial purposes, and to fishery products. The principal sources of such data are the annual report, Fishery Statistics of the United States, and the monthly and annual bulletins in the Current Fishery Statistics series published by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior.

The Fish and Wildlife Service conducts annual surveys of the fishery industries. Results from the surveys include data on the quantity and value of the catch of individual species of fish, employment in fisheries, gear operated, fishing and transporting craft used, employment in wholesale and manufacturing establishments, and the volume and value of production of manufactured fishery products. In addition, the reports include data on imports, exports, freezings, and cold storage holdings of fishery products; and monthly landings in most coastal States, and in Ohio, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Information is also collected covering shad fisheries of the Hudson and Potomac Rivers; alewife fisheries of the Potomac; seed oyster fisheries; Pacific Coast halibut fisheries; New England offshore fisheries; South Atlantic and Gulf shrimp fisheries; the fur seal industry of the Pribilof Islands; and the Pacific Coast whaling industry.

The first comprehensive survey of fisheries and fishery industries of the United States was made for the year 1880, although it did not include the Mississippi River and its tributaries. A complete survey of the United States was conducted in 1908 and again in 1931. Various sections of the country have been surveyed from time to time. A complete survey of all sections, including manufacturing and wholesaling operations, was made for 1950. Beginning in 1954, complete data have been collected annually, except for a portion of the Mississippi River and its tributaries in 1961.

A report on the 1963 Census of Commercial Fisheries was released by the Bureau of the Census in 1966. It presents statistics on the number of commercial fishing operators, receipts from fishing activities, employment, vessels operated, value of catch, and fishing gear.

Section 27

Mining and Mineral Products

This section presents statistics relating to the mineral industries and mineral products. The data are arranged in four broad groupings: General summary statistics, fuels, nonmetals other than fuels, and metals. Summary measures of production and employment are presented for mining and its products. More detailed data on value and quantity of production, prices, imports and exports, consumption, and distribution are shown for specific mineral industries and products.

The principal source of these data is the Minerals Yearbook, published by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior, in four volumes, as follows: Metals and Minerals (Except Fuels), Fuels, Area Reports, and International Review. Other government sources are the Censuses of Mineral Industries conducted by the Bureau of the Census; Statistics of Oil Pipe Line Companies, issued annually by the Interstate Commerce Commission as Part 6 of Transport Statistics; and the Bureau of the Mint's Annual Report of the Director, which presents data on gold and silver. Nongovernment sources include the Engineering and Mining Journal, issued monthly by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., and The Iron Age, issued weekly by the Chilton Co.

Mineral statistics, with principal emphasis on commodity detail, have been collected by the United States Geological Survey or by the Bureau of Mines since 1880. Current data available from Bureau of Mines publications include quantities and values of minerals produced, sold or used by producers, or shipped; quantities of minerals stocked; crude materials treated and prepared minerals recovered; and consumption of mineral raw materials. The Bureau of Mines also collects and publishes data on man-hours, active days, length of shift, and accidents. The International Review presents mineral statistics for major countries and areas.

Decennial censuses of mineral industries were conducted by the Bureau of the Census from 1840 to 1940. Censuses were taken again for the years 1954, 1958, and 1963. They provide, for the various types of mineral establishments, information on operating costs, capital expenditures, and labor, equipment, and energy requirements in relation to their value of shipments and other receipts. Commodity statistics on many of the manufactured mineral products are also collected by the Bureau at monthly, quarterly, or annual intervals and issued in its Current Industrial Reports series.

Data on mining and mineral products may also be found in other sections of this Abstract. For example, data on iron and steel, aluminum and magnesium, copper products, clay products, and other manufactured mineral products appear in section 29, Manufactures; and summary data for outlying areas of the U.S. appear in section 32.

In general, figures shown in the individual commodity tables include data for outlying areas, and may therefore not agree with summary table 1038. Except for crude petroleum, the export and import figures include foreign trade passing through the customs districts of Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, but exclude shipments between contiguous U.S. and outlying areas.

NA Not available. X Not applicable.

² Includes small quantity of anthracite mined in States other than Pennsylvania.

³ Grindstones, pulpstones, millstones (weight not recorded), grinding pebbles, sharpening stones, and tube-mill liners.

⁴ Included with "Nonmetallic minerals, undistributed."

⁵ Weight not recorded.

⁶ Excludes abrasive stone, bituminous limestone and sandstone, and ground soapstone, all included elsewhere in table. Includes calcareous marl and slate.

⁷ Comprises value of items that cannot be disclosed: Calcium-magnesium chloride, diatomite, epsom salts from epsomite (1962-64) graphite, iodine, kyanite, lithium minerals, green sand marl, olivine, staurolite (1960-64), wollastonite, and values indicated by footnote reference 3.

⁸ Included with "Metals undistributed."

⁹ Includes 760 short tons of low-grade beryllium ore in 1962, and 750 short tons in 1963. Comprises value of items that cannot be disclosed: Chromite, cobalt, magnesium chloride for magnesium metal, manganiferous mineral, platinum-group metals (crude), rare earth metal concentrates, tin, zirconium concentrate, and values indicated by footnote reference 7.

² Computed by subtracting cost of supplies, minerals received for preparation, purchased fuel and electric energy, contract work, and purchased machinery from the value of shipments and capital expenditures.

³ Excludes proprietors and firm members of unincorporated concerns.

⁴ Represents employees up through the working foreman level engaged in manual work. Includes development and exploration workers.

⁵ Excludes paid vacations, holidays, and sick leave; includes actual overtime hours (not straight-time equivalent).

⁶ Represents value of shipments of primary and secondary products of the industry and amount received for services performed for other establishments on a contract, fee, or other basis.

SUMMARY: 1954, 1958, AND 1963

Excludes establishments for which both value of shipments and expenditures amounted to less than $500.

⁷ Excludes figures for uranium-radium-vanadium ores industry (not available).

⁸ Not strictly comparable with data for earlier years because of change in reporting procedures for crude petroleum and natural gas companies.

⁹ Data were collected on the quantity but not on the cost of gas received for processing and on the value of residue gas shipped. Such costs have been estimated and included in group totals.

¹⁰ Excludes data for dimension stone quarries operated in conjunction with dressing plants.

¹¹ Excludes data for mining included in establishments, classified in manufacturing industries.

¹² Excludes 1 crushed stone quarry in Hawaii operated as part of an establishment primarily producing ready-mixed concrete.

¹ Preliminary except for anthracite coal, coke, petroleum and natural gas, peat, native asphalt, and slag.

³ Beginning 1960, number of fatalities and permanent total injuries at petroleum and natural gas operations are combined. Fatal-frequency rates 1960-1962 include an unknown number of permanent total injuries which cannot be separated from fatal injuries.

⁴ Native.

⁵ Beginning 1960, includes clay mines. Includes Alaska; beginning 1960, includes Hawaii.

⁶ Includes manufacture of cement and lime. Beginning 1960, includes Alaska and Hawaii.

¹ Quantities of stone not sold by short tons are expressed in approximate equivalents in short tons.

² Includes calcareous marl (1,283,000 tons valued at $1,353,000 in 1960, and 1,043,000 tons valued at $899,000 in 1964) excluded in distribution by kind of stone.

³ Beginning 1955, includes ground sandstone, quartz, and quartzite for abrasives and other uses.

⁴ Beginning 1955, includes limestone, cement rock, and dolomite used in making cement, lime, and dead-burned dolomite.

² Data are for "general imports," i.e., include copper imported for immediate consumption plus material entering country under bond. Comprises copper in ingots, plates, and bars, ores and concentrates, regulus, blister, and scrap.

³ Total exports of copper, exclusive of ore, concentrates, composition metal, and unrefined copper. Exclusive also of "Other copper manufactures," for which quantity figures are not recorded before 1953. Beginning 1960, data not strictly comparable with earlier years due to changes in classification.

Section 28

Construction and Housing

This section presents various measures of construction activity and costs; housing units; housing values, facilities, and structural characteristics; and residential financing.

The principal sources of these data are the monthly Construction Reports series (see below) and reports of the decennial Census of Housing published by the Bureau of the Census; and the monthly Construction Review, published by the Business and Defense Services Administration. Other sources, specializing in particular types of construction or housing statistics, include the monthly Dodge Construction Contract Statistics Services of F. W. Dodge Company, a division of McGraw-Hill, Inc., which presents State data on construction contracts; the Engineering News-Record, issued weekly by McGraw-Hill, Inc., which contains figures on construction costs; the Annual Report of the Department of Housing and Urban Development which presents housing statistics for all its operating programs; and the Annual Report of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which presents home mortgage data. Monthly data on characteristics of vacant housing units are collected by the Bureau of the Census and presented quarterly in its Current Housing Reports.

Construction.—Monthly statistics on the start of construction of total, single-family, and multifamily housing units in housekeeping residential buildings are published in Construction Reports: Housing Starts. Quarterly information is presented on number of units in multifamily buildings by number of floors and presence of elevators in structures. The statistics are derived from monthly sample surveys which measure the relationship between housing units authorized by permits and the number of units on which construction started. Housing starts in areas which do not issue permits are measured directly by a monthly survey in a sample of such areas.

Monthly statistics supplemented by additional quarterly data on the number of 1-family homes sold and for sale, compiled by the Bureau of the Census under the sponsorship of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, are published in Construction Reports: Housing Sales. Statistics are based on samples of homes authorized by building permits and of homes started in areas without permit systems.

Monthly estimates of the value of construction put in place appear in the Bureau of the Census series, Construction Reports: Construction Activity. Estimates for private residential construction are based primarily on housing starts statistics and on construction cost data derived largely from building permit records. Estimates for nonresidential buildings such as stores, office buildings, and factories are compiled from a Bureau of the Census survey of those new construction projects in the 37 Eastern States and the District of Columbia identified by the F. W. Dodge Company, supplemented by building permit data covering the 13 Western States. Public utility construction estimates are derived from data compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission and other Federal regulatory agencies, and by private associations and organizations such as the American Gas Association, the Edison Electric Institute, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Statistics for State and local governmental construction are derived from expenditure data obtained quarterly by the Bureau of the Census from State and local government bodies. Estimates of federally financed construction, and of the Federal component of federally aided construction programs, are derived by the Bureau of the Census from reports of the responsible Federal agencies.

Monthly statistics on the number of housing units authorized by building permits, based on reports provided monthly by over 3,000 relatively active permit-issuing places and annually by the 12,000 known permit-issuing jurisdictions, appear in Construction Reports: Building Permits.

Annual statistics on expenditures for residential additions, alterations, repairs, maintenance, and replacements are published in Construction Reports: Residential Alterations and Repairs. (This survey, suspended in 1964, was resumed in 1965.) Statistics are based on expenditures reported by owners and renters of a sample of single and multifamily properties, including nonfarm and farm, privately and publicly owned, and occupied and vacant housing units.

Housing.—From 1850 through 1930, the Bureau of the Census collected some housing data in conjunction with Censuses of Population and Agriculture. Beginning in 1940, full-fledged Censuses of Housing have been taken at 10-year intervals. The most recent census, taken as of April 1, 1960, provided data on occupancy and structural characteristics, condition, plumbing facilities, equipment, fuels, and financing. It also included data on components of inventory change (new construction, conversion, merger, demolition, and other gains and losses) for 1950–60 and 1957–60.

Housing data were collected by the Bureau of the Census in sample surveys in October 1944, November 1945, April 1947, and May 1948 as part of the Current Population Survey (see p. 1). In 1955, the Bureau began a monthly vacancy survey, results of which are issued on a quarterly basis. A National Housing Inventory, conducted in 1956, provided measurements of the housing supply for the nation as a whole and for selected metropolitan areas, and information on components of change during the 1950–56 period.

Housing units.—In general, a housing unit is a group of rooms or a single room occupied or intended for occupancy as separate living quarters, that is, the occupants do not live and eat with any other persons in the structure, and there is either (1) direct access from the outside or through a common hall, or (2) a kitchen or cooking equipment for the exclusive use of the occupants. Transient accommodations (tourist courts, hotels, etc.), barracks for workers (railroad, construction, etc.), and institutional-type quarters are not included in the housing-unit inventory.

In the 1950 Census, the unit of enumeration was the dwelling unit. Although the definition of housing unit in 1960 is essentially similar to that of dwelling unit in 1950, the housing unit definition was designed to encompass all separate living quarters, whereas the dwelling unit definition did not. The main difference was in the treatment of 1-room quarters. Nevertheless, the change in definition between 1950 and 1960 had relatively little effect on comparability of the data at national and State levels.

Residential financing.—As early as 1890, the Bureau of the Census (then Census Division of the Department of the Interior) collected detailed statistics on residential mortgages. As part of the 1920 and 1940 Censuses, mortgage questions were asked of owners who occupied their own homes. In 1950, the census included a separate survey on residential financing, covering nonfarm residential mortgaged properties, both owner and renter. As part of the 1956 National Housing Inventory, data were collected on the financing of owner-occupied nonfarm properties. In 1960, the Residential Finance Survey program of the Census of Housing covered financing of both home owner and rental properties and characteristics of nonmortgaged as well as mortgaged properties.

Data on home mortgages and foreclosures, based largely on reports from major holders, are provided by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The Federal Housing Administration compiles, from its records, data on its real estate financial operations, such as volume of mortgages insured, type of lending institution, etc. The Veterans Administration also compiles, from its records, data on amounts and types of loans.

Urban, rural, and farm-nonfarm residence.—See section 1, "Population," for 1960 definitions of urban, rural, and farm-nonfarm residence.

² Based on minimum wage rates agreed upon through collective bargaining; excludes overtime. As of July 1. Source: Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, unpublished data.

³ Covers both building and nonbuilding construction, excluding maintenance and repair. Represents a weighted average of various indexes, both private and government, used for different types of construction.

⁴ Based on average contract unit bid prices for composite mile (involving specific average amounts of excavation, paving, reinforcing steel, structural steel, and structural concrete).

⁷ Average of 20 cities for types shown. Weights based on surveys of actual building costs and vary with different types of structures. Wage rates used for both common and skilled labor. Reflects payment of sales taxes and social security payroll taxes. Unweighted averages from Boeckh series prepared by Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

¹⁰ Eastern cities. Based on firm's cost experience with respect to labor rates, materials prices, competitive conditions, efficiency of plant and management, and productivity. Reflects payment of sales taxes and employee-benefit costs.

¹² As derived by Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; covers steam production plants only; excludes hydraulic plants.

¹ Represents the sum of the value of residential building contracts, nonresidential building contracts, and nonbuilding construction contracts. The existence of very large individual projects in the nonbuilding series results in an irregular pattern that is not conducive to seasonal adjustment.

No. 1105. CONTRACTS AWARDED, 1940 TO 1962, AND PLANNING BACKLOG, 1950 TO 1965, BY TYPE

[In millions of dollars. Prior to 1959, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Backlog of construction planning includes⁸ cumulative total of all jobs in planning stage at end of each year. Covers U.S. construction projects of following minimum costs: For 1940 and 1945, waterworks, excavation, drainage, and irrigation, $15,000; other public works, $25,000; industrial plants, $40,000; other buildings, $150,000. For 1950, minimums were: $28,000, $50,000, $68,000, and $250,000. For 1955, minimums were: $44,000, $73,000, $93,000, and $344,000. For 1960-62, minimums were: $53,000, $88,000, $110,000, and $400,000. For 1963-65, minimums were $100,000 for nonbuilding, $100,000 for industrial plants, and $500,000 for buildings. No. 1107. BUILDING PERMITS—NUMBER AND VALUATION OF NEW HOUSING UNITS
AUTHORIZED IN SELECTED SMSA's: 1960 to 1965

[Money figures in millions of dollars. Covers only permit-issuing places within standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's). Includes public housing contract awards. The "10,000 place" series is based on a U.S. total of approximately 10,000 places identified in 1959 as having local building permit systems; the "12,000 place" series on a total of approximately 12,000 places so identified in 1962. For definition of SMSA, see text, p. 1]

No. 1110. NEW PRIVATELY OWNED NONFARM ONE-FAMILY HOUSING UNITS
STARTED—NUMBER AND AVERAGE CONSTRUCTION COST: 1960 to 1966

[Average cost of all such housing units started nationally. Data do not represent construction cost of a typical house. These averages are affected by changes in cost of materials and labor, variations in size and design of the houses, type of projects started, differences in construction methods, and other variables. Construction cost covers only labor, materials, and subcontracted work, and that part of the builders' overhead and profit chargeable directly to the construction projects; excludes architect and engineering fees. Cost data based primarily on builders' estimates of construction cost made at the start of construction]

¹ Statistics on the number of occupied units are essentially comparable although identified by various terms—the term “family” applies to figures for 1930 and earlier; “occupied dwelling unit,” 1940 and 1950; and “occupied housing unit,” 1960. For 1890, 1910, and 1920, includes the small number of quasi-families; 1900 and 1930 represent private families only.

² Total population, which includes the population in group quarters and quasi-family groups, divided by the number of occupied units. This concept was used for consistency; population counts, exclusive of persons in group quarters and quasi-family groups, are not available for some of the census years.

³ Includes Alaska and Hawaii.

⁴ Not comparable with data for earlier censuses because of a basic change in definition of farm residence. See text, p. 2.

⁵ For 1890 to 1920, “Farm” contains a small proportion of urban-farm families in addition to the rural-farm families.

No. 1127. RENTER-OCCUPIED NONFARM HOUSING UNITS—GROSS MONTHLY RENT: 1940 TO 1960

[Number in thousands. Prior to 1960, excludes Alaska and Hawaii. Contract monthly rent is the rent at the time of enumeration, as contracted for by the renter, regardless of whether it includes furniture, heating fuel, electricity, cooking fuel, water, or other services sometimes supplied. Gross monthly rent is contract monthly rent plus the reported average monthly cost of utilities (electricity, gas, water) and other fuels (such as coal, oil, kerosene, and wood) if these items were paid for by the renter, in addition to contract monthly rent. In 1940 and 1950, if furniture was included in the contract rent, the reported estimated rent of the housing unit without furniture was used for the computation rather than the contract rent. For definition of median, see headnote, table 5]

FIG. XLVII. INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION INDEXES: 1955 TO 1965

[1957-59=100. See table 1141]

Source: Chart prepared by Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. Data from Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Section 29

Manufactures

This section presents measures of the manufacturing segment of the economy and its component inputs and outputs. The input data include figures for establishments; employment and wages; raw materials, fuels, and electricity consumed; plant and equipment expenditures; and water use. The output data include figures for value and quantity of production and shipments; and value added by manufacture. Both types of data are shown for manufacturing as a whole, for major product groups, and for specific selected products.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Manufactures conducted periodically by the Bureau of the Census; the same agency's Annual Survey of Manufactures; and its Current Industrial Reports series which presents monthly, quarterly, or annual data on production, shipments, and stocks for particular commodities. Indexes of industrial production are presented monthly in the Federal Reserve Board's Federal Reserve Bulletin. Reports on current activities of industries, or current movements of individual commodities, are also compiled by such government agencies as Bureau of Labor Statistics, Statistical Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture, Business and Defense Services Administration, Fish and Wildlife Service, Tariff Commission, and Internal Revenue Service; and by private research or trade associations such as the American Iron and Steel Institute, the National Cannery Association, and the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

Data on financial operations and intercorporate relations of manufacturing corporations are collected from time to time by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Tariff Commission, and the Federal Trade Commission. Financial statistics for certain manufacturing industries in the form of balance sheets, profit and loss statements, analyses of sales and expenses, lists of subsidiaries, and types and amounts of security issues are summarized and published for the leading corporations that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Tariff Commission publishes commodity surveys which cover economic and competitive aspects of production, distribution, and international trade in selected important industries. Each survey deals with several products which are related because of the raw materials consumed, or because of their competitive uses. The Federal Trade Commission has made several comprehensive studies of individual industries.

Censuses and annual surveys.—The first Census of Manufactures covered the year 1809. Thereafter, a census was taken at 10-year intervals to 1899, with the exception of 1829. It was conducted at 5-year intervals from 1904 through 1919, and at 2-year intervals from 1921 through 1939. It was suspended during the war period until the 1947 Census. Thereafter, censuses were taken covering 1954, 1958, and 1963. Recent legislation provides for a quinquennial census to be conducted for years ending in "2" and "7." Thus, the next census will be conducted in 1968 covering manufactures during 1967.

The Annual Survey of Manufactures, conducted for the first time in 1949, carries forward, for the intercensal years, measures of manufacturing activity covered in detail by the quinquennial Census of Manufactures. It provides statistics on employment, payrolls, value added by manufacture, inventories, and new capital expenditures for industry groups, individual industries, geographic divisions, States, and large standard metropolitan statistical areas.

The most recent annual survey is based on a sample of about 60,000 of an approximate total of 300,000 manufacturing establishments. It comprises all large plants, which account for approximately two-thirds of total manufacturing employment in the United States, and a representative selection of the more numerous small plants. Government-owned and -operated establishments are excluded.

Establishments and classification.—The 1947, 1954, 1958, and 1963 Censuses of Manufactures covered operating manufacturing establishments as defined in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual issued by the Bureau of the Budget. Reports were required from all establishments employing one or more persons at any time during the census year. Each of the establishments tabulated was classified in one of the more than 400 manufacturing industries as defined by the Standard Industrial Classification system. This system defines an industry as a number of establishments producing a single product or a closely related group of products. An establishment is classified in a particular industry if its production of this product or product group exceeds in value its production of any other product group. In a few instances, the industry classification of an establishment is determined not only by its product group but also by the processes employed in making the products.

A revised edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual, which made extensive modifications in some of the industry groupings, was issued in 1957. Final reports of the 1958 Census of Manufactures present data tabulated on the basis of the new classifications and include 1954 Census data converted to the new SIC to effect comparability for the two years. Because of the revisions in the classification system, 1954, 1958, and 1963 Census data for some industries and industry groups are not comparable with figures for prior years.

While some establishments produce only the products of the industry in which they are classified, it rarely happens that all the establishments in an industry specialize to that extent. The statistics on employment, payrolls, value added, inventories, and expenditures, therefore, reflect not only the primary activities of the establishments in that industry but also activities of a secondary nature. For this reason the industry statistics usually cannot be directly related to statistics on the total shipments of products primary to the industry.

The 1947, 1954, 1958, and 1963 Censuses were conducted on an establishment basis. The term "establishment" signifies a single physical plant site or factory. It is not necessarily identical with the business unit or company, which may consist of one or more establishments. A company operating establishments at more than one location is required to submit a separate report for each location. An establishment engaged in distinctly different lines of activity and maintaining separate payroll and inventory records is also required to submit separate reports.

The basic statistical measures of manufacturing activity, such as employment, payrolls, value added, etc., are defined in essentially the same way for the annual surveys as for the Census of Manufactures. Consequently, these series may be considered comparable, except for the changes brought about by the 1957 revisions in the industry classification system noted above. However, beginning with 1949, average employment was calculated from the figures reported for the pay periods ending nearest the fifteenth of March, May, August, and November, whereas for 1947 such averages were based on 12 monthly employment figures. The 1954 figures are an average of reported employment totals for the four specified months, except for highly seasonal industries, where a 12-month average was obtained. For 1958 and 1963, averages of production workers for the four specified months plus the March figure for "all other employees" were used for all industries. Figures for 1947 exclude data for central administrative offices and auxiliary establishments of manufacturing concerns, which are included in the statistics for later years.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Technical Note—Annual Survey of Manufactures

The annual survey estimates vary from the totals that would have been obtained from a complete canvass of all manufacturing establishments. The relative magnitude of this sampling variation is given in the table column captioned "Standard error." The standard error should be interpreted to mean that the sample estimates will differ from complete canvass totals by less than: (1) The percentage shown in approximately 2 cases out of 3; (2) twice the percentage shown in approximately 19 cases out of 20; and (3) three times the percentage shown in almost every case. It should be noted that standard errors are shown only for selected items. The standard errors of other measures are usually of the same general magnitude.

In making any study of the trend, it is important to take account of the effect of the sampling variation on the apparent increase or decrease shown between years. In addition to sampling errors, individual figures may be subject to biases arising from undetected response or procedural errors which are not reflected in the "standard errors." Figures are normally withheld from publication in the original source volumes if (1) the standard error of the estimate exceeds 15 percent, or (2) survey estimates are inconsistent with other Census series and related data. Any estimate which can be derived by subtraction of one published figure from another may have a standard error considerably in excess of 15 percent.

Z Less than 500.

² For 1958, represents adjusted value added and, for 1947 and 1954, unadjusted value added. Unadjusted value added is obtained by subtracting cost of materials, supplies, containers, fuel, purchased electric energy, and contract work from value of shipments for products manufactured plus receipts for services rendered. Adjusted value added also takes into account (a) value added by merchandising operations (that is, difference between the sales value and cost of merchandise sold without further manufacture, processing, or assembly), plus (b) net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventories between beginning and end of year.

³ Excludes expenditures for plants under construction and not yet in operation. Data by employment size-class not available for 1947.

¹ Value of production. The formula for computing adjusted value added by manufacture was modified to exclude any change in finished products inventories between beginning and end of year.

² Withheld to permit additional checking of figures; however, data for these industries are included in totals.

³ Beginning 1963, not strictly comparable with earlier years due to difference in coverage.

⁴ Includes privately owned and/or operated establishments classified in "Ordnance and accessories." Excludes Government-owned and operated equipment.

⁵ Manufacturing concerns often reported separately for central offices or auxiliaries which serve the manufacturing establishments of a company, rather than the general public. Separate reports were obtained from such units if at a different location or if they serviced more than 1 establishment.

¹ Sum of State totals may not add to U.S. total because figures were independently derived.

² See footnote 1, table 1143. ³ Operating establishments only.

⁴ Includes employment and payroll at administrative offices and auxiliary units.

⁵ "Production workers" represents the average of the employment for the payroll periods ended nearest the 15th of March, May, August, and November. "All employees" represents the average of "production workers" plus all other employees for the payroll period ended nearest the 15th of March.

No. 1147. PERCENT OF SHIPMENTS AND EMPLOYMENT ACCOUNTED FOR BY LARGE MANUFACTURING COMPANIES, SELECTED INDUSTRIES: 1947 (OR 1950), 1954, AND 1958

[Excludes Alaska and Hawaii. First 50 industries as determined by value of shipments in 1958. Industry codes and descriptions are based on standard industrial classification (SIC) system used through 1947 and differ from those appearing in the 1958 Census of Manufactures Reports, Series MC58(2)-20A-MC58(2)-39E. For a description of the industries, see the appropriate 1954 Census of Manufactures Industry Reports MC20A-MC39E. Determination of company affiliation of establishments is based on Census reports and publicly available records. Value of shipments totals for establishments have been summarized into company totals in each manufacturing industry. "Largest" companies are determined by each company's value of shipments in the specified industry. Industries in the "not elsewhere classified" category are omitted, regardless of their value of shipments]

D Withheld to avoid disclosing figures for individual plants or products. NA Not available.

² Comprises for all manufacturing establishments classified in an industry (a) value of products "primary" to the industry, (b) value of "secondary" products, which are primary to other industries, and (c) "miscellaneous receipts" such as those for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap and salable refuse, repair, etc. Excludes sales of products bought and resold in same condition. 1954 figures for some industries reflect minor revisions of previously published data.

³ For 1950, number of companies not available.

⁴ For 1950 and 1954, data represent average of all employees for payroll period ending nearest 15th of March, May, August, and November except that, for 1954, the average of all 12 months was used for several industries. For 1958, data represent average number of production workers for payroll period ending nearest 15th of March, May, August, and November plus all other employees for period ending March 15.

⁵ Value of shipments, year 1947; for employment, 1950.

⁶ Value added by manufacture used as basis for computing percentages because value of shipments data (used for ranking) contain substantial and unmeasurable amount of duplication.

⁷ Based on combined figures for Industry 3311, Blast Furnaces; Industry 3312, Steelworks and Rolling Mills; Industry 2931, Beehive Coke Ovens; and Industry 2932, Byproduct Coke Ovens.

⁸ In 1954, this industry was composed of 2 industries, 2026, Fluid Milk (only), and 2027, Fluid Milk and Other Products. 1954 figures on value of shipments and on percentages accounted for by the 4 and 8 largest companies have been recalculated on a basis comparable to 1958. In 1947, establishments primarily distributing fluid milk were classified as nonmanufacturing.

⁹ In the 1958 Census, integrated pulp and paper companies were given the option of reporting their pulp and paper (or board) operations on a combined basis when both were conducted at a single physical location. Most integrated companies exercised this option, but a few with departmental accounting chose to report separately for the pulp mill and paper (or board) mill, as they were required to do in 1954. The only other pulp mills separately reported in the 1958 Census were (a) those exclusively selling their pulp on the market (i.e., not associated or affiliated with a paper and board mill), and (b) those pulp mills affiliated or associated with paper or board mills but operated at a different physical location. The change had little effect on comparability of value of shipments for the industry. Comparable data for 1947 not available. In 1947, Industry 2612, Paper and Paper-board Mills, was combined with Industry 2613, Building Paper and Board Mills.

¹⁰ Comparable data not available. In 1954 any establishment manufacturing at least 1 complete aircraft was classified in Industry 3721, Aircraft. In 1958 an establishment manufacturing complete aircraft was classified in Industry 3721 if its value of work done on aircraft exceeded its value of shipments of any other single industry's products.

¹¹ Approximately 50 small companies were misclassified into Industry 3721, Aircraft, because of incomplete reporting of product information. However, this misclassification had only an insignificant effect on value added, on employment, and on percentages accounted for by the 4 and 8 largest companies.

¹² Value of production shown rather than value of shipments. Includes value of primary and secondary products made and miscellaneous receipts such as receipts for contract and commission work on materials owned by others, scrap, and other salable refuse.

¹³ Comparable data not available.

¹⁴ A number of small establishments were misclassified into Industry 3411. This misclassification, however, has no appreciable effect on the total value of shipments or on the percentages accounted for by the largest companies.

¹⁵ Excluded from 1954 Census.

¹⁶ Comparable data not available because of significant changes in the 1947 classification of plants or products.

¹ Beginning 1961, represents alcohol and spirits, 190 proof and over, produced at distilled spirits plants.

² Through 1940, represents withdrawals of all products for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, spirits produced by registered distilleries (redesignated upon receipt at denaturing plants as alcohol), and rum. Beginning 1950, represents all products (except rum) used for denaturation, that is, domestic ethyl alcohol, imported ethyl alcohol, and spirits. Rum is included for 1940 because denatured rum is included with specially denatured alcohol, for that year.

³ Prior to 1950, includes denatured rum.

² Prior to 1960, represents registered distilleries, fruit distilleries, and industrial alcohol plants. In some instances a plant was operated at different times in more than 1 of these categories and was counted in each.

³ Prior to 1960, represents internal revenue bonded warehouses and industrial alcohol bonded warehouses.

⁴ Prior to 1960, net production obtained by deducting total products used in redistillation from gross production of neutral product (spirits); thereafter, each kind of distilled spirits used in redistillation was deducted from gross production of same kind. ⁵ Excludes alcohol produced for industrial use.

⁶ A tax gallon for spirits of 100 proof or over is equivalent to the proof gallon; for spirits of less than 100 proof, to the wine gallon. (See footnotes 7 and 9.)

⁷ A proof gallon is the alcoholic equivalent of a U.S. gallon at 60° F, containing 50 percent of ethyl alcohol by volume.

⁸ Includes ethyl alcohol. ⁹ A wine gallon is the U.S. gallon, equivalent to the volume of 231 cubic inches.

¹⁰ Production represents total amount removed from fermenters, including distilling material. In 1965, 367,798,634 gallons of distilling materials were produced.

¹¹ Includes special natural wines. ¹² Excludes distilling materials.

¹³ Includes champagne, other effervescent wines, and artificially carbonated wines.

— Represents zero. ¹ Reported by Bureau of the Census. For American cotton, tare as reported by Crop Reporting Board deducted. For foreign cotton, 15 pounds deducted.

² Reported by Bureau of the Census. Beginning 1950, excludes consumption in cotton and other spinning systems and consumption in batting and felt manufacture.

³ From Textile Organon. Represents domestic shipments plus imports for consumption. Beginning 1935, includes producers waste consumed at mills.

⁴ From Textile Organon. Represents domestic production less exports plus imports for consumption. Beginning 1935, includes producers waste consumed at mills.

⁵ Through 1950, represents imports for consumption reported by Bureau of the Census plus estimated production reported by (a) Bureau of Plant Industry through 1945 and (b) Portland, Oreg., Office of Agricultural Marketing Service for 1950; beginning 1955, imports for consumption reported by Bureau of the Census.

⁶ Compiled from reports of Bureau of the Census. For 1930, general imports less reexports; beginning 1935, imports for consumption.

¹ Prior to 1950, represents all spindles in place used exclusively for spinning cotton; thereafter, represents all spindles in place regardless of fiber spun.

² Prior to 1950, represents sum of greatest number of cotton spindles reported by each mill as active at any time during year, regardless of length of time operated; thereafter, comprises cotton-system spindles active last day of year, regardless of type of fiber spun. On July 31, 1965, there were 15,030,000 spindles active on cotton, 1,445,000 on synthetics, 2,282,000 on other fibers and blends, and 575,000 idle.

³ Includes foreign and domestic cotton.

⁴ Cotton stocks prior to 1940 and linters stocks for all years are stocks held by consuming establishments. Cotton stocks beginning in 1940 include stocks at public storage and compresses.

¹ Beginning 1950, totals include sales of liquid oxygen explosive. For 1961, 1962, 1963, and 1964, such sales amounted to 2,235,000, 2,243,000, 1,834,000 and 2,184,000 pounds, respectively, all for use in coal mining.

² Represents type of high explosives approved by Bureau of Mines as suitable for safe use in coal mines provided specifications of use are followed.

³ For 1950, 1957, and 1959 through 1964, includes prilled and/or grained ammonium nitrate blasting agents, both the completely processed variety and the not further processed.

S Withheld because data did not meet publication standards. X Not applicable.

¹ Made substantially of calcined diaspor or bauxite. "Calcined" as applied to diaspor and bauxite implies heat treatment short of fusion for volume stability prior to use in a refractory product.

² Excludes mullite and extra-high alumina refractories, included under nonclay refractories.

³ Includes feeder parts and upper structure shapes used only for glass tanks.

⁴ Includes other miscellaneous shaped refractory items.

⁵ Bonding mortars containing more than 60% Al₂O₃ dry basis included under nonclay refractories.

⁶ Includes products referred to as plastic firebrick and the less plastic materials intended for ramming into place after the addition of water (when shipped in dry form).

⁷ Represents only shipments by establishments classified in "manufacturing" industries and excludes shipments to refractory producers for manufacture of brick and other refractories. Other clay refractory includes calcined clay, ground brick, and siliceous and other gunning mixes.

⁸ Magnesite predominating. Excludes molten cast and fused magnesia.

⁹ Chrome predominating. ¹⁰ Excludes molten cast.

¹¹ Includes stopper heads and other shaped refractories containing natural graphite.

¹² Made predominantly of kyanite, sillimanite, andalusite, or synthetic mullite.

¹³ Made predominantly of fused bauxite, fused or dense-sintered alumina.

¹⁴ Made predominantly of silicon carbide. ¹⁵ Made predominantly of zircon or zirconia.

¹⁶ Includes dolomite-magnesite, pyrophyllite and other nonclay brick and shapes.

¹⁷ Magnesite or chrome ore predominating. ¹⁸ Hydraulic setting.

¹⁹ Magnesite, dolomite, or chrome ore predominating. ²⁰ Includes carbon refractories and gunning mixes.

²¹ Includes refractory clays subjected to no treatment other than grinding (and usually screening) or weathering or both.

Section 30

Distribution and Services

This section presents statistics relating to retail, wholesale, and service trades. Data shown for the distribution trades, classified by kind of business, and for the various categories of services (personal, business, repair, amusement, hotel, etc.) cover sales or receipts, establishments, employees, payrolls, proprietors, and other items. Also included are several tables on advertising expenditures.

The principal sources of these data are the reports of the Census of Business and of annual and monthly surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census. Data on retail sales, wholesale inventories and sales, consumer expenditures for services, etc. appear in the monthly Survey of Current Business, issued by the Office of Business Economics. Financial data for tax-filing and securities-listed corporations engaged in retail, wholesale, or service trades, and for sole proprietorships and partnerships similarly engaged, appear in the annual Statistics of Income, published by the Internal Revenue Service, and are also available from the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Federal Trade Commission, in the course of its investigations, collects operating statistics on firms and chains in various kinds of business.

Censuses and current surveys.—Censuses of business have been taken at intervals since 1929. The 1954 census was the first taken under present legislation, which provides for a quinquennial Census of Business. The latest census covers the year 1963.

Current sample surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census cover various aspects of the retail and wholesale trades. Estimates of weekly sales in retail stores are shown for the United States, by kind of business, in the Bureau's Weekly Retail Sales Report. Its Monthly Retail Trade Report contains monthly estimates of sales and end-of-month accounts receivable of all retail stores and of retail organizations operating 11 or more stores, United States, by kind of business. Also included are monthly retail sales data for Census regions and divisions, 15 large States, and 20 large standard metropolitan statistical areas. Annual figures on sales, sales-stock ratios, and year-end inventories and accounts receivable data, classified by kind of business, are presented in the Annual Retail Trade Report.

Statistics from the Bureau's wholesale trade survey, conducted monthly, include merchant wholesalers' sales and inventories and stock-sales ratios by kind of business, United States, as well as sales and inventory trends by kind of business and by geographic divisions. Monthly sales estimates are also shown by geographic divisions for the summary groups—durable goods trades, nondurable goods trades, and all trades combined. These data, based on reports submitted by a sample of firms representing merchant wholesalers in all kinds of business, appear in the Monthly Wholesale Trade Report. The monthly retail and wholesale data are adjusted by the Bureau of the Census for seasonal variations and, in the case of sales, also for trading day differences. These data are also published in the Survey of Current Business.

The Bureau of the Census issues a quarterly report on green coffee inventories in the United States as well as total coffee roastings and roastings for soluble use. The Bureau's Canned Food Report, issued five times a year, provides canner and distributor stocks of various canned foods as well as canners' data on pack and shipments of these items.

Estimates obtained from the annual and monthly surveys are based on sample data and are not expected to agree with the results that would be obtained from a complete census of all establishments. Measures of the sampling variability, shown in the source reports, exclude biases which might arise from differences of response or from non-reporting.

Establishments and coverage.—The business establishments covered in the Census of Business are classified into 3 groups as follows: (1) Retail trade, places of business primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal, household, or farm consumption; (2) Wholesale trade, establishments primarily engaged in selling goods to dealers and distributors for resale or to purchasers who buy for business uses; and (3) Selected services, establishments engaged primarily in the sale of services as contrasted with the sale of merchandise. Figures for establishments refer to those in business at the end of the year.

The Census of Business does not include the business activities of doctors, lawyers, dentists, and others performing a professional or scientific service; educational institutions; religious or charitable institutions; hospitals and infirmaries; and public utilities. Government-operated enterprises, except wholesale and retail liquor operations, are also excluded.

Data from the 1958 Census exclude retail and service nonemployer establishments which had receipts of less than $2,500 and $1,000, respectively. In the 1963 Census, this rule was modified so as to include those nonemployer establishments which did not operate the entire year if, during the period they operated, their receipts were at a rate which would have reached the annual totals specified had they operated the entire year. Wholesale trade establishments with no paid employment are excluded from both the 1958 and 1963 data.

Advertising.—The statistics on advertising expenditures are compiled by private organizations. McCann-Erickson, Inc., which compiles certain of the data shown, defines national advertising as the advertising done for companies whose products are distributed nationally, and for which national media rates are paid; and local advertising as the advertising done for companies which market their products locally and which may pay special "local" media rates. Monthly figures are published regularly in Printers' Ink and in the Survey of Current Business. Total corporate expenditures for advertising, by industry, appear in Statistics of Income.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

Section 31

Foreign Commerce and Aid

This section presents measures of the flow of goods, precious metals, services, and funds between the United States and other countries. These measures appear in summary in the balance of payments and in detail as dollar values of imports and exports of merchandise or commodities classified by countries of their origin or destination. Related aspects also shown are international investments, foreign assistance programs, and import duties.

The Office of Business Economics compiles and publishes current figures on the U.S. balance of payments and international investment position in its monthly Survey of Current Business, and on total foreign aid by the Federal Government in its periodic Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government. Figures for earlier periods are presented in Balance of Payments—Statistical Supplement, 1963 revised edition. Statistics for the foreign aid programs are presented by the Agency for International Development in its quarterly Operations Report and annual report, U.S. Economic Programs Administered by the Agency for International Development and Predecessor Agencies, and by the Department of Agriculture in its Foreign Agricultural Trade of the United States.

The principal sources of import and export data are publications of the Bureau of the Census. Current data are presented monthly in Report FT 125, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, and in Report FT 410, United States Exports, Commodity by Country. Historical data appear in Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States, issued annually through 1946 and resumed, on an annual basis in 1965, with a volume covering the years 1946 to 1963. For a complete list of the Bureau's monthly, quarterly, and annual reports in this field, consult the Bureau of the Census Catalog. In addition, the Bureau of International Commerce and the Office of Business Economics present summary and selected commodity and country data for U.S. foreign trade in the Overseas Business Reports and the Survey of Current Business, respectively. The Treasury Department's Annual Report of the Secretary contains information on import duties.

International accounts and foreign aid.—The balance of payments table shows for given time periods the transfer of goods, services, grants, and financial assets and liabilities between the United States and the rest of the world or between the United States and a specific country or area.

The international investment position table presents for specific dates the value of U.S. investments abroad and of foreign investments in the United States. The movement of foreign and U.S. capital as presented in the balance of payments is not the only factor affecting the total value of foreign investments. Among the other factors are: Changes in the valuation of assets or liabilities, including securities; defaults; expropriations; write-offs; and reinvested earnings of subsidiaries operating abroad and of foreign subsidiaries operating in the United States.

Foreign assistance is divided into three major categories—grants (military supplies and services, and other grants), credits, and other assistance (through net accumulation of foreign currency claims from the sale of agricultural commodities). The U.S. Government's capital investments in the international financial institutions constitute an additional measure taken by the Government to promote foreign economic recovery, development, and financial stability.

Grants are transfers for which no payment is expected (other than a limited percentage of the foreign currency "counterpart" funds generated by the grant), or which at most involve an obligation on the part of the receiver to extend aid to the United States or other countries to achieve a common objective. Credits are loan disbursements or transfers under other agreements which give rise to specific obligations to repay, over a period of years, usually with interest. In some instances assistance has been given with the understanding that a decision as to repayment will be made at a later date; such assistance is included in grants. At such time as an agreement is reached for repayment over a period of years, a credit is established. Such credits cannot, as a rule, be deducted from specific grants recorded in previous periods; an adjustment for grants converted into credits is made at the time of agreement. All known returns to the U.S. Government stemming from grants and credits (reverse grants, returns of grants, and payments of principal) are taken into account in net grants and net credits, but no allowance is made for interest or commissions. Other assistance represents the transfer of U.S. farm products in exchange for foreign currencies, (plus, since enactment of Public Law 87-128, currency claims from principal and interest collected on credits extended under the farm products program), less the Government's disbursements of the currencies as grants, credits, or for purchases. The net acquisition of currencies represents net transfers of resources to foreign countries under the agricultural programs, in addition to those classified as grants or credits.

Figures as published in Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government are not identical with figures shown for Government unilateral transfers and capital in the balance of payments, mainly because of differences in treatment of particular items by the two sets of accounts. Such items include: Contributions to the multilateral construction program of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; Government investments in certain productive enterprises abroad; Government receipts on funded claims; and net changes in foreign currency holdings resulting from transactions other than those under the farm products disposal program, such as by collection of principal and interest and by purchase for dollars.

The basic instrument for extending military aid to friendly nations has been the Mutual Defense Assistance Program authorized by the Congress in 1949. Prior to 1952, economic and technical aid was authorized by the Congress in the Foreign Assistance Act of 1948, the 1950 Act for International Development, and other legislation which set up programs for specific countries (e.g., Korea, Nationalist Government of China, etc.). In 1952, these economic, technical, and military aid programs were combined under the Mutual Security Act, which in turn was followed by the Foreign Assistance Act passed in 1961. Figures on activity under the Foreign Assistance Act as reported in Foreign Grants and Credits differ from similar data published by the Agency for International Development or its immediate predecessors, the International Cooperation Administration and the Development Loan Fund (now combined in the AID), due largely to differences in method of reporting, timing, and treatment of particular items.

Foreign trade.—Export data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from Shippers' Export Declarations which exporters are required to file with Collectors of Customs for shipments leaving the United States. Export data include shipments made after World War II under the Department of the Army Civilian Supply Program only for 1948 and subsequent years. In addition, export data include United States exports under the Lend-Lease, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, International Cooperation Administration, Mutual Defense Assistance, and other mutual security programs. Shipments to United States Armed Forces for their own use are not included in export statistics for any period.

Export values are based on the selling price (or on the cost, if not sold) of the commodity shipped and include inland freight, insurance, and other charges to place of export. Transportation and other costs beyond the United States port of exportation are excluded. The country of destination is defined as the country of ultimate destination or country where the merchandise is to be consumed, further processed, or manufactured. In the event the exporter does not have definite information as to the country of ultimate destination for a shipment, it is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country to which it is consigned.

Certain export commodity classifications were grouped for security reasons into special categories beginning with May 1949, with periodic amendments to include additional commodities. With the adoption of new security regulations, effective July 1950, the publication of the country of destination and customs district detail for the special category commodities and groups was discontinued. Data for special category commodities are included, however, in all total export statistics.

Shipments individually valued at less than $100 are not classified by commodity, but are included in exports with "other transactions." From July 1953, through December 1959, a 10-percent sample was the basis for data on export shipments individually valued from $100 to $499 (about 4 to 6 percent of total exports) except that, for January through June 1956, the 10 percent applied to shipments valued up to $999. Beginning January 1960, the sample ratio was increased to 50 percent for all countries except Canada. Effective January 1963, the 10-percent sample for Canada was applied to shipments individually valued from $100 to $1,999. Unless otherwise noted, the margin of error in individual export totals due to sampling is probably less than 5 percent.

Import data are compiled by the Bureau of the Census from import entries (various customs forms) which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs for each shipment arriving. Import values are, in general, based on market or selling price excluding import duties and are f.o.b. the exporting country. The country of origin is defined as the country in which the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. If the importer cannot obtain information as to the country of origin, the merchandise is credited (for statistical purposes) to the country of shipment.

Imports are classified either as general imports or imports for consumption. General imports represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for in-transit shipments), that is, merchandise released from customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into a bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. Imports for consumption comprise merchandise entered into U.S. consumption channels, that is, merchandise released from customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into a bonded manufacturing warehouse (other than smelting or refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from a bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in a bonded smelting warehouse, withdrawn for consumption or for export.

Beginning 1954, estimates of imports valued at $250 or less are based on a 5-percent sample; and beginning 1958, estimates of imports valued under $100 reported on formal consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (limited to $250) are based on a 1-percent sample. Beginning July 1965, formal entry shipments valued at $250 and under are also estimated from a 1-percent sample. These estimated low-value shipments are included in commodity and country exports with "other transactions." The total value of the estimated low-value shipments generally amounts to less than 2 percent of the monthly import total.

A description of the procedures used for compiling the foreign trade statistics appears in Report FT 125, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, and Report FT 410, United States Exports, Commodity by Country.

Data relating to United States airborne and waterborne foreign commerce are presented in section 22, Transportation—Air and Water.

Except as noted, the values stated are in United States dollars without reference to changes in the gold content of the dollar.

Area coverage.—The geographic area covered by these statistics, except as noted, is the United States customs area, which includes Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, and for 1935 through 1939, the Virgin Islands. "Conterminous area" refers to the United States excluding Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1957. See preface.

No. 1244. MAJOR U.S. GOVERNMENT FOREIGN ASSISTANCE, BY PROGRAM: 1945 TO 1965

[In millions of dollars. "P.L." means Public Law. Grants and credits are generally goods delivered or shipped by, services rendered by, or funds disbursed by U.S. Government to or for account of a foreign government or other foreign entity. "Reverse grants and returns" and "principal collections" are comprised of goods, services, and funds received by U.S. Government. "Assistance through net accumulation of foreign currency claims" primarily represents transfer of U.S. farm products in exchange for foreign currencies (plus, since enactment of P.L. 87-128, principal and interest collections in foreign currencies for credits extended under the farm sales program), less the Government's disbursements of the currencies as grants, credits, or for purchases. "Funds" includes foreign currency which, with goods and services, is measured in dollar equivalents]

¹ July 1, 1945, through Dec. 31, 1965. All lend-lease and conversions of prior grants to credits are from V-J Day (Sept. 2, 1945). For additional details on immediate postwar period, see prior editions of the Statistical Abstract.² For detail, see table 1246.³ Net new grants have not been adjusted for settlements for postwar relief and other grants under agreements, and net new credits exclude prior grants converted into credits. Prior grants converted into credits were as follows: July 1945–December 1956, $2,287 million; 1962, $490 million. Repayments on these settlements included in net new credits. Technically, prior grants recorded into credits amounting to $273 million are so recorded for convenience, as settlements are still to be reached with governments in question.⁴ Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (P.L. 87-195), as amended. Also includes predecessor and related programs. Data for Defense Dept. transactions in 1964 and 1965 are estimated.⁵ These "loans" are essentially transfers on an indeterminate basis, generally requiring only the return of the identical item, if available. In essence, this was the requirement pertaining to wartime lend-lease transfers of watercraft, which were included as grant transfers in these data.⁶ Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act.⁷ Includes donations through United Nations Children's Fund and United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees.⁸ Outstanding credits on Dec. 31, 1965, totaled $18,864 million representing net credits extended since organization of Export-Import Bank, Feb. 12, 1934, less chargeoffs, and net adjustments due to exchange rates ($269 million), and excluding World War I debts. The amount repayable in dollars at U.S. Government option was $13,514 million; the remainder was repayable in foreign currencies, commodities, or services, at the option of the borrowers.⁹ Equivalent value of currencies still available to be used, including $1 million advanced from foreign governments and after loss by exchange rate fluctuations ($831 million), was $2,502 million on Dec. 31, 1965.¹⁰ Commodity Credit Corporation Charter Act.¹¹ Includes foreign currencies acquired from triangular trade operations and principal and interest collections on credits, originally extended under Public Law 83-480, which—since enactment of Public Law 87-128—are available for the same purposes as Public Law 83-480 currencies.Source: Dept. of Commerce, Office of Business Economics; periodic report, Foreign Grants and Credits by the United States Government.

- Represents zero. ¹ Military assistance programs chargeable to appropriations; totals exclude grants from stocks which are excess to requirements of U.S. military departments and are not charged to appropriations. Annual data for military assistance and excess stocks are net deliveries; cumulative totals represent total amounts programmed for 1950-1965. The difference between the sum of the data by years and the cumulative total is the value of goods programmed but not yet delivered.

² 1947-1959, data from Bureau of Customs. Customs duties (including import excise taxes) calculated on the basis of reports of quantity and value of imports of merchandise entered directly for consumption or withdrawn from bonded customs warehouses.

² Percents based on quantity are considerably lower than those based on value (see source).

³ Exports exclude rice flour, meal and polishing, and rice mill feeds; include private shipments for relief and charity amounting to $21.5 million for 1960.

⁴ The volume of imports exceeds that of exports for this commodity group.

⁵ Exports include ink or color blacks.

⁶ Percents are based on data for refined copper and alloys.

⁷ Exports exclude miscellaneous type machines, such as coin handling and voting booths.

⁸ Exports include some used and rebuilt sewing machines and parts.

⁹ Percents based on output representing value of work done for military type aircraft and shipments for other products. Output also includes substantial amounts of duplication.

¹⁰ Includes propellers.

¹¹ Exports exclude hospital furniture and small items, such as chart racks, bed rests, etc.

X Not applicable. ¹ Substantial volume also exported. ² Includes manganiferous iron ore (less than 10 percent manganese). ³ Percentages based on output of chromium and molybdenum ores only.
⁴ Excludes refined anhydrous sulfate and salt cake (crude) technical. ⁵ Percentages based on output which contains substantial duplication. ⁶ Excludes distillers' dried grain and dried solubles.
⁷ Mainly coconut, tung, oilseeds, and castor oil. ⁸ Excludes excelsior and coopeage heading.
⁹ Excludes paper-machine coated paper. ¹⁰ Probably includes significant amounts of plastic footwear.
¹¹ Output data represent all leather gloves; imports represent chief value of leather.
¹² Not calculated because of duplication involved in combined output figures; minimum percent, 20.
¹³ Does not reflect significant amounts of toll production. ¹⁴ Represents mainly platinum metals and tin.

² Exports of "Special Category" commodities are not reported by country of destination, for security reasons. Therefore, data in this table do not represent total exports to the respective countries and areas, but total exports to "Special Category" commodities. See July 1955, June, August, and December 1957, and April 1958 issues of Foreign Trade Statistics Notes and January 1961 Report No. F.T. 410 for further explanation and lists of "Special Category" commodities.

³ Sampling error is not greater than $11,000 to $15,000.

⁴ Sampling error is not greater than 2 to 5 percent.

⁵ Sampling error is not greater than 10 to 15 percent.

⁶ Sampling error is not greater than 5 to 10 percent.

⁷ Land included in Northeastern Area, prior to 1965; reported under Northwestern and Central Area effective January 1965.

⁸ The year indicated with France prior to July 1958; with West Germany thereafter.

⁹ Country designations established January 1952; data for 1950 represent combined trade with East and West Germany.

NO. 1259. EXPORTS OF U.S. MERCHANDISE AND IMPORTS—INDEXES OF QUANTITY AND VALUE: 1946 TO 1965

[1957-59 average=100. For area coverage, see text, p. 843. Quantity and unit value indexes were constructed on a preceding year base and chained into the series shown below. The calculations were made in accordance with Fisher's "ideal formula," using both the weights of the given year and those of the preceding (or base) year. Indexes were based on selected commodities which were assigned weights reflecting their values in the trade. Commodities for which quantities and unit values did not directly enter the computations were taken into account in the weighting on the assumption that proportionate changes in their prices were similar to that of the selected commodities directly covered in the same economic class or subdivision. See Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1887, series U 21-44, for indexes on a 1913 and 1923-25 base]

¹ Beginning 1947, export indexes include shipments under the Dept. of Defense Civilian Supply program.

² Includes Commodity Credit Corporation sales for export at prices well below U.S. market quotations and other agricultural exports under Government programs. Excludes military grant aid.

³ "Manufactured foodstuffs" includes beverages and, from 1941 through 1957, all exports of foodstuffs for relief or charity. Beginning 1958, exports of crude foodstuffs for relief or charity included with "Crude foodstuffs" and manufactured with "Manufactured foodstuffs."

⁴ Value indexes for 1964 and all indexes for 1965 are based on general imports. Unit value indexes for 1964 and all indexes for prior years are based on imports for consumption.

No. 1260. EXPORTS OF MANUFACTURES—ESTIMATED VALUE, BY SELECTED PRODUCT GROUPS, BY STATES: 1960 AND 1963

[In millions of dollars, f.o.b., factory prices. State distribution estimated by Bureau of the Census on results of a 1963 survey. Data for 1960 represent revisions over those published in the 1963 and 1964 editions of the Statistical Abstract. The survey provided geographic distributions for two-thirds of the $14.3 billion total in 1960, and for two-thirds of the $16.3 billion total in 1963. Product groups represent two-digit SIC groups. For further details, including relation to official United States export figures, see source]

No. 1261. TOTAL EMPLOYMENT AND EMPLOYMENT ATTRIBUTABLE TO EXPORTS, BY INDUSTRY: 1960

In thousands, except percent. Value of exports converted to employment in the private economy by (1) assigning commodity exports to the producing industry, (2) deriving indirect output required for these exports from each of the export supporting industries, and (3) converting direct and indirect output requirements into employment by using output per employee ratios. Export statistics used in deriving direct employment estimates were adjusted to a domestic U.S. basis by including exports to Puerto Rico and excluding exports from Puerto Rico to foreign countries. Employment estimates provide general indicators rather than precise figures. For description of methods and sources used in making estimates, see source¹

¹ Farm employment estimates for 1960 from Farm Labor, Dept. of Agriculture, and Census of Agriculture, Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; manufacturing employment estimates from 1959 Survey of Manufactures, Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census; employment for remaining industry groups based on 1960 employment estimates by the Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, contained in Employment and Earnings, November 1961.

² Covers employment in producing, transporting, and marketing goods in form in which exported. Employment required for transportation of goods is included in transportation industry; for marketing, in trade industry.

³ Covers employment in supporting industries which produce, transport, and market materials, parts, components, etc., used to make the products which are exported.

⁴ Covers all nonfarm wage and salary employment (excluding government) and total employment on farms, including farm operators, family workers, and employees. May exceed actual number of persons employed because of dual job-holding.

⁵ Includes exports of major military end items such as military vehicles, aircraft, ships, and ordnance, including small arms and ammunition. Of the total military direct employment of 65.9 thousand workers, about 39.6 are in transportation equipment industry group and 26.3 in ordnance and miscellaneous manufacturing.

⁷ Covers utilities, communications, all business services, forestry, fisheries, agricultural services, and contract construction.

⁸ Employment required to replace plant and equipment used up in the course of producing, transporting, and marketing the goods exported from the United States was estimated as an overall total and could not be distributed to individual industry groups. Because employment could not be distributed to machinery and construction industries, and supporting industries, estimates of indirect employment in each of these industries are understated.

No. 1262. IMPORTS—COFFEE, TEA, AND COCOA AND CHOCOLATE: 1921 TO 1965

[For 1921-1947, coffee and tea data include trade between the conterminous U.S. and Alaska, Hawaii, and outlying areas. Effective April 1948, compilation of data on trade between the conterminous U.S. and Alaska and Hawaii was discontinued. Beginning 1956, all coffee on green coffee basis. Cocoa and chocolate figures represent general imports through 1932, imports for consumption thereafter, and include imports into Puerto Rico]

No. 1264. IMPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, FREE AND DUTIABLE, AND PERCENT FREE, BY ECONOMIC CLASSES: 1921 TO 1965

[In millions of dollars, except percent. Excludes uranium. For basis of dollar values and for area coverage, see text, p. 843. Data are "general imports" through 1933; "imports for consumption" thereafter. Percent free in general imports is normally slightly lower than in imports for consumption because more dutiable general imports than free general imports are reported as reexported. Moreover, in the period 1922-1933, there is an understatement of free goods in general imports because for 1922 to 1933, carpet wool used for making carpets, and for 1922 to 1928, wheat imported for milling in bond for exports were reported as dutiable when entered, although no duty was ultimately paid on these products]

Section 32

Outlying Areas Under the Jurisdiction of the United States

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the principal possessions of the United States (Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa), and the Canal Zone. Population estimates of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands are also presented.

Primary sources of these data are the decennial censuses of population, housing, and agriculture, and the quinquennial censuses of business and manufactures conducted by the Bureau of the Census; the annual Vital Statistics of the United States issued by the Public Health Service; the biennial Statistics of State School Systems published by the Office of Education; the Minerals Yearbook of the Bureau of Mines; and the annual Agricultural Statistics of the Department of Agriculture.

Jurisdiction.—The circumstances under which the United States gained jurisdiction over these areas are as follows:

The islands of Puerto Rico and Guam, surrendered by Spain to the United States in October 1898, were ceded to the United States by the Treaty of Paris, signed December 10, 1898, and ratified in 1899. Puerto Rico acquired the status of a commonwealth on July 25, 1952.

The Virgin Islands, formerly known as the Danish West Indies, were purchased by the United States from Denmark in 1917.

American Samoa was acquired by the United States in accordance with a convention among the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, signed December 2, 1899, and ratified February 16, 1900.

The use, occupation, and control of the Canal Zone were granted to the United States under the terms of a treaty with the Republic of Panama, signed November 18, 1903, and ratified in 1904.

The Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands is comprised of 2,141 atolls and islands, 96 of which are inhabited. This territory, formerly under Japanese mandate, was placed under the United Nations trusteeship system by an agreement approved by the Security Council on April 27, 1947, and by the United States on July 18, 1947.

For a brief summary of the territorial development of the United States, see tables 6 and 240 in sections 1 and 6, respectively.

Censuses.—Because of differences in the population and housing characteristics and the varieties of agricultural products among the outlying areas, the presentation of census data is not uniform for all areas. However, the tables in this section give, as nearly as possible, comparable data for the areas. The 1960 Census of Population covered all of the places listed above except the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands (the census of which was conducted in April 1958 by the Office of the High Commissioner), whereas the 1960 Census of Housing covered only Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. The 1959 Census of Agriculture covered Puerto Rico, American Samoa, Guam, and the Virgin Islands; the 1964 Census covered the same areas except American Samoa. Censuses of Business and Manufactures were conducted in Puerto Rico for 1954, 1958, and 1963, and in Guam and the Virgin Islands for 1958 and 1963.

For definition and explanation of terms used, see section 1, Population; section 23, Agriculture—Farms, Land, and Finances; section 24, Agriculture—Production, Marketing, and Trade; section 28, Construction and Housing; section 29, Manufactures; and section 30, Distribution and Services.

Information in other sections.—In addition to the specialized statistics presented in this section, other data are included as integral parts of many tables showing distribution by States in various sections of the Abstract.

(D) Withheld to avoid disclosing operations of individual companies.

¹ Value of shipments less cost of materials, supplies, fuels, electric energy, and contract work plus net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventory and value added in merchandising activities of manufacturing establishments.

² Represents net selling value, f.o.b. plant, after discounts and allowances, of all shipments of products from manufacturing establishments of an industry, plus receipts for miscellaneous activities of such plants. Excludes freight charges and excise taxes. Products transferred to other establishments of the same company are valued at the nearest approximation to the economic value. Includes extensive duplication arising from shipments between establishments in the same industry.

Section 33

Comparative International Statistics

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the various nations and on finances of international agencies.

The principal source for the data presented in this section is the United Nations Statistical Yearbook. Statistics of the individual nations may be found primarily in official publications or compendia, generally in the form of yearbooks, issued by most of the nations at various intervals in their own national languages, expressed in their own or customary units of measure. For handier reference, especially for international comparisons, the Statistical Office of the United Nations compiles and issues a number of international summary publications, generally in English and French. Among these are the Statistical Yearbook, the Demographic Yearbook, the Yearbook of International Trade Statistics, the Yearbook of National Accounts Statistics, Population and Vital Statistics Reports (quarterly), the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, The Growth of World Industry: National Tables, 1938-1961, and The Growth of World Industry: International Analyses and Tables, 1938-1961.

For foreign agricultural and labor statistics, the outstanding sources are the Yearbook of Food and Agricultural Statistics, issued by the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the Yearbook of Labour Statistics, issued by the International Labour Office; both are specialized agencies of the United Nations. These publications usually present data covering an extensive period of time, frequently up to 20 years. The International Population Statistics Reports, Series P-90 and P-91, issued by the Bureau of the Census, also present population figures for many foreign countries.

Statistical coverage.—Problems of space and availability of data limit the number of countries and the extent of statistical coverage shown here. The list of countries included is based on, but not limited to, the membership rosters of the United Nations and of the larger specialized agencies of the United Nations (see table 1309). In a few instances, member countries were omitted because of an almost complete lack of data.

The items selected for presentation here are believed to be among those most significant. However, certain important items, such as those on national income, are omitted because of the inability to convert the available statistics, stated in terms of the national currencies, to meaningful consistency in United States measures.

OECD, EEC, and EFTA.—The Organisation for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC), a regional grouping of Western European countries established in 1948 for the purpose of harmonizing national economic policies and conditions, was succeeded on September 30, 1961, by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). The OECD consists of the member nations of the former OEEC—Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom—and also Canada and the United States.

The European Economic Community (EEC), or "Common Market," consisting of Belgium, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Italy, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands, was formed in 1958 for the purpose of promoting European economic integration. It is based on agreement among the member nations to stimulate their economic growth, primarily through the gradual elimination of trade barriers among themselves, the establishment of a common external tariff, the coordination of monetary, fiscal, and agricultural policies, and the removal of restrictions on movement of services, labor, capital, and business enterprises within the community.

The European Free Trade Association (EFTA), established in late 1959, consists of Austria, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. It represents an agreement among the member nations to promote free trade and economic cooperation in Europe through gradual elimination of tariffs and quotas among themselves but without establishment of a common external tariff.

Quality and comparability of the data.—The quality and the comparability of the data presented here are affected by a number of factors:

(1) The year for which data are presented may not be the same for all subjects for a particular country, or for a given subject for different countries, though the data shown are the most recent available. All such variations have been noted as explained in table headnotes. The data shown are for calendar years except as otherwise stated in headnotes or footnotes. Space limitations made it impracticable to present the data for a series of years except for population, indexes of per capita product, agriculture, and gold and foreign exchange holdings.

(2) The bases, methods of estimating, methods of data collection, extent of coverage, precision of definition, scope of territory, and margins of error may vary for different items within a particular country, and for like items for different countries. Footnotes and headnotes to the tables give some of the qualifications attached to the figures. Limits of space made necessary some condensation and editing of the more detailed notes appearing in the source. Careful analysis is required, therefore, since many of the measures shown are, at best, merely rough indicators of magnitude.

(3) Figures shown in this section for the United States may not always agree with figures shown in the preceding sections. Disagreements may be attributable to the use of differing original sources, a difference in the definition of geographic limits (conterminous United States only, or including Alaska and Hawaii or certain outlying areas and possessions), or to possible adjustments made in the United States figures by the United Nations in order to improve their comparability with figures from other countries.

Conversion factors.—To facilitate comparison in terms of familiar units, items shown in metric units in the source have been converted to U.S. equivalents by means of the conversion factors given in the Statistical Yearbook and shown below. Additional conversion factors appear in Appendix I, Weights and Measures, pages 936 and 937.

No. 1287. AREA AND POPULATION

[For many countries, figures are provisional. Basis and level of reliability of population estimates range from use of a continuous population register (Scandinavian countries) and census enumerations for a recent date (most countries) to noncensal counts or partial censuses (Ethiopia, Lebanon, and Republic of Viet-Nam), and conjectural estimates derived by other means than counting (Saudi Arabia). Data, in general, refer to present-in-area population of the present territory. Area generally includes inland waters. See text, p. 896, for general comments concerning quality of the data.]

No. 1288. VITAL STATISTICS AND NET FOOD SUPPLY

[Crude birth rates, infant mortality rates, and death rates derived from data having complete or virtually complete coverage for many countries and incomplete coverage for others. For many countries, data are known to be by year of registration rather than by year of occurrence. Crude birth rate: Number of live births per 1,000 persons. Crude death rate: Number of deaths, exclusive of stillbirths, per 1,000 persons. Infant mortality rate: Deaths of infants under 1 year of age per 1,000 live births. Data exclude stillbirths. Net food supply: Net supply of foodstuffs, other than alcoholic beverages, available within the country for human consumption. Cereals in terms of flour and milled rice; potatoes include sweetpotatoes, cassava, etc. and potato, manioc, and other root flour in terms of potatoes, cassava, etc.; meat (including offal, poultry, and game) in terms of carcass weight, excluding slaughter fats. See text, p. 896, for general comments concerning quality of the data. Years for which data are shown may vary from column to column and from country to country. Figures which are not for the year shown in the "year" column are prefixed by a letter to indicate the year represented, as follows: 1, 1958; m, 1962; n, 1963; o, 1964]

NA Not available.

¹ Refers to crop year beginning in year indicated, except as noted. All commodities index comprises food, fibers, tobacco, industrial oil seeds, rubber, tea, and coffee. Food index relates to production of crops and livestock products for human consumption. Based on 1952-56 price relationship to the country production figures. Deduction made for feed and seed in production process.

² Refers, in general, to salaried employees and wage earners in manufacturing (excl. public utilities, building, and other construction). Workers on paid or unpaid holiday or vacation are generally included; but employers, self-employed, workers on strike, temporary military leave or temporarily laid off are generally excluded.

³ In many instances, represents index only for principal city (or cities) of particular country.

⁴ General wholesale price index numbers usually weighted by gross value of sales or wholesale markets.

⁵ As of 4th quarter of 1965, except as noted. Indexes based primarily on common shares traded on leading exchange or exchanges of each country, and intended to cover representative sample of companies in manufacturing, mining, and construction fields. In some cases, where an index of industrial shares is not available, a general index, including shares of companies in transportation, distribution, and finance fields, is reported.

⁶ Excludes Albania, Bulgaria, China (mainland), Czechoslovakia, Eastern Germany, Hungary, Mongolia, North Korea, North Viet-Nam, Poland, Romania, and the U.S.S.R.

⁷ Excludes Alaska and Hawaii, except as noted.

⁸ Includes Alaska and Hawaii. ⁹ Daily closing prices in New York, 4th quarter of year shown, except 1965, 3d quarter of year shown.

¹⁰ Wage earners only. ¹¹ July 1958-June 1959=100. For year beginning July 1. Excludes cork, printing, publishing and allied industries.

NA Not available.

¹ Excludes lignite and brown coal, except as noted.

² Source presents data in metric tons. Conversion of data to barrels allows for differences in specific gravity of petroleum. Figures refer to crude petroleum including shale oil, but excluding natural gasoline.

³ Covers, as far as possible, all hydraulic cements used for construction (portland, metallurgic, aluminous, natural, etc.)

⁴ Data generally refer to iron content of marketable ores mined, including manganiferous iron ores but excluding pyrites. Data are sometimes only rough estimates obtained by applying a fixed percentage to figures for production of crude ores.

⁵ Data expressed in terms of pure (monohydrate) sulfuric acid and include sulfuric acid equivalent of oleum or "fuming" acid.

⁶ Total production of crude steel, both ingots and steel for castings. Excludes wrought (puddled) iron.

⁷ Data represent apparent consumption (i.e., production plus imports minus exports) and do not take into account changes in stocks.

⁸ Excludes China (mainland) and North Korea. Production of crude iron ore (iron content 50-60%) in China (mainland) was approximately 40,786,000 short tons in 1964. Production of crude iron ore (iron content not available) in North Korea was approximately 5,291,000 short tons in 1964.

⁹ Excludes China (mainland). ¹⁰ Excludes Alaska and Hawaii.

¹¹ Excludes manganiferous iron ores containing 5 percent or more of manganese.

¹² Includes government-owned but privately operated plants. ¹³ Ingots only. ¹⁴ Includes wastes.

¹⁵ For year ending June 30. ¹⁶ Excludes natural cement.

¹⁷ Luxembourg included with Belgium. ¹⁸ Strength of acid not reported.

¹⁹ Excludes alloy steels. ²⁰ Estimate. ²¹ Shipments from mines.

²² Includes lignite.

²³ Includes Manchuria.

²⁴ None or negligible quantity.

²⁵ Excludes sulfuric acid for superphosphate production.

²⁶ For year ending Sept. 10.

²⁷ Low-grade coal has been included at its hard-coal equivalent.

²⁸ Includes the Saar. ²⁹ Excludes West Irian.

³⁰ For year beginning Mar. 20.

³¹ For year beginning Mar. 21.

³² Includes iron content of iron sand.

³³ Svalbard, Norwegian-operated mines only.

³⁴ Entirely shale oil. ³⁵ 53 weeks.

³⁶ Great Britain only; excludes coal produced at quarries but includes open-cast coal.

³⁷ North Viet-Nam.

No. 1304. FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES: 1965

National currency units per U.S. dollar. As of June 30. Exchange rate denotes a single rate applicable to both buying and selling transactions. Selling or import rates are the rates at which the monetary authorities, including the banks, sell foreign exchange for national currency to those making payments abroad. Buying or export rates are the rates at which the authorities buy foreign exchange from those earning it. Mid-point rates are averages of selling and buying rates. Free rates are those that fluctuate to some extent in response to private transactions]

¹ Comprises public and private telephones (including extension instruments) connected to a central exchange. World total in 1964 estimated to be 182.5 million.

² Comprises generally all types of telegrams including cablegrams and radiograms, but excludes messages in transit.

³ Letters mailed for distribution within national territories. Comprises letters (airmail, ordinary mail, and registered), postcards, printed matter, business papers, small merchandise samples, small packets, phonopost packets, and mail carried without charge, but excludes ordinary packages, and letters and packages with a declared value.

⁴ Publications containing general news and appearing at least 4 times a week; may range in size from a single sheet to 50 or more pages. ⁵ Comprises copies sold both inside and outside the country.

⁶ No adjustment made for copies sold outside the country.

⁷ Comprises number of licenses issued for receiving sets; estimates of sets in use are footnoted. Figures should be used with caution as number of licenses falls, in varying degree from country to country, to represent full number in use. Data apply to all types of receivers for radio broadcasts to the public, including loudspeakers connected to a "radio redistribution system" but excluding television sets. World total in 1964 estimated to be 481 million.

⁸ Number of licenses issued for receiving sets; estimates of sets in use are footnoted. World total in 1964 estimated to be 164 million.

⁹ Telegrams, letters, and daily newspapers exclude Alaska and Hawaii; also, receiving sets (radio) prior to 1960, and (television) prior to 1957. ¹⁰ Includes messages to Canada, Mexico, St. Pierre, and Miquelon.

¹¹ Domestic and foreign, including ordinary packages, and letters and packages with a declared value.

¹² For year ending June 30. ¹³ Estimated number of receivers in use. ¹⁴ Includes U.S. possessions.

¹⁵ English dailies only. ¹⁶ Includes Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands.

¹⁷ Includes Puerto Rico and Guam. ¹⁸ Refers to 58 dailies only. ¹⁹ For June.

²⁰ Includes combined-sound television licenses. Combined-sound television licenses are licenses covering both radio and television sets.

²¹ All telegrams sent by land are counted as domestic.

²² For year beginning Apr. 1. ²³ Includes foreign received and sent. ²⁴ English and French dailies only.

²⁵ For year ending Sept. 30. ²⁶ Refers to 43 dailies only. ²⁷ Refers to 5 dailies only.

²⁸ Includes Faeroe Islands. Telegrams sent includes Greenland. ²⁹ Refers to 18 dailies only.

³⁰ Eritrea only. ³¹ Includes French Guiana, Guadeloupe, Martinique, and Reunion.

³² Includes the Saar. ³³ Excludes 700 regional editions. ³⁴ Includes circulation of regional editions.

³⁵ Refers to 4 dailies only. ³⁶ All telegrams dispatched. ³⁷ Refers to 367 dailies only.

³⁸ Breakdown by type not available. ³⁹ For year beginning Mar. 21. ⁴⁰ As of Mar. 31, 1965.

⁴¹ Refers to 20 dailies only. ⁴² Includes 49 dailies having both morning and evening editions.

⁴³ Refers to 2 dailies only. ⁴⁴ Refers to 6 dailies only. ⁴⁵ Includes the former British Cameroons.

⁴⁶ Refers to 19 dailies only. ⁴⁷ Refers to 8 dailies only.

⁴⁸ All letters, printed matter, and parcel post sent. ⁴⁹ Revenue telegrams; excludes those transmitted exclusively over railway telegraph lines. ⁵⁰ Includes Liechtenstein.

⁵¹ Refers to 24 dailies only. ⁵² For July.

⁵³ All letters sent. ⁵⁴ Refers to 17 dailies only.

¹ Computed on basis of occupied dwellings, if available; otherwise on total dwellings.

² Where the aggregate number of rooms was not reported, an approximation was made by multiplying each room category by its corresponding dwelling frequency, multiplying the residual category by the lowest number of rooms involved, disregarding the dwellings with an unknown number of rooms, and summing the products. A similar procedure was used to derive the aggregate number of persons from data on dwellings classified by number of occupants. The resultant estimates are no doubt low inasmuch as the minimum class limit was used to calculate the residual category.

³ Either inside or outside dwelling, except as noted.⁴ Believed to refer, in most cases, to cooking gas laid on from main or tank.⁵ Dwellings with fixed tub, shower, or both.⁶ Dwellings include mobile trailers.⁷ Based on sample tabulation of census returns.⁸ Estimated by the United Nations Statistical Office.⁹ Refers to European-type dwellings only, which represent 21.5 percent of all dwellings.¹⁰ Urban area only.¹¹ Refers to all private housing units and housing units not intended for habitation but used for that purpose, rather than to dwellings.¹² For 1947.¹³ Refers to private housing units rather than to dwellings.¹⁴ Provisional.¹⁵ Refers to dwellings with electricity or gas for lighting only.¹⁶ For 1950.¹⁷ Refers to housing units rather than to dwellings.¹⁸ Refers to residential buildings.¹⁹ Refers to private households rather than to dwellings.²⁰ Refers only to private housing units with piped water inside.²¹ Refers to housing units (including collective housing units) rather than to dwellings.²² Refers only to dwellings with piped water inside.²³ Kitchens counted as rooms only if 12 square meters (approximately 14 square yards) or more.²⁴ Refers to housing units used as principal residences by private households.

²⁶ Results of the building census of June 6, 1961.²⁷ Based on results of sample survey of housing.²⁸ Results of the 1 percent survey of 1957.²⁹ Private households living in dwellings.³⁰ Includes collective housing units.³¹ Port-au-Prince only.³² For 1960.³³ Excludes dwellings having no kitchens.³⁴ Excludes dwellings with only shower installations.³⁵ For 1951.³⁶ For 1953.³⁷ Kitchens are not counted as rooms.³⁸ For 1952.³⁹ Beirut only; refers to households and based on a sample survey; excludes suburbs but includes households living in temporary buildings.⁴⁰ Refers to dwellings with gas and electricity.⁴¹ Excludes nomads and river boatmen of East Pakistan and the frontier regions of West Pakistan.⁴² Excludes tribal Indian housing.⁴³ Refers to source of water supply.⁴⁴ For commune of Dakar only; refers to European-type dwellings.⁴⁵ Refers to dwellings with piped water inside kitchen or kitchenette only.⁴⁶ For 20 cities only, representing 46.2 percent of the total city population.⁴⁷ For England and Wales.⁴⁸ Refers to dwellings with an occupier present at the inquiry. "Flush toilet" refers only to those inside buildings.⁴⁹ Includes kerosene.⁵⁰ For indigenous population in 8 towns (formerly Northern Rhodesia).Source: Statistical Office of the United Nations; Statistical Yearbook.

No. 1308. EDUCATION AND HEALTH

Education: Figures usually refer to both official (public) and independent (private) schools, to school year beginning in year stated, and generally exclude adult education, apprenticeship courses and correspondence schools; intercountry comparisons are subject to caution owing to variations in definitions and in scope of data; usually excludes (unless otherwise stated) nursery schools, kindergarten, and other preschool education. Health: Data do not allow of a close comparison between countries which present a similar standard, whether high or low, in respect of strength and character of their medical facilities; however, they may be used to judge approximate difference in standard between advanced and less developed countries. See text, p. 896, for general comments concerning quality of the data. Years for which data are shown may vary from column to column and from country to country. Figures which are not for the year shown in the "year" column are prefixed by a letter to indicate the year represented, as follows: g represents 1956; h, 1957; i, 1958; k, 1960; l, 1961; m, 1962; n, 1963]

¹ There are various "barrels" established by law or usage. Federal law recognizes a 31- and a 40-gallon barrel, depending on the type of liquor. In addition, the number of gallons recognized as making up a barrel differs among various States.

² Standard for fruits and vegetables and other dry commodities, except cranberries, recognized by the Dept. of Agriculture.

³ Standard bushel as measured by U.S. Government.

APPROXIMATE WEIGHT OF PETROLEUM AND PRODUCTS

[In the United States petroleum and its products are measured by bulk, not weight. Quantities are customarily reduced to the equivalent of barrels of 42 U.S. gallons (158.984 liters). In many foreign countries these commodities are measured by weight. The specific gravity of the different grades of crude petroleum and of the finished products varies materially. On the basis of approximate averages, the Department of Commerce uses the following factors for converting foreign weight statistics to gallons or to barrels of 42 gallons]

APPENDIX III

Guide to Sources of Statistics

Alphabetically arranged by subject, this guide contains references to the important primary sources of statistical information for the United States. Secondary sources have been included if the information contained in them is presented in a particularly convenient form or if primary sources are not readily available. Nonrecurrent publications presenting compilations or estimates for several years or new types of data not available in regular series are also included.

Much valuable information may also be found in State reports (see pp. 987-989) and in reports for particular commodities, industries, or similar segments of our economic and social structure. Because of the large number of such references, they are not included here.

Section references on the right-hand side of each page indicate where data from the report cited appear in the Statistical Abstract. Where both current reports and a summary volume are cited, the section reference often appears opposite the summary volume only. Reference to the sections indicated will enable the user to ascertain the type of information presented in the original source. It should not be assumed that all of the subjects from the original source are summarized in the Abstract.

Publications listed under each subject are divided into two main groups: "United States Government" and "Other." The location of the publisher of each report is given except for Federal agencies located in Washington. Mailing addresses of non-government agencies and of international organizations are given on pp. 993-996. Most Federal publications may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. In some cases, Federal publications may be obtained from the issuing agency.

Major reports, such as the Census of Population, which consist of many volumes, are listed by their general, all-inclusive titles. Specific volume numbers and subtitles of the major census publications are listed on pp. 982-986.

Guide to State Statistical Abstracts

This bibliography includes the most recent State statistical abstracts (including one for Puerto Rico) published since 1959 plus those now in preparation that will be issued in late 1966 or early 1967. When a statistical abstract does not exist for a particular State, a near equivalent has been listed, wherever possible. For some States, two or more such publications have been listed. All sources contain, under one cover, statistical tables on a variety of subjects for the State as a whole, or its component parts, or both.
